HELP PROVIDERS MEET

GOALS

The Huntington County Child Care Network project has been quite successful in helping establish non-traditional child care. Eight family child care providers and a registered ministry are involved in the project. A requirement of all providers is to earn a Child Development Associate (CDA) Credential or other related type of education. The CDA Credential is a nationally recognized program through the Council for Professional Recognition.

Providers completing their CDA must meet the Council's 13 functional areas of the six competency goals: 1) to establish and maintain a safe, healthy learning environment 2) to advance physical and intellectual competence 3) to support social and emotional development and to provide positive guidance 4) to establish positive and productive relationships with families 5) to ensure a well-run, purposeful program responsive to participant needs, and 6) to maintain a commitment to professionalism. Providers are required to complete 120 hours of education, a provider resource file, parent opinion questionnaires, an oral interview, a written assessment, and an assessment observation during child care hours by an advisor. In order to help meet their goals providers have been participating in various types of coursework; some in classrooms, others home study or internet classes.

The child care network has made the education affordable by picking up the cost not covered by TEACH scholarships. TEACH scholarships will however, pay most of the $325 assessment fee. Additionally the network has provided each caregiver a CDA Resource Kit containing items that will enhance the quality of child care they offer and help fulfill CDA requirements. Items selected for the resource kits are geared for caring for infants, toddlers, and children with special needs as defined in the goals of the Indiana Child Care Fund that has provided most of the financial support for this project. Some of the things included are: resource books, multilingual board books, educational games and toys, a CD, and a video for large motor growth.

Network coordinator, Wendy Mink, wants to thank all the network providers for their dedication to the project and their profession. "Without the providers this project would have never been so successful! They are all working hard to improve the quality of child care they offer. Parents who have children enrolled with the following providers should thank them for their commitment to kids: Christie Bell, Marsha Black, Barb Conwell, Kim Freeman, Kim Klosowski, Amy McCord, Judy Polzin, and Jacqueline Worster. Guardian Angels Child Care Ministry in Warren is also a participant in the child care network. For more information about the project or CDA, please contact Wendy Mink at the local CCRR office at (260) 468-9027.

KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

GET ORGANIZED AND YOU'LL SIMPLIFY YOUR LIFE

Being productive and efficient are admirable qualities, but the best reason for being organized is you'll have more time for yourself. Here are seven ways to start.

* Attack the clutter. Our homes and offices contain many things that will never be used again. Check your cabinets, closets, bookshelves, storage areas, and garage. You can't get rid of it all at once, so set aside a time each day to start. Even 15 minutes will help. That's enough time to declutter a file drawer, a stack of papers, or one shelf in a closet. Schedule two to four hours for a larger area such as a garage or storeroom.

* If you don't actually need it, don't buy it. If you don't already have a place for it, don't buy it. Some people gauge their success by the amount of goods they have stacked up. That's a mistake.

* Tackle the paperwork. Use your printer only when a paper copy is needed right now. In her book, Taming the Office Tiger, (Kiplinger Books) Barbara Hemphill says that old paper files should be cleaned out. Get management to designate a File Clean-Out Day.

* Handle each paper using TDAF, the four ways to handle papers only once: Toss it; Delegate it; Act on it; or File it.

* Simplify your life. Don't drive across town to save a few pennies on gas or to get a bargain at another grocery store.

* Stop procrastinating. The easiest time to do a job is now. Get up 30 minutes earlier in the morning to get your schedule going. Arrive at work 10 minutes early.

* Cancel magazines you don't read, quit organizations you don't enjoy, and before long, you'll have more time for yourself.

FOODS & RECIPES OF WARREN AREA DURING WW-II

(By Dick and Karlene Smith) crskrs@pacol.net

"Fast Foods" were not in the vocabulary during the WW-II years. Fast foods during the War years would have been "How fast you could put a Peanut Butter Sandwich together."

While reading the Warren Newspapers of the War Years, one becomes very aware that our citizens were making great sacrifices for the War Effort. The younger generations must understand that America was fighting for its survival as a Nation. We were fighting on two Fronts with more than 10 million men and women in the Armed Services. They needed to have clothing, food and fighting equipment. Every family was affected in our country during these years. Rationing for the civilians became necessary.

The women carried an incredible burden to maintain the home life and keep the family units together. Food preparation from family recipes was a challenge because of limited food products and the point system of rationing.

Remember, the food production in America was done primarily on small farms, and some of the farmers were still using teams of horses in the fields. Every family had a garden, even in the towns and cities. Any small plot of land that got sunshine was planted with vegetables. "Victory Gardens" became community projects. Food production had a top priority.

Those living in town probably had more meatless days than the farm families. Although farmers were providing most of their meat for the War Effort, there was always extra meat for Sunday Dinner after Church (Fried Chicken). After butchering time, young people were introduced to Sweet Meats such as: "Fried Brains," "Kidney Pie," and "Boiled Heart." "Fried Liver"

OUTDOOR CONCERT SERIES

The 2003 summer series of "Parlor Music Concerts" at Myer's Ice Cream Parlor will present the final concert for this summer's series on Monday, August 25th at 7:00 p.m. Miss Huntington 2002, Susan Guilkey will present a vocal concert. A native of Noblesville, Indiana, Susan will perform a mixed blend of music.

The concert will take place on the lawn behind the ice cream parlor at 2809 Theater Avenue in Huntington. These outdoor concerts are sponsored by the LaFontaine Arts Council and Myer's Ice Cream Parlor. The concerts are reflective of past "afternoon and evening with the arts" programs sponsored by the LaFontaine Arts Council. Like the afternoons and evenings with the arts program, the goal of these summer concerts is to promote local talent from the county and heighten awareness of the arts in our community. So many times a community is unaware of the outstanding talents in and around the area.

A freewill offering will be taken after each concert. Proceeds will be directed toward the arts council's yearly scholarship, which is awarded to a county student focusing on a fine arts education. The scholarship is just a part of the "Arts in Education" annual programming sponsored by the LaFontaine Arts Council in Huntington County. This programming takes place in the schools each year and features a wide range of presentations, including the Ft. Wayne Philharmonic. Each student in the county, in grades K-12, encounters a facet of the "Arts in Education" curriculum.

Myer's Ice Cream Parlor provides the venue for the concerts and also offer the availability of refreshments for those in attendance. Rod & Jeanne Myers are the proprietors of the parlor.

The public is invited to attend and enjoy these free concerts. It is suggested that attendees bring a blanket and/or chair. Any questions regarding the concerts, call 358-0055.

MOTORCYCLE TRAINING

Dr. Suellen Reed, Superintendent of Public Instruction, announced that the Department of Education, in cooperation with the Bureau of Motor Vehicles, is offering a new motorcycle training course for experienced riders.

The new Experienced Riders Course (ERC) was developed by the Motorcycle Safety Foundation (MSF) specifically for motorcycle riders who already own and ride a motorcycle and possess either a motorcycle permit or endorsement.

The new ERC consists of six hours of on-cycle training and is open to qualified permit holders. Permit holders who pass the ERC will be granted a waiver of the BMV skills test to receive the full motorcycle endorsement.

This allows experienced riders an option to the current 18 to 20 hour basic rider course that had been the only course approved for the skill test waiver.

The previous Experienced Rider Course was only available to riders with a motorcycle endorsement and took eight to nine hours to complete.

Some items that are covered in this course are: risk management, rider responsibility, being prepared to ride, mental processing, traction management, and rider impairment. "This new course will provide more appropriate training activities for motorcycle riders with experience while opening more training opportunities for true novice riders in our basic rider courses," said program coordinator and Department of Education staff member, John Bodeker.

For more information on the ERC, visit www.abateofindiana.org or contact John Bodeker at 317-232-0893 or Mike Moore at 317-232-0801.

EMAIL REPORT

The following information was received by email.

"This is to all of you that signed up for the 'do not call' law. This week I received a card in the mail that looked all right — It said 'vote for your favorite cola - Pepsi or Coke and receive a complementary 12 pack.' It didn't look suspicious — but for some reason I kept looking at it. THEN I FOUND IT!! At the bottom of the card there is a VERY small statement. It is SO small it is hard to read—but here is what it says— 'By completing this form, you agree that sponsors and co-sponsors of this offer may telephone you, even if your number is found on a do not call registry or list.'"

Please send this to all your friends that signed up for "do not call" I think this is just one of what we will get in the future—so READ EVERYTHING before you SIGN AND SEND !! AND TELL YOUR FRIENDS ABOUT IT!!!! PLEASE !!!

10-MINUTE STROKE PREVENTION

Warren — Stroke is the third leading killer in the world and the second among women. However, most Americans cannot name a single warning sign indicating a stroke is about to occur.

Life Line Screening is dedicated to the prevention and education of stroke, also known as a "Brain Attack."

As part of a program designed to reduce the risk of stroke, residents living in and around the Warren community can be screened to reduce their risk of having a stroke. Life Line Screening will be at the Knight Civic Center on August 29th. Appointments will begin at 9:00 a.m.

Life Line Screening was established in 1993, and has since become the nation's leading provider of vascular screenings. Over 45 ultrasound teams are on staff to travel to your local community, bringing the screenings to you. These non-invasive, inexpensive and painless, ultrasound tests help people identify their risk for stroke, vascular diseases or osteoporosis early enough for their physician to begin preventive procedures.

Many people debate the issue of attending health screenings based on the argument, "Why can't I just get these tests done by my physician?" The answer, although relatively surprising, is that your physician will not order these tests without clear evidence of symptoms.

Ironically, most people who suffer from a stroke or aortic abdominal aneurysm never show any signs or symptoms that a major medical catastrophe is about to occur.

Screenings involve the use of ultrasound technology, and scan for potential health problems related to: blocked arteries which can lead to a stroke, aortic aneurysms which can lead to a ruptured aorta, and hardening of the arteries in the legs, a strong predictor of heart disease. Additionally offered for men and women, is a bone density screening to assess their risk for osteoporosis.

"I feel I owe my life to the fact that this was caught in time. Thank you for the service that you provide and hopefully many more people will use this screening and get early treatment." Phyllis Eichhorn, Madison Heights, Mich. (Carotid Artery/Stroke Screening)

Each screening requires ten minutes or less to complete and are individually priced at $45. Sign-up for a complete wellness package (all four screenings), and pay only $125.

For more information regarding the screenings or to schedule an appointment, call 1-800-407-4557. Pre-registration is required.

TO OUR DEAR FRIENDS, FAMILY & NEIGHBORS

Words cannot express our sincere gratitude shown to us during the recent loss of our daughter and granddaughter.

It's comforting to know we are in your prayers and we thank you for that. Thank you also for the beautiful flowers, plants, food, cards, visits and phone calls.

We would like to share with you information we received from Mid-America Transplant Services of Saint Louis. Kyndall's liver was received by an 8 month old baby girl from Iceland. She traveled to the United States to receive her transplant. She is doing exceptionally well. A 38-year old male from Pennsylvania received Kyndall's left and right kidney. His recovery has been difficult and he is still requiring hemodialysis. He hopes for a full recovery of his kidney function.

Please keep them in your prayers also so a part of Kyndall will live on.

Bless All of You,

Broc and Jen Brown,

ARE THERE DIFFERENT TYPES OF DECAY ????

Decay, also known as dental caries, can occur on three areas of the tooth: in enamel pit and fissure, on smooth enamel, and on the root surface. Pit and fissure decay develops on the chewing or occlusal surface of molars or bicuspids. Sticky, chewing foods and or soda pop are big culprits of decay in this area. Teeth that are in the development stage have grooves and pits that don't grow together properly and are more prone to decay. Smooth surface decay occurs between teeth or on the front or back, where it is difficult to reach with your toothbrush. The new rotary toothbrushes are very good at breaking up the bacteria that develop plaque and calculus and lead to decay. Between the teeth, flossing is your best tool to reduce the chance for decay. Root decay occurs when the root is exposed and plaque or bacteria can attach for an extended period of time. This happens more commonly in older people who have experienced gum recession and periodontal bone loss. Young people are not immune especially if they have poor home care or smoke. Also, cancer patients who have radiation therapy to the neck or head are particularly susceptible to root decay. Great home care and regular dental visits are the key to a healthy smile.

AGRICULTURE 2003

Several children and adults came to the VanBuren Public Library's Summer Reading Program Party at the Van Buren Park August 4, 2003. We had such a good time. We had a very special guest, the Mascot of the Fort Wayne Wizards, Dinger the Dragon. We played all kinds of games and Dinger participated in the games right along with the kids. We found out, this Dragon, is a very good catcher with water balloons. Dinger and Kalem Isaac had a pretty good game going. We want to Thank Dinger the Dragon for coming to our party. All the children enjoyed their sack lunch they brought from home along with a snow cone and or a drink from the Snow Storm Wagon.

Heather Conwell brought in a John Deere Tractor from the farm, to go along with our theme Agriculture 2003, for the children to look over and sit in. Thanks Heather. We had our drawings for prizes from our local businesses. This was a real thrill to find out you had won one of these prizes. We even had Indiana State Fair tickets to give away. I hope everyone had as much fun as I did.

The library will be closed during the Popcorn Festival August 14, 15 and 16th. We will have our next Story Time after school August 22nd 2:30-3:30. We will celebrate Aviation Week. On Friday August 29th after School, we will have a Talent Show along with Ice Cream. So come and show us what you can do during our Talent Show.

was a staple for meals in the war years; today, liver is a gourmet food served in many fancy restaurants. Suet is sold for bird food today, but during the war "Suet Pudding" was a popular dish. Farm wives had butter (they made it by hand from cream), while the town and city cooks had to use Oleo that looked like white lard. The Oleo had a yellow capsule that had to be broken-up and mixed into the Oleo to give it color. We have been told that the oleo tasted like lard too!

One interesting notice in the Warren Newspaper in 1943 was: Please keep your dogs and chickens in your yard. Many Warren residents had chicken coops; their chickens provided them with eggs daily. The non-layers soon became Sunday "Chicken-Noodle" Dinner.

"Sugar" was the first food product to be rationed—and was the last food product to be given back to the public ration-free. Rationing of sugar continued several years after the War—until 1947. The Warren cooks had to find new ways to prepare the families' favorite recipes. Sweeteners such as honey, molasses, corn syrup, sorghum, etc. were used to replace granulated sugars.

Applying for "Canning Sugar" was done under the direction of Mrs. Elsie Leverton and Mrs. Hazel Brown. The housewife was required to bring her ration cards for every member of the family. Sugar was allowed on the basis of one pound for every 4 quarts of fruit canned and 1 pound of sugar per capita for preserving. The Warren cook also had to state how many cans of fruit she canned last year, and how many she would be canning in the current season. Do any of the homemakers remember going to "Canning Demonstrations" given by Purdue Extension Nutritionists in the Warren High School?

Looking through grocery store weekly ads, Brand Names such as Kroger, Little Elf, Kellogg, Nabisco, Sunshine and Campbell were the brands of the staple items during these years.

We hope the ladies of Warren and the surrounding farming communities will share their family recipes of the 1941-1945 eras with the younger generations. This effort is a part of my husband's project to tell our granddaughters, and your granddaughters too, what cooking was like in and around Warren in WW-II years. We would like to create a WW-II Recipe Book comprised solely of recipes from the women of the Warren area.

Recipes to be submitted may include: canning of fruits, vegetables and meats; desserts; salads; main dishes; beverages (hard or soft); vegetables dishes; etc. Cooking hints, methods of food preservations and many more kitchen ideas of the time can be included.

Remember: The younger generations have never lived without running water, without refrigeration and microwaves, without electricity (in some rural areas), or without indoor bathrooms; and the list goes on. Mixing the cake ingredients by hand required patience and energy. There were no "ready prepared" or "packaged mixes" to shorten preparation time. All food dishes were created "from scratch."

If you have any favorite recipes you would like to share with the younger generations, please send them to Nicki Zoda or Karlene Smith using the format and mailing addresses below. These recipes will be compiled in booklet form by these authors and made available later this year free to the contributors.

The names and addresses of all contributors will be acknowledged.

It is recognized that many recipes from past generations have been collected in various book forms. However, we feel that the restrictions placed on the homemakers by rationing and shortages during the 3½ years of the war led to a group of very unique recipes. We want to share these with our younger generations.

Thank You! The women of the Warren community and surrounding areas were the backbone of the family life in the 1940's.

It's My Choice.

— Ashley & Alec Reiff of Bluffton

"Everything was great!" Ashley Reiff said enthusiastically about the birth of her second son, Alec. From her obstetrician to pre-registration to after-birth care, Ashley felt confident that everyone knew what she and her baby wanted and needed.

"The doctor and nurses answered all of my questions thoroughly and explained everything as it happened. In the delivery room, I could feel that everyone knew what they were doing. I had no fears. It was great!"

"Lynne Apple helped with breastfeeding. She is invaluable. I wouldn't be nursing Alec now if not for Lynne."

"Bluffton Regional is more like home than a larger hospital. The atmosphere was cozier, I got to know the staff and I felt much more comfortable. Plus, I was closer to family. It made my delivery a lot easier, because I wasn't just another patient."

"This was a great experience. I can't say enough about Dr. Wanner, the nurses and Lynne. Even the housekeeping staff was courteous and friendly."

"I would definitely come back -- I wouldn't go anywhere else."
