THE BOXCAR CHILDREN CONTINUES AT THE PULSE OPERA HOUSE

The classic children's book "The Boxcar Children" came to life at the Pulse Opera House last weekend. Henry, Jessie, Violet, Benny (and his dog Watch) bravely set out on an adventure that the whole family can enjoy and discuss. Several area children read "The Boxcar Children" books and earned a free ticket through the Warren Public Library and the Pulse Opera House. Area schools and home schoolers attended matinees on Thursday and Friday of last week. Many of the classes had read the books at school so this was a good opportunity to supplement their school work.

The Pulse is collecting teddy bears in the lobby to send to our soldiers in Iraq to give to the Iraqi children. This is in honor of Pulse volunteer Lilly Nutter who has greeted patrons at the box office for over 14 years. Lilly has sent over 200 packages to our soldiers and has recently begun including small stuffed animals. Cash donations for the packages will also be accepted, as well as notes for Lilly or our soldiers.

This is the last weekend to catch this show. It runs March 15, 16 & 17 at 8:00 p.m. Doors open at 7:30 p.m. Tickets may be reserved by going to the website www.pulseoperahouse.org or by calling (260) 375-7017.

HISTORY OF SAINT PATRICK'S DAY

Saint Patrick's Day (Irish: Lá 'le Pádraig or Lá Fhéile Pádraig), colloquially is the feast day which annually celebrates Saint Patrick (386-493), the patron saint of Ireland, on March 17. It is a national holiday in the Republic of Ireland (a bank holiday in Northern Ireland).

Saint Patrick's Day is celebrated worldwide by Irish people and increasingly by many of non-Irish descent. Celebrations are generally themed around all things green and Irish; both Christians and non-Christians celebrate the secular version of the holiday by wearing green, eating Irish food, imbibing Irish drink, and attending parades. The St. Patrick's Day parade in Dublin, Ireland is part of a five day festival, with over 500,000 people attending the 2006 parade. The largest St. Patrick's Day parade is held in New York City and it is watched by 2 million spectators. The St. Patrick's day parade was first held in New York City on 17 March, 1756 when Irish soldiers marched through the city. Parades also take place in other Irish towns and villages. Other large parades include those in Belfast, Manchester, Birmingham, London, Coatbridge, Montreal, Boston, Chicago, Kansas City, Savannah, Pittsburgh, Denver, Sacramento, Scranton and Toronto. Large parades also take place in other places throughout Europe and the Americas, as well as Australia and Asia.

As well as being a celebration of Irish culture, Saint Patrick's Day is a Christian festival celebrated in the Catholic Church, the Church of Ireland (among other churches in the Anglican Communion) and some other denominations. The day always falls in the season of Lent. In church calendars (though rarely in secular ones) Saint Patrick's Day is moved to the following Monday when it falls on a Sunday. It is traditional for those observing a lenten fast to break it for the duration of Saint Patrick's Day whenever March 17 falls on a Friday.

In many parts of North America, Britain, and Australia, expatriate Irish, those of Irish descent, and ever-growing crowds of people with no Irish connections but who may proclaim themselves "Irish for a day" also celebrate St. Patrick's Day, usually by drinking alcoholic beverages (lager dyed green, Irish beer and stout, such as Murphys, Smithwicks, Harp or Guinness, or Irish whiskey, Irish Cider, Irish Coffee or Baileys Irish Cream) and by wearing at least one article of green-colored clothing.

POISON PREVENTION WEEK

March 18-24, 2007

Huntington County Purdue Extension Office has a look-alike poison display available for children to see how similar some safe items, such as candy, look to items that can be poisonous. Please contact Karen Hinshaw at 260-358-4826, if you are interested in scheduling a time to view the display or have it brought to your childcare/preschool/classroom.

Poison Centers—What are they?

A poison center is primarily an emergency telephone service. When you call 1-800-222-1222, you talk to specially trained nurses and pharmacists who can handle all kinds of poison exposures, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. These experts can usually take care of you right over the phone. If hands-on medical treatment is necessary, the poison center expert will call ahead to the emergency facility to prepare for the patient's arrival. They also answer questions about poison prevention and how to make your home poison safe. All poison center services are free and confidential.

In 2005, the Indiana Poison center received 82,845 requests for assistance, an average of 227 calls per day. In addition, the staff of the Poison Center placed 75,085 calls to patients and health care professionals for follow-up. Most of those poisonings occurred at home and 55% of them involved children ages 5 and under. During the National Poison Prevention Week, March 18-24, Purdue Extension and the Indiana Poison Center encourage you to take some simple steps to help keep your family safe.

Choose products and medicine with child resistant packaging whenever it is available.

Replace child-resistant caps tightly every time you give or take a medicine or use a product.

Lock medicines and products out of sight and reach of children.

Read the label each and every time, before giving or taking medicine or using household products—never guess about how to use a product.

Take medicines where children can't watch—they learn by imitating.

Put the number for the Indiana Poison Center, 1-800-222-1222 on or near every telephone.

Make sure babysitters and family members caring for your children also have the emergency number posted in their homes. Call 1-800-222-1222 even if you just think that someone has been poisoned. Don't wait to see if the person gets sick, call the experts at the Poison Center right away.

WHEN YOU'RE 64 ...

What you need to know to sign up for Medicare

In 2006, the oldest of the baby boomers — the generation born between 1946 and 1964 — began turning 60 years old. In the next few years, this group will begin to sign up for Medicare. But there is a group of pre-baby boomers who are closer to signing up and have questions about the process now.

How do I enroll in Medicare?

The Social Security Administration handles Medicare eligibility and enrollment. According to Melissa Durr of the IAAA Education Institute, you can call the Social Security Administration at 1-800-772-1213 or visit their website at socialsecurity.gov. It is recommended that you sign up for Social Security and to receive your Medicare benefits at least three months prior to turning 65.

What if I already receive Social Security benefits?

If you already receive benefits, you are automatically entitled to Medicare benefits, Parts A and B, the first day of the month you turn 65. You can turn down Part B because there will be a premium for that coverage. When you sign up for Part D, you have a period of three months prior to turning 65 and three months after you to turn 65 to sign up.

Can I sign up for a plan outside the Enrollment Period?

Yes, Durr says. If your 65th birthday falls outside an open enrollment period, go ahead and sign up either through the 800 number, the website, or a meeting with the Social Security Administration. Your local Area Agency on Aging can help you select a plan. If you do not sign up during this time frame, you will be subject to late enrollment penalties, usually in the form of higher premiums. However, if you are a person with a low income and qualify for extra help, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services may waive the penalty.

Is there anything else I need to know?

Durr says, "It is important for beneficiaries to guard their personal information. Do not provide your Social Security or Medicare numbers to anyone. Do not sign blank forms or provide your banking information. It is a recipe for disaster."

Another stumbling block for many older adults is communication from government agencies. "Medicare does not communicate with its beneficiaries by telephone or email," Durr said. "If someone calls and says they are with Medicare, that should be a red flag. Don't provide any information."

She added that if you suspect that a product or service that is represented as Medicare approved is not, check it out through your local resources like the Area Agency on Aging at 1-800-986-3505. If you think that you have been a victim of fraud, you can also make a report to the Area Agency on Aging.

"Protect, detect, and report is our mantra as it relates to Medicare fraud and abuse," Durr said.

The IAAA Education Institute, a 501 (c) 3 education and research organization, provides training on issues to the aging network.

MY TOWN and Yours BY DENNIS STROUD

James C. Christman, an old and well known farmer who lived about three miles up river from Warren, was the one who was giving the credit for starting the Warren Tri-county fair. In the July issue of "The Warren Weekly News" in 1883 the following article appeared; "Any person who thinks he can show the best male hog may have the opportunity to do so and winning a prize by placing his stock on exhibition in Warren on some day in the future agreed upon and paying the sum of one dollar. A competent committee shall be appointed and decide who has the best hog. The person who the committee picks shall receive the whole amount of the entrance fee paid in. Parties interested are requested to consult with me soon and make arrangement."

In the next issue of the "News" was this article; "to the proposition from J.C. Christman to show hogs in Warren, we will show hogs if enough breeders will agree to participate to make a respectable show. We would prefer to show a herd consisting of one or more male hogs and two or more brood sows and six or a dozen pigs. We would prefer the last Saturday in August as the time, as hogs will be in better shape for the fair."

From the above propositions and suggestions, together with consultations among other farmers and the business men of town, a meeting was called on August 25, 1883. Arrangements were made for a hog show on the 8th of September, the day of the old settlers meeting. This small beginning resulted in a very creditable display of hogs. Eight exhibitors were present and showed twenty hogs and fifteen pigs. They were admired by a large crowd and the subject of holding regular fairs began to be discussed.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Seven children attended St. Patrick's Celebration at the Van Buren Public Library, on Friday March 2, 2007. The children signed in and received a picture of frogs to color.

Karen introduced our special guests Mrs. Jody Heaston and her daughter Cora.

Being a St. Patrick's Day Celebration green was our color and frogs were the subjects. Jody & Cora shared a lot of information about frogs and the sounds they make.

Jody shared on how the frogs look. Cora had books with pictures of different kinds of frogs she shared with the children. We found out male frogs have large ears and small eyes and females have large eyes and small ears. This was new information for a lot of us. She shared about different kinds of frogs. Tree frogs - how they change color to fit into their background and camouflage them. Spring Peeper Frogs make sounds like bells ringing and Bullfrogs have a low voice. Jody brought items from home so we could all make frog noises. We had fun with bottles, rubberbands, bells, combs and other items. We all had such a good time! We want to thank Jody & Cora for coming and sharing with us.

Refreshments were juice and cookies.

Those attending were: Alie Gray, Jenna Boucher, Kaylee Morgan, Emilee Morgan, Amanda Keifer, Jarren Griffith and Hannah Hutchinson.

The library appreciates our volunteer Amy Smith. Thank-You Amy.

Next story time will be March 23rd with Special Guest Andrea McCoy. Who will share information about children with special needs.

Jenny Plummer is delegate to International Convention in July.

The nominating committee for officer elections next month was appointed.

Meeting was closed with prayer.

Those present: Sandy Booher, Peggy Sue Clark, Sandy Eichhorn, Sharon Gebhart, Suzette Gephart, Carol Irick, Tara Korporal, Beth Ostermeyer, Jenny Plummer, Susan Ralston, Shelly Stafford and Sondra Zabel.

EAGLES VS TRAILBLAZERS

The Varsity Eagles & Varsity Lady Eagles hosted the Cincinnati Trailblazers at the Trinity Friends Church Gym in Van Wert, Ohio.

The Trailblazers are one of the top HomeSchool Basketball programs in the country. They are coached by five year NBA veteran, Ronnie Grandison, who played for a year on the Celtics with Larry Bird, and followed his coach, Pat Riley, to the Miami Heat.

Huntington Lady Eagles 19 - Trailblazers 21

In an intensely defensive struggle, it was difficult for both teams to connect with the basket. The Blazers broke the tie with 19 seconds left.

Huntington Eagles 61 - Cincinnati Trailblazers 51

The Eagles were able to get some defensive stops and run their offense.

The Varsity & Jr. High Eagles and the Lady Eagles (and Trailblazers) will travel to the National Christian HomeSchool Basketball Championships in Oklahoma City. Games will start Monday and conclude Saturday. Each team will play out and finish their bracket to be ranked nationally.

SPEECH TEAM TO STATE

The Huntington North High School speech and debate team is wrapping up its season. Over the past competition year, the speech and debate competitors have placed in the top eight at almost every competition. The speech team is a member of two organizations. First, they are a member of the Indiana High School Forensics Association (IHSFA, www.ihsfa.org), where they compete at a sectional tournament and have the opportunity to advance to state. This past weekend, HNHS has four entries into the sectional tournament. Kiela Clore & Sarah Stine competed in memorized duo. Michael Paynter competed in humor. Alicia Smith competed in drama, and Nathan Albertson and Alicia Smith competed in scripted duo. Nathan and Alicia placed 7th in the sectional and are advancing to state on March 24th. The team is also a member of the National Forensic League (NFL, www.nflonline.org) and will be competing at a district tournament on March 17th, with a chance to qualify for a national tournament held over the summer. This year, the national tournament will be held in Kansas.

*The posted rate includes the standard 1/4% discount for automatic deduction of the payment from a National City deposit account, requires a minimum loan amount of $100,000, a maximum loan-to-value ratio of 80%, and cannot be used to refinance existing National City debt. For example, if the Annual Percentage Rate (APR) is 6.49% and $100,000 is borrowed for a term of 180 months, your monthly payment would be $872.92. This payment and rate includes a $100 prepaid finance charge. Rate, APR and prepaid finance charge may differ depending on term, amount borrowed, loan to value, and credit qualifications. No third party closing costs offer applies only to loans between $10,000 and $500,000. Property, title and/or flood insurance, if applicable, are required. Offer subject to meeting credit criteria.
