"ON OCTOBER 30TH"

When the Goblins are about...
Lots of fun with Trick or Treating...
When the Merchants all turn out!
You will hardly even know them...
They will gladly dress up too...
Scarecrows will be everywhere...
The real ones will say BOO!!!

ARE YOU READY?

To have fun at Warren's Scarecrow Festival on Friday, October 30th in downtown Warren?! Brought to you by the Warren Area chamber of Commerce. Businesses and organizations are sponsoring events.

THURSDAY OCT 29TH - 10 AM KICK-OFF : Scarecrow Judging!

 All Scarecrow participants please display your Scarecrows outside on Thursday AM to be judged!! Please show them off all day Friday and throughout the weekend! Thank you for participating.

FRIDAY OCTOBER 30th Downtown Warren - At 6:00 PM a screeching siren will be calling all Children & Adults to masquerade in family friendly costumes (parade starts @ 3rd & Wayne Street). The Festivities, Hayrides, Chili Cook-Off, and Halloweenies on Wayne Street are from 6 - 8 PM. Don't forget to your treat bags and spare money for fun and refreshments!

If monstrous rains, the events will be at the Knight-Bergman Civic Center. Festival brochures are at National City, MarkleBank, and the City Building in Warren. Scarecrow and Chili entry forms are due October 23rd. If you have any questions or for more details, please call 375-3010. See you on the 30th....

POE TALES AT THE PULSE

Remember sitting around the campfire and listening to a good spookystory? The Pulse doesn't have the campfire, but there are spooky stories to be told in "Night Chills," a radio drama based on Edgar Allan Poe stories. In honor of the 200th anniversary of Poe's birth, and to celebrate this great American writer, actors from the Pulse will read dramatizations of "The Tell Tale Heart", "The Fall of the House of Usher", and "The Cask of Amontillado." Live sound effects, music and voices will combine to transport you to Poe's world of mystery and macabre.

Performances are scheduled for October 23, 24, 30 and 31. For online reservations, check out www.pulseoperahouse.org. All shows begin at 8:00 p.m. Lobby doors open at 7:00 p.m. and theatre doors open at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are $12 for general admission and $5 for children 12 and under. There is a $2 discount for those who bring in non-perishable items for the Food Pantry in Warren (one ticket per item - not good with any other promotion.)

STORYTIME UPDATES

There will be no pre-school story time at the Warren Public Library on Friday, October 23 or October 30.

Story time will resume on Friday, November 6 at 10:30 a.m. at the library. Sessions last about ½ hour. No registration is necessary.

After school story time at Salamonie began Monday October 19 for grades 1-3. These times are provided by the Warren Library and last 45 minutes. Students need to bring their parent signed permission slip in order to attend.

SUPPER & MOVIE

There will be an all you can eat Fish and Chicken Supper at the Boehmer UM Church, 3467S 600W Liberty Center on November 7 from 4:30 - 7pm. The meat will be prepared by Back Door Concessions. Proceeds from the supper to go to Mission Projects and the Alaska Work Trip. There will be a free will offering. At 7:15 the movie "Fireproof" will be shown. A childrens movie will be shown in the basement.

CEMETERY CLEAN-UP

The Warren Woodlawn Directors will be cleaning the cemetery of summer flowers and decorations beginning November 1. Recently placed fall items will not be removed, trusting families to remove these as we get into winter weather. Christmas items may be placed after Thanksgiving. Please label and securely anchor all arrangements.

President Guy Jackson, Vice President Robert Sliger,

Treasure Sharon Williams, Secretary Lou Ann Shafer, Marcia Jackson, George Kreigbaum, Larry Poulson and Mark Stucky welcome your suggestions and comments.

"IT'S A WONDERFUL LIFE"

Tickets are now on sale for the Pulse Opera House Christmas production of "It's a Wonderful Life." The show runs November 13, 14, 19, 20, 21, 27, 28 and December 3, 4, 5. Several nights are beginning to fill up with groups, so it's wise to make reservations online at www.pulseoperahouse.org or by calling (260) 375-7017 and leaving a message.

SPOOKTACULAR

Salamonie School parents and staff are sponsoring a haunted woods on Friday, October 23, and Saturday, October 24, from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. The woods is located behind the school on 900S. Admission is $5.00.

Many people are working very hard, and many businesses and individuals have donated materials and funds to make this a major scary event in our area. Funds raised through this event will go toward the 7th and 8th grade Washington D.C. trip.

Rain or shine, the Spooktacular Haunted Woods will take place. Please come out and support this worthwhile event.

This event is not recommended for children under ten years old!

GREAT PUMPKIN CONTEST

Enter to win 10 Free Pizza's by guessing the weight of the "Great Pumpkin". The "Great Pumpkin" is located in the lobby of the East of Chicago Pizza in

Happy 48th on the 23rd
Happy 50th on the 26th

Warren. To enter; write your name, phone number and guess of the weight on the back of your sales receipt. The contest will end at 4:00 P.M. on Friday Oct. 30. We will announce the winner at the Scarecrow Festival but you need not be present to win! In the event of a tie, a drawing will be held to determine the winner.

TOWN PARTY

The Halloween Party for the Van Buren Community is on Saturday, October 31 at the Van Buren Elementary School. Trick or Treating will be from 7PM until 9PM. The town party will begin at 7PM in the school.

Costume Categories for this year's events are: Animals, Skeletons, Clowns, Cartoon Characters, Sports, Miscellaneous, Ghosts, Prettiest-Princesses, Vampires, Witches, Most Unusual, Star Wars, Ugliest, Foods.

STEPS TO A HAPPIER RETIREMENT

by V. Neil Wyrick

It has been said that the trouble with retirement is you never get a day off. Therefore, to benefit the most from it...think on the following.

Think of retirement not as a time of being “over the hill” but rather a time to view the world from a different hill. Consider what you are retiring to, not just what you are retiring from. Yes, it should be a time for smelling the roses, but also a time for planting some.

1. You may be working into your nineties and loving every minute of it but whether it is a vacation or an avocation, nature abhors a vacuum.

2. Whatever amount of time you have left before retirement, save more and spend less. Don't buy everything within sight. Rather try buying with more insight.

3. And as a motivation, stop and figure out what your annual income would be if you were forced into retirement tomorrow. Then figure what you will retire with at say 70, not even thinking 65.

4. Today, the experts figure you need twenty times your present income in the bank, if you want to retire in the same financial neighborhood of your present income.

5. When the time comes think long and hard before you move into a retirement community or a smaller home. That is what about a third of retirees do, but you need to make your decision based on your own list of “Why To's” and “Why Not's”. Neither is bad idea, just two ideas that need careful thought.

6. When you think of long term nursing care, think statistics – the average nursing home stay is two to three years. Consider a bigger deductible vs. a bigger premium. But then, don't spend so much time thinking you become your own worst enemy. And yes, let any conclusion simmer for awhile rather than immediately bringing them to a boil.

7. If at all possible, pay off your mortgage. It's very comforting to know that, if needed, there is the possibility of a reverse mortgage rather than an ongoing mortgage payment that, with a reduced income, can be increasingly difficult to pay.

8. Think capital preservation as well as capital appreciation. There are countless formulas, but the stock market is always a giant question mark. Remember, if an investment seems to be too good to be true, it probably is.

9. Last and certainly not least talk to a financial manager. However, check them out carefully because you don't want one with any kind of vested interest in his or her proposals. And you certainly want first class recommendations about financial managers from friends rather than ads.

It may be an over-simplification but I think not too much so; Prepare for retirement so it will not be a time of sadness but of hope.

MY TOWN and Yours BY DENNIS STROUD

The contractors in charge of paving State Road 5 was all set up and working by the end of August 1932. One of the interesting sights was to watch the clock like action of a dozen or more four mule teams hitch to dump wagons as they file past the big combination plow and dirt elevator to receive their loads of dirt. The mules, under the direction of their driver, timed their steps to keep their wagon under the end of the elevator until the wagon was full.

The combination plow and elevator looked like an ordinary road grader but not quite. It was propelled by a Caterpillar tractor and was equipped with a plow similar to what was used in the fields but some what bigger and heavier. An elevator caught the dirt, as it was turned and elevated it to one side and to a height that lets the dirt drop over the end and into the wagon beds. It was said that the outfit used was capable of moving 3000 cubic feet a day. To get an idea of that amount, imagine a ditch five feet wide, three feet deep and a mile long.

In September the town of Warren made arrangements with the state highway to add seven feet to the Wayne Street paving which would add enough on both sides for car parking. What was interesting, the stone used for a base on Wayne Street, in 1894, was still in excellent condition, in 1932, and it had come from the old Christman quarry down by the river. Now in 1932, the Christman quarry was owned by Glen Spahr and the Highway Commission condemned the stone and would not let them use it. The job was finished by the end of October 1932.

Starting November 7 the museum will be open every Saturday from 1:30 - 4:30. If you got time come on in and see us.

NEW MINISTER

We would like to announce that Ethan Stivers was approved, last Sunday, October 18, to become the Warren Church of Christ's next minister. When Gerald Moreland, the present minister, announced he was retiring in January, 2010, the search began to find a replacement. Ethan is married to his wife Misty and they are expecting twins in March 2010. He is a graduate of Cincinnati Christian University, Cincinnati, OH with a Bachelor's degree in Bible & Preaching and a Master's degree in Pastoral Leadership. He grew up in Lexington, KY at the Southern Acres Christian Church. He is presently the senior minister at Evendale Community Church, Evendale, OH near Cincinnati. They plan to arrive in Warren to begin their ministry in January some time. The Morelands plan to stay in the Warren church to continue helping in any way needed. We will announce their exact time of arrival at a later date.

Goshen College, married Mary in 1955, and later began his medical practice with Dr. Kinzer in Markle, In. They agreed that Missions and Foreign Medical Work would be part of their practice. Dr. Miller's first trip was to Brazil Missions with his sister. In 1971 he made his first trip to Somalia, the subject of his book, and worked with Howard Reed, Director of Mennonite Mission there.

His first hospital work was at Jamama, a perilous task. There he began studying cataract surgery because of the need by so many blind people. He fixed 28 people, but that was a drop in the bucket of needy persons. Later on he ran into trouble with the government over a medical practice, but was later exonerated because he had given 2 pints of his own blood to help in the patient's recovery. That deed was extremely appreciated personally and by custom.

"We are all God's people," Mennonites and Somalians together", was the theme of his efforts in the country.

Sharon conducted the business meeting. Nancy Bonham gave a short history of Chautauqua's beginnings, it's customs, and it's philosophies for becoming a member.

Knowledge, involvement, and service have always been keynote to its founding.

The President closed the meeting with reading, "The Perfect Prayer", by James Whitcomb Riley, the perfect sentiment for today's times.

23 members enjoyed lovely refreshments served in the afternoon.

CHAUTAUQUA

The Chautauqua Literary Club met in The Heritage Pointe Calico Room October 2, 2009, for the first meeting of the new season.

President Sharon Gebhart called the meeting to order and the Collect was read. Roll call was answered with the response, "My Favorite Teacher".

A very interesting book review was given by Sue Blair on "A Hundred Camels", by Dr. Gerald Miller, a retired medical doctor from Markle, In.

RANKED FOURTH

MarkleBank is ranked fourth of all Indiana banks in Small Business Administration (SBA) lending. Based on lending statistics recently released by the SBA, MarkleBank ranks number four based on total SBA loan volume for the year between October 1, 2008 and September 30, 2009. This is up from number 21 during the first six months of the fiscal year.

The SBA was created in 1953 to aid and assist the interests of small business concerns, to preserve free competitive enterprise, and to maintain and strengthen the overall economy of our nation. It recognizes that small business is critical to our economic recovery and strength, to building America's future, and to helping the United States compete in today's global marketplace. The SBA helps Americans start, build, and grow businesses.

Paul Grandlienard, Executive Vice President of MarkleBank, states, "MarkleBank remains committed to serving the needs of businesses in our community, even when other institutions are reducing their commitment to small businesses. Small businesses are key to a strong community and keeping our families, friends, and neighbors employed. With our wide range of business financial services, and business banking professionals, we are able to help businesses and tailor solutions to their individual needs. The SBA helps us do this and helps make us Small Business Strong."

MarkleBank's business financial services experts include Rick Gentis, Paul Grandlienard, and Andy Marshall in Markle, Sid Schwartz and Ray Paxson in Bluffton, Lee Pasko in Huntington, Penny Kinser and Jane Vickrey in Warren and Van Buren, and Steve Habig in Fort Wayne.

TURKEY TROT

Kids Kampus child care center of Huntington, "A Caring Place to Go and Grow!", will host the fifth annual Turkey Trot 5K run and fun walk on Thanksgiving morning. The race, sponsored by McDonald's, The News Sentinel, El Shaddai, Inc., Markle Bank, Custom Craft and the Kil-So-Quah Roadrunners will start from McDonald's in Huntington at 8:00 A.M. on Thanksgiving morning. The run is mostly flat and will run on pavement. Cash prizes will be awarded to division winners and the overall winner. New this year is a cash prize for the Male and Female overall winners!

Last year, the run had over 225 participants take part in the race, which began at McDonald's in Huntington, ran through the campus of Huntington University, and back to McDonald's. Ronald McDonald will again start the race this year, and registration starts at 7:00 A.M. on Thanksgiving morning. The one-mile fun walk starts at 8:30. The cost for the race is $15 if you pre register, and $20 day of the race. Those who pre-register will receive a free long sleeved t-shirt if registered before November 14th.

The overall male and female winner of the race will receive a cash prize of $100. The winner of each age division will receive a cash prize of $50. Please note if you win the overall prize, you cannot win the divisional prize as well!

The age division's are as follows, Best Boys and Girls ages 15 and under, Men's and Women's 16 to 34, Men's and Women's 35-54, and Men's and Women's ages 55 and up.

This year, proceeds for the race will benefit the Kids Kampus Early Childhood Education Center Scholarship fund. Additional Registration forms are available at Kids Kampus, McDonalds, El Shaddai, and Markle Bank in Huntington, or by visiting www.kidskampus.org.

VISITS LIMITED

For the protection of its patients, Parkview Huntington Hospital is putting temporary restrictions on visitors in order to minimize the spread of H1N1 influenza.

Parkview Huntington Hospital will not allow children or young people under the age 18 to visit patients in its facilities. Only adult visitors at least 18 years of age will be allowed to visit patients. Visitors will be limited to two adults per patient.

Visitors are also asked not to bring anyone under the age of 18 into hospital waiting rooms unless the person is there for treatment.

Exceptions to the temporary restrictions of visitors may be granted for patients who are experiencing life threatening health issues.

The new policy is also in effect at all other Parkview Health hospitals in the area.

TRUNK OR TREAT

The TurnPointe Community Church / Life's Little Treasures Day Care of Markle are holding their 2nd Annual Trunk or Treat at the church/day care Wednesday, Oct 28 from 6:30-8PM. We are located just east of the I-69 interchange on US 224. Our Day Care is having an Open House with all the rooms decorated and treats will be handed out. Cars will also be surrounding the church and costumed members will also be handing out treats. We invite everyone to come and enjoy a safe and fun time.

Interpersonal Communication - Presented by Robin Williams, CFS Educator in Madison Co. - 10:00 a.m. - We can't not communicate. The very attempt not to communicate communicates something. Through not only words, but through tone of voice and through gesture, posture, facial expression, etc., we constantly communicate to those around us. Through these channels, we constantly receive communication from others. Even when you sleep, you communicate. Remember a basic principle of communication in general: people are not mind readers. Another way to put this is: people judge you by your behavior, not your intent. This lesson will explore the art of interpersonal communication.

Healthy Holidays - Presented by Kristi Henry, CFS Educator in Blackford/Jay Counties - 11:00 a.m. This program will help you plan well ahead of the holiday season to make your traditional recipe favorites healthier with a few easy changes as well as offer suggestions for healthier holidays all around. HOOSIERS REPRESENTED

Greg Smitley, President of MarkleBank, traveled to Washington, D.C., October 4-6 to meet with legislators and regulators to discuss how recent banking proposals might impact Indiana communities. Smitley was one of approximately 30 individuals traveling with a delegation from the Indiana Bankers Association.

The trip commenced with a briefing from representatives of the Independent Community Bankers of America and the American Bankers Association, who addressed banking issues from a national perspective. Following the briefing, Smitley and other Indiana bankers met with officials from the Office of Thrift Supervision, Conference of State Bank Supervisors, Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., and Federal Reserve.

The Washington trip continued with visits to the offices of each of the senators and representatives who represent Indiana. The goal was to discuss current legislation and its potential impact on the economy of Indiana.

"This trip gave me a chance to present the Hoosier point of view on major financial issues being discussed in Washington," said Smitley. "It also was an educational opportunity for me. As a member of this community and a representative of MarkleBank, I am eager to be as informed as possible about legislation that might affect our state. In particular, as Congress is contemplating major banking legislation such as creating yet another federal bureaucracy in the new Consumer Financial Protection Agency, it's important that Congress understands how its decisions will adversely affect banks and bank customers.

MarkleBank is a bank subsidiary of Independent Alliance Banks, headquartered in Fort Wayne, Indiana. MarkleBank currently operates seven community banking centers, the main office in Markle, two in Bluffton, one in Warren, Huntington, Van Buren, and Fort Wayne. FROM THE PAST

Submitted by Freda (Lynn) Van Winkle

My older daughter Tamara, found the City Market ads (shown at right) and emailed them to me for my birthday.

The John Lynn & Son businesses existed in Warren during the late 20's to the early 40's.

The first two businesses I recall were the John Lynn & Son Stockyards and the Lynn Slaughter House. John was my grandfather and Walter was my dad.

The stockyards were located at the north end of Frederick St and just across the railroad track. There is a farm supply co. in the location today.

At this time John and Walter managed the Liberty Center Stockyards too.

During this period the second business we owned and operated was a slaughter house. It was located where the Heritage Pointe's Dogwood Glen area is today. We sold the acres that included where the meat processing plant was to the UMM Home in the 40's.

Our meat was sold through the IGA City Market located at 124 N. Wayne St. We owned the City Market (circa 1932-1935). The fresh meat sold well. The IGA products did not.

Employees of the City Market were Jim Fornshell, Lew Gaiser, and Frank Canady. (Photo of City Market hangs in the Knight-Bergman Civic Center Museum)

After John and Walter sold The City Market, they still supplied fresh meat for Otto Trustler's meat market just across the alley from the Masonic building.

The John Lynn & Son Stockyards was south of the Warren Fairgrounds. There was a wooden fence that separated the race track from our site. This created excitement for me when I would hear a sulky driver training his horse. I would climb the board fence that was tightly built to conceal the view of the track. The closeness of the boards made it difficult to climb to the top where a flat board completed the privacy of the track. It took determination to hang on to watch a race horse complete its round.

The other memory of the stockyards pertains to the noisiness and the busyness of everyone. My dad would be running out the back door that led up to the loading chute while Grandpa John was seated at the old oak roll top desk taking care of business.

The role my mother played in assisting at the stockyards was getting the Chicago market price of live stock from the radio. Every morning at 10:00 AM we had to be very quiet so she could note and call it in to my dad and grandfather for them to determine what price to offer the farmer. This allowed them to be free for other activities at the stockyards.

Carl Pugh was the driver of our red stock truck and also designed the lettering for the name and telephone number on the top of the truck.

Ervin Carroll drove the blue truck. Both helped at the stockyards when they weren't out in the trucks.

In the early 40's John Lynn & Son Stockyards was sold to I Duffy & Son from Muncie. Their location, which also provided access to a railroad track, was where Crop Production services are today.

FAVORITE HOLIDAY WORDS

by The FlyLady, Marla Cilley
Today I was asked by a magazine editor if I could give one tip for having a good holiday season what would that be? The answer came so quick that I even surprised myself.

Let go of your perfectionism!
If I can talk you into letting go of your perfectionism then you can cruise through the holidays without all the stress that being a perfectionist puts on you!
I know you are looking for that perfect picture post card feeling, but let's face it! That only happens in paintings or in the movies. I want you to allow yourself the freedom to celebrate the holiday without this undue stress.

Let's look at how your perfectionism ruins your holidays!!!

1. You procrastinate till the last minute to do anything because you just don't seem to have enough time to do it right or you don't think you do! Then it really isn't done to suit you are anyone else because it is just thrown together willie nilly! I DON'T HAVE TIME! This phrase is whiny!

2. Shopping is put off till the last minute because we have not planned our purchases and then we hit the malls looking for anything and spending what ever to get something to give. You settle because of that phrase again. I DON'T HAVE TIME!! Yes you do if you started a few weeks ago!

3. Do you see a pattern here; waiting till the last minute? Do you know the meaning of the word Deadline? It is the point at which you have no more time. In other words; you practically kill yourself doing it, when a little each day would have helped you process things without the stress. NOW YOU REALLY DON'T HAVE TIME! But watch you put on your super woman costume and kill yourself along with the rest of the family trying to save face! This is what makes the holidays miserable!

4. Because you have waited till the last minute again to purchase items; you are faced with a marathon wrapping session. No one likes to do this and it is hard on your back. Be kind to you and do a little at a time as you come in the door. If you hear yourself say, "I DON'T HAVE TIME RIGHT NOW! Then just do one little package!

5. Now let's look at decorating your home. You hear your children begging to do things and then these words come out of your mouth!! I DON'T HAVE TIME RIGHT NOW!!! They are usually said in an unkind tone because you are mad at yourself over this procrastination pressure. Do you want to know why you don't think you have time? It is because of your perfectionism! You don't think you have time to do it right! Decorating your home does not have to be done all at once.

Break it down into smaller pieces; take babysteps to decorate your home and enjoy establishing new traditions.

When you hear those nasty words come out of your mouth: I DON'T HAVE TIME!!! I want you to set your timer for 15 minutes and do something! You do have time! We all have the same amount of time in a day and it is how we choose to use it that makes the difference. When your perfectionism clouds your thinking you forget to do just a little to make things better.

Holidays celebrated incorrectly still blesses your family! Let go of your perfectionism and the whiny excuse of I DON'T HAVE TIME and enjoy this year.
