MOSSBURG STRINGS TO PERFORM

The Mossburg Strings will perform Thursday, September 16 at 2 p.m. in the Applegate Chapel of the United Methodist Memorial Home in the Fine Art Series presented by the Home.

The Mossburg Strings is comprised of the oldest five of eight Mossburg children: Caleb (15), Aaron (14), Rachel (13), Jacob (11), and Jared (9). There are three younger brothers. They enjoy playing many different musical styles including classical, fiddling, oldies, patriotic and Christian. They perform in a variety of venues including churches, businesses, weddings, schools, reunions, dinner theaters, and festivals.

Caleb, the oldest, has been a soloist with the Fort Wayne Philharmonic, Muncie Symphony Orchestra, Huntington College Orchestra, Grace Community Orchestra and Suzuki Advanced

Orchestra. He will be soloing once again with the Fort Wayne Philharmonic October 31st, playing Wieniawski's Concerto No.2 in D minor, Opus 22, 3rd Movement. Aaron and Rachel have been soloists with both the Huntington College Orchestra and the Indianapolis Youth Symphony, playing Bach's Concerto for Two Violins in D minor, 1st movement. Caleb, Aaron and Rachel are members of the Huntington College Orchestra and the Fort Wayne Philharmonic's Youth Symphony, where Caleb serves as Concert Master and Aaron, Principal Violist. Caleb also serves as Principal Second in the New World Youth Symphony. Aaron (Concert Master), Rachel (Principal Second) and Jacob are involved in the Indianapolis Youth Orchestra. Mossburg Strings have been Grand Champions and First Runner Up at the Indiana State Fair Youth Talent Competition which began with over 600 individuals. Caleb was First Runner Up as a soloist for the same competition. As individuals and as a group they have won many other scholarships, honors and awards.

Memorable programs have included preceeding speaker Alan Keyes and Christian Artist Steve Green (both at the Fort Wayne Coliseum), The Honeywell Center's 50th Anniversary, Merillat Center for Performing Arts (Huntington College), and the Annual Mayor's Conference at the Century Center in South Bend.

The children love to share God's gift of music with anyone who enjoys listening!

"Give thanks to the Lord with the lyre; sing praises to Him with harp and strings. Sing to Him a new song; play skillfully with a shout of joy. For the word of the Lord is upright; and all His work is done in faithfulness." (Psalm 33:2-4)

SUNDAY BRUNCH

A brunch will be served at the Knight-Bergman Civic Center on Sunday, Sept. 26 from 11a.m.-1p.m. Cost is $7 for adults, $4 for youth [6-12 years-old], and children under 5-years-old eat for free.

THE FANTASTICKS OPENS AT PULSE

Will Represent the United States at International Festival in November.

The award-winning Pulse Opera House has once again been invited to represent the United States in an International Theatre Festival. Members of the company will present the musical "The Fantasticks" at the Bunte Buhne 2004 Festival in Fellbach Germany in November. Inclusion in the festival is by invitation only and six groups are invited annually. Groups from Italy, France, Austria, Bulgaria and Argentina will perform during the six day festival. This is the second time the Pulse has received an international invitation. In July of 2000, the Pulse represented the United States at the International Festival of Musical Theatre in Kornwestheim Germany.

Local performances of "The Fantasticks" begin on September 17 at the Pulse. Members of the cast include Jana Henly Baker, Dan Baker, Randy Neuman, Steve Rodenberger, Evan Saltsman, Carolyn Texley, Darren Tumey and Bart Willard. The show is directed by Cynthia SmythWartzok with technical direction by Ron Wartzok. Ben Wedler is accompanying and Kathy Rader is running lights. Lodging, food, and transportation at the festival is supplied by the host theatre. Every company member is paying for their own transportation to Germany. In addition to the company, several Pulse board members and fans will accompany the group at their own expense.

"The Fantasticks," by Harvey Schmidt and Tom Jones, is the longest running musical in the history of the United States. It tells the story of a boy and girl who are tricked into falling in love by their fathers. After the boy gallantly saves the girl from being abducted by a swashbuckling cad, the young lovers think they will live "happily ever after." They find, however, that every day life together is not the same as romantic longing. "The Fantasticks" is a classic musical with timeless themes and includes such songs as "Try to Remember."

The show runs at the Pulse September 17, 18, 23, 24, 25, 30 and October 1 & 2. Doors open at 7:30 p.m. and the show starts at 8:00 p.m. Tickets are $10.00 for general admission and $5.00 for children 12 and under. Tickets may be purchased at the door or reserved by calling (260) 375-7017.

KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

THANK YOU

I'd like to say thank you to the people of Warren for making my last years with the US Postal Service the best years. Thank you Mrs Winters for the hugs, Bob Heaston for helping solve all of IU's basketball woes, Charlie for consoling me on Mondays, Irene for making a special trip to the Post Office to wish me well, Mark for opening the door just to say "hi" and all the others who wished me well.

A special thank you to the people I worked with as they are great! Thank you so much!

Vickie Hoover

THANK YOU TO PARTNERS IN EDUCATION ORGANIZATION

The Southern Wells Elementary Parents and Teachers would like to thank the Partners In Education Officers and members who hosted a wonderful Chili Supper, Tuesday, September 7th during the Fall Open House for an enormous turnout. The Chili supper was a great way to enjoy meeting the new Principal Ms. Dennis and to see first hand the positive work being done by the students. All efforts, work and donations should be duly recognized.

WALK ON THE SUNNY SIDE FOR MORE VITAMIN D

Moderation is taking center stage when it comes to exposure to the sun.

Doctors at Harvard-affiliated Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center say people have become so concerned about skin cancer and skin wrinkling that they never go out unless their skin is almost entirely covered.

Sunlight is hard on your skin, but there's more to it than that. The same ultraviolet wave lengths that sunscreen blocks also start the chemical reaction that produces vitamin D.

Low vitamin D levels are linked to poor bone health and everything from multiple sclerosis to prostate cancer. Doctors at the Mayo Clinic say 90 percent of their patients suffering from unexplained pain had inadequate levels of vitamin D. Doctors at the University of Minnesota say low levels can be responsible for joint and muscle pain.

People concerned about skin cancer should know that other factors determine risk. These include genes (some protect, some promote), skin type (fair people who sunburn easily are more at risk), type of exposure (sudden sunburn is more damaging than steady exposure,) and age (sunburns in adolescence are most dangerous).

Sunshine is not the only source of vitamin D. Fortified milk has 100 IU per glass. Multivitamins have 400 IU or more.

In addition to protecting bones and promoting general health, sunlight does other good things. Sunshine on the skin can reverse the seasonal affective disorder that is more common in autumn and winter. Being outdoors gets people playing, gardening, and enjoying healthful activities.

Doctors say we have gone from sun worship to sun dread. They recommend using sun screen and wearing a hat and shirt at midday. Then getting outside during the nice fall weather and enjoying it.

Across the way in Pioneer Village, the early settlers tend their farms as they spin wool, churn butter, braid rugs, and go about the business of their daily lives. A ropemaker, seamstress, and surgeon are among those setting up shop in Olde Towne, a thriving community of the early 1800s.

Antique cars, engines and tractors are on display, and shoppers can spend their time browsing through nearly 100 craft booths, all offering handcrafted items, and a dozen antiques dealers.

Children will delight in the younguns' fun area, which features such challenges as a giant straw maze, a rope bridge, and a wooden merry-go-round.

Period entertainers are featured on stage throughout the weekend. There's fiddle and banjo music, bluegrass, and French tunes, as well as cloggers, a melodrama, and song and dance by Huntington North High School's award-winning show choir. Thespians from Huntington College weigh in with "The Compleat Works of Wilm Shkspr, Abridged."

A farmers' market offers produce, dried flowers, honey and sorghum, and other goodies.

The festival is sponsored by the Huntington County Junior Historical Society, Phi Chapter of Psi Iota Xi, and Friends of the Festival. Proceeds support local charities and historic preservation projects. For more information about the festival or area lodging, call the Huntington County Visitor and Convention Bureau at 1-800-848-4282. Festival information is available online at pioneerfest.huntingtoncounty.org.

He was also concerned about recycling. He was informed that a recycling station has arrived and is expected to be in use soon. The station will be located, behind Town Hall and will have bins for paper, glass, plastic and cardboard.

MISSION IMPOSSIBLE

The Plum Tree UCC had a Mission Impossible Sunday, September 5, 2004. The congregation members were asked to donate sugar for the local food pantry in Warren, Indiana. To our amazement a total of 235 pounds of sugar was in the Mission Impossible basket on Sunday morning. Ask and ye shall receive is the motto at Plum Tree UCC.

The Warren Food Pantry supplies food, cleaning items, paper products, etc. to the local people who are having trouble financially in caring for their families. There was a request for sugar from the Food Pantry and our church thought it would be a challenge to see how many pounds of sugar we could collect.

We are a small rural church with approximately thirty persons in attendance on Sunday mornings but we are a "giving" congregation to those around

SUCCESSFUL VBS

Warren Hillcrest Church of the Nazarene completed yet another successful Vacation Bible School. The theme was "Brave Believers". The children started each evening by learning new songs, and singing some other favorites, watching skits performed by some of our amazing teens, learned Bible memory verses, heard Bible stories, played exciting outdoor games, and made a craft, all of these based on the Bible story for the evening. With all this hard work, we couldn't let them go without rewarding them with refreshments. One of the more exciting events at the close of each evening was the VBS Director's own version of Fear Factor. Pictured above is director Lana Keen (center), attempting to spit a (frozen) cricket the furthest distance. Chris Watson (left) is waiting to hand her the second of three crickets for the best of three, while Emily Satterthwaite looks on in glee (or is it really a form of sympathy?!). VBS ended Sunday morning with the children marching in like the Brave Believers they had become, and performing many songs. All in all, it was a great time for the teachers, assistants, our amazing teen helpers, and children.

us who are in need. We are having a "Mission Impossible" Sunday on the first Sunday of each month and will be contributing needed items to the Warren Food Pantry.

AFTER SCHOOL STORIES

Nineteen children attended Grandparents Day at the Van Buren Public Library on Friday September 10th, 2004.

The children signed in and received a search-a-word of Grandparents nicknames. Karen read the names to the children and she asked which nickname they used to call their Grandparents and many used the same names.

Karen read the book "A Special Day" by Dubravka Kolanovic. This is a book about Ivan going to see his grandparents. This book is found in the children's department of the library.

We had one surprise visitor Delta Oswalt brought her Grandmother Eudora Taylor and we were thrilled to have her. Maybe next year we will have more Grandparents to come.

The children started on their Grandparents Day cards. To decorate the cards they had crayons, ribbons, stickers, foam pieces, and many other items. I am sure the children will receive smiles and hugs from their grandparents when they receive their cards. The refreshments were heart shaped cookies and juice.

Those attending were: Kayla Shafer, Robert Tate, Nixon Smith, Icily Baker, Erin Tate, Karlee Laypoole, Autum Smith, Cathryne Anderson, Taylor Beck, Mandi Beck, Jaedyn Beck, Phillip Dailey, Delta Oswalt, Korisa Kitts, Kaley Kitts, Kyle Shafer, Emily Bryant, Olivia Bryant and Elizabeth Bryant.

This coming Friday Sept. 17th after school 2:30-3:30 story time will be a Bug-A-Loo Day. Come and see what this is all about!
