Thought for the Week: There are two kinds of people, those who finish what they start and so on. Robert Byrne

HUNTINGTON PAL CHAMPIONS

The Warren 5-6 year old Flag Football Team, The Cardinals, won the Huntington Flag Football championship on 10/30/10. The Cardinals defeated the Colts 20 to 6. The Cardinals were lead by a stingy defense only allowing 3 touchdowns in the tournament. They defeated the Falcons 20 to 6 on 10/26 and the Panthers 22 to 8 on 10-29. The Cardinals finished the season at 10-1-1.

KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

THE UPTOWN GARDENER by Ruth Herring

This week I think we experienced what my grandfather called squaw winter where we experienced some snow.

Granted in our immediate area we received only a few flakes while other parts I am told got to see a bit more. Now this week according to grandpa will be Indian summer as the weather is to be nice and warm. He said you have to have snow before Indian summer. That is a legend passed down from his old Indian friend and for most part seems to hold true.

This week Wayne was able to get our yard mowed and garden cleaned off. Sure looks much better. I brought in the last of the tomatoes a few days ago and the green ones are still ripening in the sunroom. I am hanging on to them as long as I can.

I did not do much canning this year but grateful for what I did get accomplished. It will taste mighty good this winter.

Now I am trying to think of some good food items for the winter farmers market coming up soon. One thing I will probably take will be the chocolate pecan pie. If you choose to make it yourself I share the recipe.

1 cup corn syrup, 1 tablespoon butter, dash salt, 3 eggs, 1/2 cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 teaspoon imitation brandy flavoring. This is optional, beat well and add 1 1/2 cups pecans 3/4 cup chocolate chips. Pour into a 9 inch pie shell bake 1 hour at 300. Enjoy and happy autumn.

JUST A NOTE ...

To thank the Stanley Girls for sharing their adventure and reunion. It is so special that a family can do that and share it. I know several of the girls and sure do enjoy hearing about their time together. That is certainly special.

"PURSE" NALLY YOURS

The Courtyard Studio at 223 Wayne Street in Warren, will host purse designer Cherie Ditto on Saturday, November 13. Cherie will assist you from 11:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in designing your own purse, using her great fabrics and embellishments to make it a one-of-a-kind "purse" nally yours. This event benefits the Bread of Life Food Pantry with 10% of the purse sales going to the pantry, which will help purchase needed food items during the Thanksgiving season. Also, very gently used purses will be collected that day to be given at the holiday time to several agencies for ladies of all ages.

The Studio has several of Cherie's purses on display. The Studio's hours are Thursday and Friday from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and Saturday from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. If you have any questions, please call Ruth Swanson at 260/750-1798.

Come and Enjoy... Laugh....and Support those that need our help at this time.

MEMORIAL BOWS

"Winter WarrenLand 2010 begins with announcement of the annual sale of memorial bows to decorate the Warren Community Memorial Christmas Tree. The project is again being sponsored by the Warren Chamber of Commerce. The bows may be purchased at Town Hall or at PJ's Flowers with proceeds going toward Chamber of Commerce Christmas Lighting projects.

The bows, two dollars each, are purchased in memory of a deceased person (white bow) or to honor a person living (red bow) or to honor a veteran either deceased or living (yellow). These bows are the only decoration on the tree except for lights. The name of the person being honored is written on the bow before its placement on the tree and a list of persons being honored is published in the Warren Weekly the week prior to Christmas.

Lighting of the Christmas Tree and Downtown Lights will be held on the Friday after Thanksgiving, November 26th. Santa arrives at 6:00 pm at Town Hall at the corner of Second and Wayne Street (SR5), on a fire truck of course. Following Santa greeting the children, the downtown lights are turned on and the group proceeds up Second Street to Knight Bergman Center for the Christmas Lighting ceremony there. Then Santa moves into the Christmas Village (Knight Bergman Center Auditorium) for the annual "Santa at the Center" which lasts until the last little one gives Santa their Christmas wish list. Warm drinks and cookies await everyone as Santa greets each child. "Santa at the Center" continues on Saturday from 9:00 - 11:00 am.

MEETING SCHEDULED

The Huntington County 4-H Fair Association will meet Tuesday, November 16, 7:00 pm at Heritage Hall, Hier's Park. The board will review proposed 4-H project rule changes, approve committee assignments, and continue planning efforts towards the 81st annual Huntington County 4-H Fair to be held July 15-29, 2011.

LEADERS NEEDED

The Huntington County 4-H program is in need of adult volunteers to assist with the leadership and guidance of community based 4-H clubs. 4-H clubs involve youth from grade 3 through grade 12 in a variety of activities from learning how to run a business meeting to learning new skills in project work to gaining a greater sense of the community through service and outreach projects. Volunteer orientation and training is provided for all new volunteers. Adults interested in working with younger youth in grades kindergarten through 2nd grade may become involved with the Mini 4-H program.

Interested adults must complete a 4-H volunteer application form and proceed through the volunteer screening process to ensure appropriate placement as an adult volunteer within the county 4-H program.

For more information about serving as a volunteer in the Huntington County 4-H program, contact Linda Aldridge, Extension Educator, 4-H Youth, at the Purdue Extension - Huntington County office, located at 354 N Jefferson Street - Suite 202, Courthouse Annex, Huntington or calling 260-358-4826 or email laldridg@purdue.edu.

COUNCIL NOTES

The Van Buren Town Council held a short meeting on Wednesday evening, November 3, 2010.

Opening at 7 p.m., the meeting was held in the Council Room at Town Hall. President Tony Manry conducted the meeting.

Officer Pat Collins gave the police report. He said only two officers were on duty during the Halloween activities on Saturday evening. There were no mischievous instances reported.

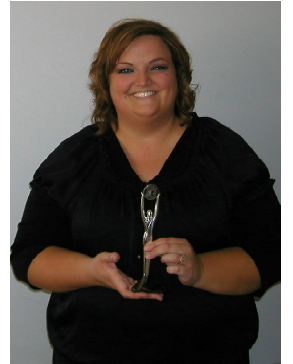

Superintendent Jim Webb reported a new water line had been put in on North Second Street. There had been winter maintenance at the wastewater treatment plant.

Christmas decorations are expected to be put up after Thanksgiving.

For those who would like to make Christmas brighter for others, Christmas trees at the Town Hall, Markle Bank and the Library are making that possible. The trees have Santa Sack tags with information, including ages and wishes.

The gifts may be turned in between 4:30 and 7 p.m. December 1 and December 1 and 2 between 12 noon and 12:30 p.m. at the Central Christian Church. The gifts will be delivered December 8.

SILVER STAR AWARD

Pictured above is Kristin Jackson and her silver star award that she just won from Indiana Farmers Mutual for the entire territory 2 of Indiana. This is a very prestigious award that only a customer service representative can win, and she had to compete against every CSR in the entire territory 2 of the state, "probably around 700 people". This award is voted on by the company underwriters and they felt that Kristin's knowledge, understanding, and ability to service accounts was absolutely without a doubt outstanding. Kristin has been part of the Thorne Insurance agency since November 2004, she is a licensed CSR, and handles the commercial and farm lines of business for the agency. She is truly an asset to Thorne Insurance Agency, and one more reason why a customer should choose Thorne Insurance Agency when selecting an insurance agency.

HALLOWEEN WINNERS

A community Halloween party was held at the Eastbrook North Elementary School in Van Buren on Saturday evening, October 30.

Prize winners in each category included:

Animals - Sarah Dingus, Aiden Dingus, Zoey Mathias

Sports - Joshua Pluimer, Ambria Haynes, Schyler Ashley

Vampires - Lane Cheshner, Heather Korporal

Skeletons - Dylan Bragg, Cody Wilson

Miscellaneous - Kyle

The Hostess House was the sight of the November meeting of the Van Buren Happy Red Hatters on Thursday. Elissa Crothers gave grace followed by a lovely lunch.

Waneta Linton, Queen Mum, conducted a short meeting. Due to the November and December holidays those meetings were changed to November 18th at the East of Chicago Pizza in Warren for November and December 16th will be the Sirloin Stockade in Marion.

The group will bake nut breads for the Food Pantry food baskets again. This needs to be done by December 7th when the baskets will be assembled. Breads are to be taken to the Christian Church between 9 and 3:30 week days before December 6th.

Mary Ellen Hawkins will replace Donna Zent as the Princess of C.R.A.P. writing the news articles and keeping pictures for the scrapbook.

Waneta Linton won the prize for the best dressed as a clown and Donna Zent won the door prize. Those attending were Mary Ellen Hawkins, Lucille Endsley, Karen Conwell, Janet Hunnicutt, Helen Fincannon, Waneta Linton, Shirley Shinholt, Donna Zent, Elissa Crothers, Anna Lou Saylor, Norma Briner. Making the arrangements were Paula Shepherd and Lana Stuber.

SENIOR GOLF

Results from the Senior Scramble at Dogwood Glen on Thursday, November 4th. First Place (31): John Dickason, Phillip Kaylor, Jack Wilson. Second Place (31): Charles Harris, Jim Hunnicutt, John Jones, Myron Ridgeway.

RED HAT REAL ELEGANT

DAMES

October was very busy for the local Red Hatters. First on the fun things for the month was a wonderful brunch at the home of Joyce Shepherd followed by a tour of the local Warren museum with our personal tour director, Mary Emma Holmes. Those attending the brunch were Lilly Nutter, Marion Hoffman, Fritz Boxell, Dianna Bradford, Freddie Couch, Virginia Langdon, guests Mary Emma Holmes and Kitty Throop, Rita Hiser, Karen Karchner, Becky Parker. Later in the month the Real Elegant Dames had the honor of judging the scarecrow entries for the Warren festival.

The next day the group traveled to Huntington to judge the decorated pumpkins at the Chamber of Commerce building. Lunch followed at one of the Huntington restaurants.

CHAUTAUQUA

The November meeting of the Chautauqua Literary Club met Nov. 5, 2010, at the Calico Room in Heritage Pointe with 20 members and 1 guest attending. President Sharon Gebhart called the meeting to order, and the Collect was repeated after she read, "Happy Fall—From One Pumpkin to Another."

Roll call was answered with "A Family Gathering Activity," followed by the Treasurer's report.

We will welcome Mrs. Colleen Oden as our newest member.

Sharon then introduced Mr. Scott Nedberg, pastor of the Warren United Christian Church, to present a program concerning Prison Ministries. He is one of 9 ministers on the Indiana Chaplaincy Board. His efforts consist of accents on Victims, Families, Prisoners, and Preparation for going in or coming out of prison. A commanding thought of ministers doing Prison Ministry is that everyone in prison is not a bad person, but have made poor choices and bad mistakes. He remarked that the Prison system doesn't always work hand-in-hand with the Chaplaincy, and can be an ongoing issue. The ACLU has also become involved.

The Chaplains deal with the task at hand, behavioral issues, help prisoners get education of the social norms that have taken place, and getting a job afterwards.

Pastor Nedberg presented many serious and thought-provoking statistics, as of July and September study:

In the Indiana Dept. of Correction, there are 21 adult institutions—population 28,805, average per diem $53.96. Male 91.1 %, Female 8.9%.

Race/Ethnicity—White 57.4%, Black 37.2%, Hispanic 4.6%. others less than 1%.

Average age at intake—32.5. Currently 36.3. Currently there are 8,000 prisoners included in the 26.5% of those serving a 20 years sentence.

Concerning Juveniles: 63% of juvenile prisoners now have had a parent in prison.

41% of kids starting in jail go on to Prison.

There are 6 Juvenile facilities with approx. 708 population, average Per Diem (FY09) $173.02. Male 88.7 %, Female 11.3%. White 55.3%, black 34.2%, Hispanics 6.1%, others 4.4%.

Average age of intake 16.3 years old, currently 16.8 years. 14.9% of Juvenile populations have one or more drug offenses. Meth has become one of the most offensive and addictive drugs of all, and ruins many lives.

GENEALOGY REPORT

SCARBOROUGH

Barbara Ruth Scarborough, age 78, of Huntington, passed away at 4:30 a.m. Monday (November 1, 2010) at her home.

Barbara was born November 1, 1932 in Wells County, the daughter of Doyle and Pearl (Minnick) Pursifull. She graduated from Rock Creek High School in 1950 and went on to attend International Business College.

Barbara married Glen G. Scarborough on May 26, 1957 at the Trinity United Methodist Church in Huntington. Glen preceded her in death on October 18, 2006.

Barbara retired in 1995, after 28 years, from Scarborough Produce, Inc. Prior to that she worked for Sears Roebuck & Co., and Peru Production Credit. Barbara was a member of the Trinity United Methodist Church in Huntington. She loved I.U. basketball and football, and traveling.

She is survived by four brothers – Carl (Joan) Pursifull of Markle, Loyal (Betty) Pursifull of Markle, James Pursifull of St. Peter, Minnesota, and Vern (Martha) Pursifull of Huntington; one brother-in-law – Virgil Scher of Huntington; one sister-in-law – June Pursifull of Warren; and several nieces and nephews. She is preceded in death by her parents, husband, one brother – Doyle Pursifull and one sister –

Geraldine Scher.

Services were held Saturday (November 6, 2010) at the Bailey-Love Mortuary with Beverly Bennett officiating. Burial was in the Mt. Hope Cemetery, Huntington.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Bailey-Love Mortuary, 35 West Park Drive, Huntington, IN 46750.

WILLIAMS

A former principal at Southern Wells, Robert F. Williams, 78, of Indianapolis, died peacefully Wednesday, Nov. 3, 2010, after a long battle with Parkinson's Disease.

Bob was born in New Castle on Sept. 7, 1932, to Walter and Lucy (Waters) Williams.

He was a devoted elementary school teacher and principal for more than 40 years, with the last 30 years at Southern Wells Elementary School. He was a member of the Wells County Foundation board of trustees, the Liberty Center Lions Club, and the Liberty Center United Methodist Church. He was an avid sports fan, loving golf and the Cincinnati Reds, and he was the sports announcer for Southern Wells High School football, basketball, and track for many years.

Bob is survived by his loving wife of 56 years, Janice D. Williams; two sons, Brian Williams of Kansas City, Mo., and Christopher (Dixie) Williams of Laguna, N.M.; one daughter, Elizabeth Ball of Indianapolis; three grandchildren Cameron, Susannah, and Andrew Ball; and two sisters Ruth (Wilburne) Stamper of New Castle and Mary Alice Stamper of Anderson.

He was preceded in death by one son, Jeffrey Williams.

A memorial service to celebrate Bob's life will be held at noon, Saturday, Nov. 13, at Franklin Central Christian Church in Indianapolis. A reception will follow the service at the church.

In lieu of flowers, memorial gifts have been suggested to the Michael J. Fox Foundation for Parkinson's Disease Research or to Franklin Central Christian Church.

THANKSGIVING BAR COOKIES

Thanksgiving is such a great holiday because there are no presents to buy, minimal decorations are fine and you get to eat a wonderful meal. How nice it is to have a holiday focused on gratitude for family, friends and good food. And how appropriate that the Thanksgiving dinner table is symbolic of this annual celebration.

"Maybe more than any other holiday, traditional dishes take over the table for Thanksgiving dinner," explains Martha White® baking expert Linda Carman. "However, traditions are about as varied as the families that celebrate them. A tradition is what is meaningful to you and your family even if the tradition is trying something new each year."

Thanksgiving pies are considered traditional, but flavors and recipes may vary among families and regions of the country. If making pies for Thanksgiving does not fit into your schedule, maybe pie-inspired cookie bars would be a good choice, especially since they can be made in advance and frozen until the big day.

Bar Cookies

As a dessert category, bars are hard to define except to say that they are baked in a pan and then cut into squares or bars. After that, the variations are endless and range from single-layered favorites, like brownies and blondies, to multi-layered creations reminiscent of pies or tarts. "Bars made with a buttery crust, creamy filling and sometimes a crisp topping, are a taste and texture sensation," observes Carman. "They can be served as little cookies or cut into larger pieces, topped with whipped cream or ice cream and served as dessert squares."

Holiday Timesavers

Bar cookies are definitely the easiest cookies to make. You don't have to roll out, drop or shape the dough and they are baked in one pan. No endless batches in and out of the oven. If you need to get a head start on holiday baking, most bar cookies can be baked and frozen for up to six months.

Another bar cookie plus is that a 9 x 13-inch pan of cookies can be cut to fit your needs. If you want little bars for a party, you can cut 6 rows down and 6 rows across and get 36 miniature bars from one pan. On the other hand, if you want to serve the bars as a dessert after dinner, the pan may be cut into 3 rows across and 4 down to make 12 larger servings, or any amount in between.

For easy clean up and cutting, line the pan with foil. Turn baking pan upside down and tear off a piece of foil longer than the pan. Shape the foil around the pan and remove then fit the shaped foil into the pan, leaving excess foil to lift cookies out of the pan when cool. If cookies are soft, chill before removing from pan. Remove from pan, pull down foil and cut as desired.

Thanksgiving Pie Bars

Undoubtedly, pumpkin is the most traditional of the Thanksgiving pies and Praline Pumpkin Pie Bars are a delectable version of the classic. The prebaked brown sugar press-in crust is topped with a spicy pumpkin filling and topped off with praline topping. Down South, pecan pie might come in ahead of pumpkin as a Thanksgiving favorite and Pecan Pie Squares are a wonderful alternative. The buttery press-in crust is easy to make and the filling is traditional - no need to tamper with perfection. Chocolate Fudge Pie Bars have an easy press-in chocolate chip crust. The filling is dense and chocolatey enough to please even the most passionate chocolate lovers.

For Thanksgiving dinner, holiday parties or as gifts, these pie-inspired bar cookies are sure to become holiday favorites.

A NATION CALLED GREED

by V Neil Wyrick

It is not by chance that The Preamble to the Constitution of a nation called Greed reads, "To form a more selfish union, establish injustice, insure domestic instability and promote ourselves; we do ordain and establish an avaricious society that will reign forever. The national anthem, that defines this philosophy, does not mince its words. Played to the drumbeat of recorded ancient cash registers and clanking coins, all members proudly stand and belt out "Materialism, to thee we sing." Its currency is, of course, the appropriate color - gleaming green with the words "Gimme" and "Get" rather than in "In God we Trust." The nation called Greed has left no stone unturned.

Walk its piggish streets and you will find extreme distrust and paralyzing fear. In a nation where everyone thinks only of self, how could it be otherwise?

Where does this country exist? Everywhere and anywhere. It has no geographical or religious boundaries; only individual, personal territories. It can as easily be found in the heart of an Arab as in the mind of a Moravian, or the thoughts of an American. However, not everyone is allowed to be a citizen. If you love too much, believe in the sanctity of giving too much, refuse to accept that greed is one of the seven deadly sins you will be refused citizenship. But if you are willing to rewrite the words "peace on earth, good will toward men" to read "pieces of eight and don't make me wait," then you will become another immigrant from the land of charity readily welcomed in.

In this nation called Greed, it is brother against brother, house against house, labor against management and management against labor. All actions and votes in its representative bodies are governed by selfishness. It is mandatory that if you are a butcher you weigh your thumb as well as piece of meat. If you are a student you must pledge not to study and learn. You must rather cheat and stay stupid. When it is time to give, just don't. It is that simple.

And what has that to do with anything? It has to do with our present political situation and what propels proposals and management and labor and health care. It has to do with how much is too much and how little is too little.

And bottom line where our nation is going and what laws will benefit whom and why?

For if the great Roman Empire could fall so can our great nation, the nation about which Ben Franklin said when he had signed the constitution, "I'll give it two hundred years."

I know I love this nation and you my readers love this nation and I would hope we will agree that greed can sink us as nothing else can.

ONLINE GUIDE

With the deer firearms season set to begin on Saturday in Indiana, the Department of Natural Resources has posted a handy Deer Hunting Guide on its website.

Users can scan the 37-page guide online at www.dnr.IN.gov/fishwild/2343.htm, download it to a mobile phone capable of reading PDF files, or print it as a single document.

The guide includes basic information on license requirements, bag and possession limits, season dates, and equipment regulations.

It also has a county-by-county list of public hunting areas, from Yellowwood State Forest in Brown County to Blue Grass Fish & Wildlife Area in Warrick County. The 10-page list includes the property name, phone number, hunting opportunities, available acres, and other amenities, such as camping or shooting range.

In addition to basic information, the guide provides hyperlinks to complete language on hunting rules and regulations in Indiana, plus a hyperlink to a searchable database of mandatory check stations where successful hunters can take their deer.

HOLIDAY SHOPPING SAFETY

You know the holiday shopping season is upon us when surplus Halloween candy is on sale, and there's too much leftover turkey in the fridge. Unfortunately, while most of us are thinking about pumpkin pie and Black Friday bargains, thieves are scheming to take advantage of unlocked cars, unattended houses, and debit/credit numbers flying around the Internet.

Thieves seek targets that are quick and easy to hit. However, by following a few common sense tips, you can make your car, home and self look like a less appealing target.

When shopping in public places, consider:

- Shop during daylight hours, or park in well-lit, high-traffic areas.
- Leave personal valuables at home. If you must leave valuables in your car while shopping, hide them out of sight—in the trunk or stowed under a seat.
- Always lock your car, and close the windows and sunroof.
- Dress casually, and avoid wearing expensive jewelry.
- Avoid carrying large amounts of cash, and pay for purchases with checks or credit cards when possible.

possible.

• Beware of strangers approaching you for any reason. Con artists try various methods of distracting you, while their partners find ways to part you from your valuables.

• Keep a record of all credit card numbers in a safe place at home so that you can contact your credit card provider immediately if a card is lost or stolen.

Your home is another vulnerable spot. Whether making a three-hour trip to the mall or going out-of-state to visit Grandma and Grandpa, don't let the holiday rush make you careless. Your primary goal is to make your house appear occupied.

While away from home:

• Have a neighbor watch your house and pick up mail.

• Keep lights on automatic timers, and keep curtains closed.

• Leave a radio or television on, so the house sounds occupied.

• Don't leave holiday gifts or household valuables visible through windows.

• Don't brag to friends on Facebook or other social media websites that you are out of town.

Finally, when shopping online, continue to apply common sense security:

• Shop secure websites only—those that have visible SSL certificates.

• Shop sites you are familiar with, such as the website of your favorite retail store, or a site frequented by people you know.

• Before visiting new websites, read shopper reviews about the sites.

• Use credit, not debit—especially if your credit card offers buyer protection. The vulnerability of a debit card is that it provides a direct line into your bank account. If a scammer gains access to your debit card number and password, he or she can quickly empty your bank account. By contrast, potential loss via credit card loss is limited by card protection.

ONLINE TURF TIPS

The dry spell that we've had this fall has been appreciated by many people. Farmers have been able to harvest crops at a record pace and folks have been able to enjoy many outdoor activities. The drier than normal weather does have a downside, however, in that it can cause turf decline and more weeds in lawns.

The lack of moisture means that an alternative course of action might be appropriate for fall lawn care jobs such as fertilization, seeding and weed spraying. Aaron Patton, a Purdue Extension Turfgrass Specialist, has been providing on-line "Turf Tips" that are updated regularly. Note that Patton is a fairly recent new hire in the Purdue Agronomy Department.

Typically September is an ideal time to spread fertilizer and to seed lawns. Broadleaf weed control is often best accomplished in October. However, this was not the case this year for most area lawns. Herbicides are less effective on weeds that are drought-stressed and they can possibly hurt established turf in dry weather. Additionally it is best to fertilize turf that has greened up after a rainfall.

If a lawn seeding was delayed due to dry conditions, Patton suggests these alternatives (as of 10/15/10):

• Seed between December and February as a dormant seeding. The seed will lie there dormant (un-germinated) until warm temperatures return in the spring. This option can be effective for both Kentucky bluegrass and tall fescue. For tall fescue it may be worth waiting until late December to seed to ensure that soil temperatures are cool enough to prevent any germination.

• Seed in the spring as early as possible. This option will result a good stand of turf in the spring, but the turf will be weakly rooted heading into summer and will likely have more crabgrass and other summer annuals than other established areas. Additionally, pre-emergence herbicide applications will have to be skipped in spring seeded area and crabgrass instead will need to be controlled post-emergently after the newly seeded turf has developed.

In regards to spraying broadleaf weeds in the lawn, Patton notes that a November application of an herbicide for ground ivy control may be possible for this area of the state. It is very important to read the label of any herbicide closely before an application is made at this time of the year.

Ways to Go Green

(StatePoint) It's easy to approach your favorite activities and those routine chores with a little more thought towards the environment.

"When you look at our daily routines, it's generally pretty easy to find ways to lessen the impact on our environment. No matter what activities you are participating in, anytime is a great time to start," says Josh Radoff, Co-Founder and Principal of YRG Sustainability and member of SCA Tissue's Tork Green Hygiene Council.

Having helped corporate and government clients deal with carbon emissions and climate change, Radoff's ideas can help you tread a little more lightly at home:

• Eliminate single serving items: Bottled beverages require lots of packaging, energy and air and water pollution just to get that liquid to your mouth. Avoid single-serving items and bring a coffee mug and water bottle wherever you go.

• Make your house chemical-free: There are nearly 80,000 chemicals in conventional cleaning products. Most end up down the drain or in our bodies. Use green cleansers, providing safer alternatives.

• Get out of your car: Consider biking or walking to the grocery store, to work, for shopping and everywhere in range. Use mass transit when possible.

• Avoid purchasing new stuff: Thrift stores and garage and yard sales are great. Put the "reuse" back in Reduce, Reuse, Recycle. And when buying necessities, say no to plastic bags. Use reusable grocery and produce bags. Purchase groceries in bulk to reduce packaging waste.

• Eat local and organic: Purchase local meat, fruit, veggies, and grains from your farmers' market, sign up for a Community Supported Agriculture program or choose local food at supermarkets. This supports local farmers and lessens transportation energy. Get really local and start a vegetable garden!

• Don't hog energy: Don't keep the heat running when you aren't at home. Keep the thermostat down on cold days and wear a sweater instead. If purchasing new appliances, buy Energy Star qualified. Also, incandescent light bulbs use lots of energy; switching to fluorescent bulbs lessens energy consumption.

• Get earthy: Visit a farm or hike through a national or state park. Nothing inspires like a little dirt and nature.

So make some changes and go green in your daily life!
