ALUMNI BOOKS

What enthusiasm two girls had that once lived as neighbors across the street from the Warren High School. They were going to compile a book to surpass all books on the education of students that attended Warren and Jefferson high schools.

Out of dedication and love for their Alma Mater and Alumni the work began. The response from the community was good.

Since Jefferson was part of the Warren school a short time it was only fair they be included. Also many of the graduates had chosen their life mates from one or the other school.

One idea would spring another. Instead of not having enough information we had too much. What a disappointment. We had driven around the two townships taking pictures of the remains and remaining district schools. I had acquired maps on the locations of the nine buildings in each township, with enough information to put a name with the eighteen schools. Could have listed all the teachers who taught in the district schools in Salamonie Township.

Space was limited, not all histories of the churches could be printed in completion. The printer suggested we omit the ministers. This was one of the main reasons we wanted to include the churches, names of the men of the cloth that served in our community.

Information on the early Warren Community Building that stood where the Citizens Telephone office now stands. (Why it wouldn't be acceptable for a gym today.)

You'll have to come to the museum for more information. We will be glad to share additional information.

Thank you for your purchase of the books. Hopefully we will be able to purchase the air conditioner for the museum for your comfort when you come to visit. Also another thank you to those who contributed in excess of the books to help on the air conditioner. With deep gratitude Mary Emma and Joan.

We are so sorry the first printing of the books are falling apart. The card stock paper is to heavy. The printer suggested to us to use the card stock, because it would enhance the pictures. He ordered the hard back cover to surprise us. They are lovely, but the glue used didn't seem to hold the pages in place.

If your book falls apart the printer promised to stand behind the books. Put your name inside the book and return then to Radical Designs, Inc. 315 North Jefferson St. Huntington, In. (just two doors north of the county court house.) Call 260-355-0000.

We are planning on being at the United Methodist Home Friday March 18, hours 16:00 to 4:00for pick up and sales. Hopefully you will be able to get your book at that time. If not call Mary 375-2062 or Joan 375-3104 and make arrangements for pick up another time and place.

DAFFODILS

Don't forget to get your daffodils from Lilly this Friday at the United Methodist Memorial Home. She will be available all day in the UMMH Post Office area. What a great way to bring some lovely spring color into your home and support a great cause in the process. All profits go to support the American Cancer Society.

POPCORN MEETING

The Van Buren Popcorn Festival Committee met at the Van Buren School on March 8. The Theme of the 2005 festival will be Our Home Town - Van Buren. Some new events planned for 2005 are a tractor show, a bike tour, and a Saturday mid-morning parade. The next planning meeting will be April 11 at 6:30 at the Van Buren School. Help is needed in all areas of the festival planning. Please be there to provide your help, Thanks.

AG DAY

Everything that we use comes from either agriculture, or mining. So, at this year's Ag Day (March 24 at Hier's Park) the Purdue Cooperative Extension office will be talking about by products from the raw materials gleaned through agriculture. Close to 500 of Huntington County's third grade students will be brought to Hier's Park to spend two hours learning about the importance of agriculture in

GET ON THE (GREEN) BANDWAGON: CELEBRATE ST. PATRICK'S DAY

Retailers are beginning to love St Patrick's Day. They're selling more than green beer and bagels. You could get a St Pat's T shirt, a green hat, green socks (for the more conservative), a CD or Irish music, or a cookbook of traditional Irish meals.

Driving the interest is the large number of non-Irish celebrating the holiday. About 110 million consumers will mark St Patrick's Day this year by doing such things as wearing the green at work or dining at an Irish pub.

Kansas City, MO-based Hallmark Cards has offered St Patrick's Day cards for many years. This year there will be more than 100 varieties. It ranks St Patrick's Day as its ninth-most popular day. Valentine's Day and Mother's Day rank first and second. Hallmark sales are best in Boston with its large concentration of Irish Americans. It's where one of the first American celebrations was held in 1737.

One reason it has become so popular: St Patrick's Day gives people a chance to have a good time at parades, at work, and at evening celebrations. Remember that old saying, "Everybody's Irish on St Patrick's Day!"

Prepare for Fall Drought in Spring

Healthy lawns that have been fed four or five times a year will be strong enough to survive up to a couple of months with no water. Feeding your lawn while we are getting spring rain will strengthen the grass and help it to grow new roots. Use a brand you can trust to feed your lawn with a specially controlled, slow feeding that will work gradually over a couple of months. Follow the directions.

Mow your grass taller. By adjusting your mower to a higher setting, you will help the lawn grow deeper roots to match the increased blade growth. A taller lawn with deeper roots will be able to find moisture and endure hot, dry weather.

Get rid of crabgrass, dandelions and other aggressive weeds. They steal what little water there is from your grass during dry weeks. The first spring application of weed-and-feed type fertilizer prevents crabgrass. The second application feeds while getting rid of dandelions and other weeds.

If you are able to water your grass, water long enough to get moisture deep into the soil. Lawns need about one inch of water a week. Shallow watering creates shallow roots.

Use a rain gauge to determine how much water you should provide to come up to one inch. That is, if it has rained half an inch during the week, you need to provide the balance, or another half inch.

Soybeans seem to be in everything, including disinfectants, electrical insulation, fungicides, paints, antibiotics, leather substitutes and even polyester fabric. The list goes on and on.

Pharmaceuticals rank second only to meat itself in the important contributions hogs make to society. Only a few years ago, we depended primarily on hogs as a source of many of our vital medical products and in many cases we still do. But rapidly advancing science and technology not only have discovered many new life-supporting, lifesaving products that we get from hogs, but have discovered ways to supplement the supply of many of the natural medicinal products with synthetics.

Did you know that the blood of pigs is in the adhesive used to make plywood. Their blood albumen is used in fabric printing and in fabric dyes. The dried bones of several different farm animals is used in the creation of bone china. Fatty acids from animals and glycerine is used in cement, weed killers, rubber, cellophane and again insulation. Pig gall stones are used in the making of ornaments. Their adrenal glands are used in cortisone Lanolin from the wool of sheep and goats is another by product that is very useful in cosmetics, motor oils, adhesive tape and printing inks, to list just a few.

Industrial uses of corn include the making of rayon. Com starch is in numerous products, including dry cell batteries, surgical dressings and even rubber tires; not to mention the vast uses in pharmaceutical products and, of course, baked goods. The dextrose from corn is in rayon and is even a part of antibiotics.

This is a very short list of by products from agriculture. As the third grade students move through fourteen stations, the speakers have visual aids and we have displays made by Huntington College students showing by products. To reinforce the lessons of Ag Day each student will also receive an activity book of additional information and many other pieces of educational materials supplied by over 20 donors.

The public is invited to stop by. Half of Huntington County's third graders will go through the stations starting at 9:30 am and end around 11:30. The other half of the students will begin at 11:45 and be finished by 2pm. This is a cooperative effort of your Huntington County Purdue Cooperative Extension Office and over 40 volunteers.

RED CROSS MONTH

The Huntington County American Red Cross participates in celebrating Red Cross Month.

As part of our local celebration, we are offering free, inhouse Disaster Preparedness seminars to any Huntington County business or organization that would like its employees, members, volunteers or clients to learn how to prepare for disasters of all types. Participants will learn the five simple action steps necessary to prepare their businesses and homes for a natural or man made disaster. These presentations do not have to be done in March, but we would like to schedule them during Red Cross month.

To schedule a presentation for your group or company, please call the Huntington County American Red Cross at 356-2910.

The Huntington Chapter is funded 100% by the donations and support of individuals and businesses in Huntington County. Donations made to Huntington Red Cross can be mailed to: Huntington Red Cross, 354 N. Jefferson St. Suite 203, Huntington, IN 46750.

CPR CLASS

The Huntington County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be having a CPR for the Professional Rescuer class on March 26th, 2005 9am – 5pm at 354 N. Jefferson Street (2nd floor of the Courthouse Annex in the meeting room).

Participants will learn how to check a victim for consciousness, how to perform rescue breathing, conscious and unconscious obstructed airway procedures, and cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) on an adult, child and infant for one rescuer and two rescuer.

The American Red Cross is the leader in lifesaving training and is committed to ensuring that each class reflects the latest scientific research. This course is specifically designed for people whose employment requires them to respond in the event of an emergency (allied health care professionals, firemen, EMT's, law enforcement, park rangers, physicians, nurses, security personnel, lifeguards, athletic trainers, Camp Leaders, First Aid Teams, first responders, and etc). The Red Cross provides visual, auditory, and manual learning tools to increase your learning process. The training is standardized and recognized by many national, state and local authorities. GET DIRTY HANDS

Coming April 9, Purdue Extension - Grant County will host an advanced Master Gardener Training entitled, "Get Your Hands Dirty!" The event will feature the topics of plant propagation, soil testing, and container gardening. Open only to Purdue Master Gardeners and Master Gardener Interns, registration will be from 8:30-9:00 a.m., and the program will run from 9:00 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. at the Grant County 4-H Fairgrounds. Light refreshments will be available, but lunch will not be served. "This is a hands-on training," said John Woodmansee, Extension Educator for Purdue Extension in Grant County, "You will get your hands dirty!" Woodmansee says one of the goals of the program is not only to learn about these subjects, but to spark an aspiration to teach these subjects to others as a Master Gardener volunteer. The program cost is $20 if registered by April 1, and $25 at the door. At least 15 people must be pre-registered to hold the event. If you decide to participate after April 1, please con-

Power Wheelchairs

Wishes on Wheels makes available Power (Electric) Wheelchairs to non-ambulatory Senior Citizens (65 years old & up) usually at no out-of-pocket expense if they qualify. No deposit required.

The electric wheelchairs are provided to those who cannot walk and can not self-propel a manual wheelchair in their home or independent living quarters and who meet the additional qualifications of the program. This service may also be available to the permanently disabled of any age.

Please call 1.800.823.6220 or visit our web site at www.threewishes2.com for more information on the details of this program.

The Wishes on Wheels program's main purpose and goal is to develop public awareness that there are assistance options that allow senior citizens (as well as permanently disabled) to remain independent in their own homes. Without this awareness and assistance, the family may prematurely choose a nursing home or make an unnecessary retail purchase on power mobility equipment.

GUARD INFORMATION

Tax time can be frustrating enough without finding your discarded financial records landed in the hand of an identity thief, warns the Indians Crime Prevention Coalition.

"After you've gathered all your important financial documents to prepare for Uncle Sam, take extra care in storing or destroving the information once you've tiled your returns," said Scott Minier, ICPC's executive director.

An estimated seven million Americans were victims of identity theft in 2003. On average, each victim suffered $92,893 in losses and spent $1,495 and more than 600 hours to recover from the thefts, according to national studies.

"Unfortunately, those figures do not even include lawyers' fees to fend-off unwarranted, illegitimate bill collectors," Minier said. "So time and money spent to safeguard yourself is a drop in the bucket compared to the losses. And remember, most identity thieves are strangers, but many are co-workers, relatives or roommates, exes and caregivers."

Minier, himself a victim, gives these tips:

Bank records: Safely keep cancelled checks related to taxes, business expenses for which you will be reimbursed, major purchases, and housing or mortgage payments - Shred receipts or statements with no long-term importance.

Bills: Safely keep bills until cancelled checks arrive. Then shred the bill. However, keep and safely store all paperwork from major purchases in case of loss or damage. Also safely keep bills and proof of payment on any prepaid arrangements (weddings, catering, vacations, funeral, etc,).

BATTLE OF THE BOOKS

Battle of the Books is sponsored annually by Huntington City-Township Public Library as a way to encourage young adults in grades 6-8 to develop the habit of reading for personal enjoyment and enrichment and to challenge the student to read carefully for content. The Library's goal in providing the Battle of the Books program is to expose young adults to quality literature that has had an impact on American culture at the time of its publication, and has proved to be an enduring part of cultural literacy (classics). The Battle of the Books competition provides an environment where those students who excel in reading are rewarded. The Library has chosen to use the National Endowment for the Humanities lists and the Newbery Award lists as the primary sources for selections. In addition, a few newer books with notable literature awards are introduced through the program. This year marks the twenty-first year of the Battle of the Books.
