BINGO FUNDRAISER

The Grant County 4-H Council will be hosting a Bingo Fundraiser featuring Vera Bradley, Thirty-One, Longaberger and Celebrating Home on Monday, September 8, 2014 at 6:30 p.m. at the Grant County 4-H Fairgrounds Community Building. Doors open at 5:30 p.m. Games start at 6:30 p.m. Advance tickets are $12.00 and available at the Grant County Extension Office (765-651-2413). Cost at the door will be $15.00.

All funds raised will go to the Grant County 4-H Council for support of the 4-H program.

Please mark your calendars!

FROM TOWN HALL

UPDATE: Contractors working on The Indiana Department of Transportation project on SR 5 have released a new time line. Due to weather delays, delays in getting supplies and other related delays, the removal of the culvert box is now scheduled for Tuesday, September 2nd with the project to be completed within twenty five days. The Majenica project was scheduled to be completed on Friday, August 29th.

UPDATE: Engineering work has not been completed in preparation for alley paving. Once completed, the length of time to allow for advertisement and bidding will be approximately six weeks. Check the website at warrenindiana.us for any updates prior to the October newsletter.

Citizen's Telephone/Cable/Internet is in the process of laying fiber optic cable throughout the Town. If you have markings in your yard or along the street it may be utility locates but it does not necessarily mean the cable will be placed in that area. As there are several projects going on at present, here is a list of color indicators that are universally used for locates: Yellow - Gas, Orange - Phone, Blue - Water, Purple - Cable/TV, Green - Sewer, Red - Electric.

Power Outages: Please do not hesitate to call when experiencing a power outage once you have determined it is not your problem. You may be the only one out of power and if not reported, response will be delayed. On weekdays (8-4:30), call the office at 375-2656. Otherwise, call the Utility Garage at 375-3424. If no one answers immediately and the answering machine is on, please leave a message. If no answering machine, let it ring several times until someone answers.

Labor Day: Office, Utilities Closed. Trash collection delayed to Friday, Sept 5

FARMERS MARKET

If your wondering we are still up and going at the Warren Farmers Market. We will be there this Saturday from 8-11. Hope you can come out to see us! We will have plenty of produce egg plant, green peppers, tomatoes, squash and potatoes to list a few. Baked goods will consist of some garlic parmesan bread, doughnuts, cookies and cinnamon rolls. Hope you have a great Labor Day and take some time to enjoy your family.

Market Meal - Meat of choice, Stuffed green peppers (Shakes produce), Baked ranch potatoes (Charles Grizzle's produce), Italian Sweet Bread (Crums by Kristi Mounsey), Melons from Daugherty produce.

PRaise NIGHT

Healing Waters Ministries is having a Praise Night August 31 from 6 to 8 p.m. We are located in Majenica.

There will be snacks and plenty of good singing, poems and maybe a surprise. We are all brothers and sisters in Christ. We will be singing our praise to God with music.

We would like for you to come and enjoy and fellowship with us during these two hours.

GOAT MEETING

The Huntington County Goat Association will meet Tuesday, August 26, 7:30 pm at Lancaster Wesleyan Church, Lancaster, 3147 W 543 S. The association will discuss the 2014 4-H Fair, any possible rule changes for the 2015 4-H year and begin planning for activities for the 2015 4-H Year. All are welcome to attend the meeting including anyone who has participated in the Huntington County 4-H goat project.

For more information, contact Purdue Extension - Huntington County office, located at 354 N Jefferson Street - Suite 202, Courthouse Annex, Huntington or calling 260-358-4826 or email jwickert@purdue.edu.

BLOOD DRIVE

The American Red Cross encourages eligible donors to help ensure a stable and diverse blood supply by giving blood in honor of National Sickle Cell Awareness Month this September.

Sickle cell disease is an inherited disease that causes red blood cells to form an abnormal crescent shape. It is estimated that sickle cell disease affects as many as 100,000 people in the U.S. Many of these patients face a lifetime of blood transfusions to help reduce the risk of stroke, damage to major organs and other complications that can arise as a result of sickle cell disease.

Since blood from donors of the same ethnic background as the recipient is less likely to cause complications, the Red Cross must maintain a diverse blood supply. This is particularly important for patients like those with sickle cell disease who may require regular blood transfusions.

To help increase donations during the month of September, those who come out to donate blood or platelets throughout the month will receive a coupon by email for a free haircut at participating Sport Clips locations.

For more information or to make an appointment to donate blood, visit redcrossblood.org or call 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

Upcoming blood donation opportunities:

Wells County

Wednesday, September 3 from 9:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. at Southern Wells High School, 9120 South 300 West in Poneto.

HOLIDAY HOURS

Don Snemis, Commissioner of the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles (BMV), announced today that all BMV license branches will be closed Saturday, Aug. 30 through Monday, Sept. 1 in observance of the Labor Day holiday.

All license branches will resume their regularly scheduled business hours on Tuesday, Sept. 2. For a complete list of branch locations and hours, visit mybm.com.

STANLEY SISTERS

For the 23rd consecutive year, the Stanley sisters packed their vans and traveled together for their vacation. It was sad that we had to travel without our two oldest sisters, Jean and Laura, as they are both confined to nursing homes.

Again we spent the week at sister Evelyn's friend's summer home at a lake in Michigan. They are so generous and gracious to allow us to use it. The home is absolutely beautiful with a very large balcony across the back of the home looking out upon a lake. The home has ample bedrooms and bathrooms for all of us. The large living area has plenty of room for everyone to gather for dining, watching TV, lounging, playing games and working on our puzzles.

We arrived at the lake Saturday afternoon and immediately had an invitation to dinner at the home of niece Diane & Dan's. They have invited us to their home several times in the past, but this time was special ... they got to "show off" their first grandchild Marshall. He lived up the party with his smile and baby charm. Of course we had to take lots of pictures, which Diane sent electronically to get printed so we each got copies for our memory book.

Since we are all senior citizens, we don't travel around as much as previous years, but just enjoy spending time together. It takes longer for everyone to get up of a morning and "get in gear" (find our dentures, glasses, medicine, etc).

Probably the "highlight" of each day is our devotional period following breakfast. We open our

WHAT IS LABOR DAY?

From people.howstuffworks.com

For a lot of people, Labor Day means two things: a day off and the end of summer. But why is it called Labor Day? Labor Day is a day set aside to pay tribute to working men and women. It has been celebrated as a national holiday in the United States and Canada since 1894.

Labor unions themselves celebrated the first labor days in the United States, although there's some speculation as to exactly who came up with the idea. Most historians credit Peter McGuire, general secretary of the Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners and a cofounder of the American Federation of Labor, with the original idea of a day for workers to show their solidarity. Others credit Matthew Maguire, later the secretary of Local 344 of the International Association of Machinists in Paterson, N.J.

The first Labor Day parade occurred Sept. 5, 1882, in New York City. The workers' unions chose the first Monday in September because it was halfway between Independence Day and Thanksgiving. The idea spread across the country, and some states designated Labor Day as a holiday before the federal holiday was created.

President Grover Cleveland signed a law designating the first Monday in September as Labor Day nationwide. This is interesting because Cleveland was not a labor union supporter. In fact, he was trying to repair some political damage that he suffered earlier that year when he sent federal troops to put down a strike by the American Railway Union at the Pullman Co. in Chicago, IL. That action resulted in the deaths of 34 workers.

In European countries, China and other parts of the world, May Day, the first day in May, is a holiday to celebrate workers and labor unions. Before it became an international workers holiday, May Day was a celebration of spring and the promise of summer.

Membership in labor unions in the United States reached an all-time high in the 1950s when about 40 percent of the work force belonged to unions. Today, union membership is about 14 percent of the working population. Labor Day now carries less significance as a celebration of working people and more as the end of summer. Schools, government offices and businesses are closed on Labor Day so people can get in one last trip to the beach or have one last cookout before the weather starts to turn colder.

hearts up to each other with lots of discussions and "caring & sharing time." It is our "sister time" as we reminisce about our years of growing up as a family. We also enjoy singing together our favorite hymns accompanied by the piano music of Barry Jamison, which he recorded for us.

We planned to go the Shipshewana Flea Market on Tuesday, however, due to the rain we had to wait and go on Wednesday. After lunch several of us headed back to the lake, while some stayed to finish their shopping.

Thursday was a day of rest and relaxation. After our lunch of delicious home-made chicken & noodles, vegetables and zucchini pie, we played games, worked on jigsaw and crossword puzzles. We don't really assign any certain one to fix meals, but we usually bring "fixings" with us. When meal time comes two or three gals appear in the kitchen and soon the meal is on the table.

Several of us went to sister Evelyn's home and toured her many rooms with beautiful collector dolls and accessories. They are all special to her and it seems most of them have a story about them.

Our vacation was shortened as sisters, Pat & Kate each had a grandchild getting married on Saturday and they needed to be home for the occasion. We got up early on Friday and everyone pitched in after breakfast and we cleaned the home until it was spotless, packed our clothes and left about 10:30 am for home. Of course we had to stop at a couple of stores to shop and have lunch, arriving in Warren mid-afternoon.

Those enjoying the vacation were Evelyn Lindstrom, Pat Furnish, Mary Shaw, Janet Daugherty, Mona Pinkerton, Brenda Kendall, Kate King, and Rita Benefiel. Thanks to Lynn, Dave, Jim, Gene and Glen for letting us share the week with our sisters.

COUNCIL NOTES

The Van Buren Town Council held their August 20 meeting in the Council Room at Town Hall. At 7 p.m. president Marvin Surber opened the meeting. All in attendance repeated the Pledge to the American Flag.

Letters are expected to be sent to a number of property owners to clean up their properties which are not up to town code.

Officer Pat Collins gave the Police report. He said the Department had received a grant of more than $1,000 to help in the purchase of bullet proof vests.

Collins reported things went well at the Popcorn Festival.

Donnie Plummer gave the utility report. It is necessary that updates be made to the water plant. The cost is expected to exceed $30,000. He gave quotes for the project.

The meters had been read in August.

Council approved the purchase of new tools for the Department.

The next Council meeting will be September 3.

STORM DAMAGE

Severe storms hit the Van Buren area early Friday morning producing heavy rain, thunder, lightning and wind. It is reported that damage included downed tree limbs and water damage.

MONDAY GOLF

The Monday golf league is finished for another year. Here are the results after 12 weeks of play.

First place- Jeff Souder & Mike Merriman

Second place tie- Bill Couch &

Don Zent, Jack Harmon & the late Pat Shuttleworth

Third place- Norman Hiser & Don Carroll

Fourth place tie- Dave Crockett & Jim Hunnicutt, Steve Jackson & Darren Jackson

Fifth place- Dick Lintner & Dick Hinton

Sixth place tie- Ted Reinke & Bill Dunfee, Dan Poulson & Larry Blackmond

Seventh place- Larry Langdon & Dick Frederick

Eighth place- Bud Lee & Jim Slaughter

Ninth place- Lynn Bonewitz & Randy Potter

The season ending dinner was held on Monday, Aug. 25th, after a best ball scramble and a Pink Lady Game.

Winners in the scramble were: First place- Zent, Blackmond, & Langdon

Second Place- Harmon, Crockett, Couch & Hinton

Third Place- Merriman, Hunnicutt, Hiser & Bonewitz
Winners in the Pink Lady Game were:

First Place- Souder, Frederick, Reinke, & Lee

Second Place- Harmon, Crockett, Couch & Hinton

Third Place- Poulson, Lintner & Dunfee

Come and join us next year!

SENIOR SCRAMBLE

Results from Thursday, August 14th at Dogwood Glen. First Place(32): Dennis Brubaker, Jack Harmon, Charles Harris, Jim Sparks. Second Place(33): Bill Couch, Keith Duckwall, Joe Gilbert, Jeff Souder. Closest to the Pin: #3 Charles Harris, #6 Charles

Harris. Thank you to Huggy Bear Ice Cream Stop for sponsoring this week's golf balls.

POOL TOURNEY

There were 20 residents in the August 21st pool tournament at Heritage Pointe. The winners were Elwood Karchner and Dick "Corncob" Hinton. Second place went to Mel Dooley and Bill Couch. Dick "Popcorn" Lintner apparently didn't get his nap quite finished beforehand. He was sitting on one of the stools beside the door, fell asleep and banged up his head and cheek. This shows you how exciting our afternoon's get around here!! We all said it's a good thing he wasn't driving his GOLF CART!! We heard he would do anything to get attention from the nurses, and a kiss on the forehead from a "higher power". The in-house play is held every Friday at 1:30 in the Fults recreation room.

WALK FOR CURE

Join the American Cancer Society's Making Strides Against Breast Cancer Walk

Take us one step closer to finding a cure for breast cancer. WATERFOWL DATES

The regular-season waterfowl dates, as proposed to the United States Fish and Wildlife Service (USFWS) by the Indiana DNR, are listed below.

The dates are not final until approved by the USFWS in mid-to late-September. Look for another announcement around that time that will either confirm or amend these dates. Historically, they have been accepted as proposed.

The DNR's recommended dates for ducks, coots and mergansers are:

— North Zone: Oct. 18 to Dec. 7, and Dec. 20 to 28

— Central Zone: Oct. 25 to Dec. 7, and Dec. 20 to Jan. 4

— South Zone: Nov. 1-9, and Nov. 29 to Jan. 18

The daily bag limit for ducks in all zones is six, including no more than four mallards (of which no more than two can be hens), three scaup, three wood ducks, two pintails, two redheads, one canvasback, one black duck, and one mottled duck. The daily bag limit for coots is 15. The daily bag limit for mergansers, separate from ducks, is five, of which no more than two can be hooded mergansers. The possession limit is three times the daily bag limit.

The USFWS estimates the mallard breeding population at 10.9 million, about the same as last year, and 42 percent higher than the long-term average. Estimates of most species were similar to last year's record-setting estimates. Total ducks, gadwalls, green- and blue-winged teal, shovelers, and redheads remain at or near record levels in 2014.

For Canada geese, white-fronted geese, brant, and light geese, the proposed dates are:

— North Zone: Oct. 18 to Nov. 9; Nov. 27 to Jan. 4; and Jan. 20 to 31

— Central Zone: Oct. 25 to Dec. 7; Dec. 20 to Jan. 4; and Jan. 18 to 31

— South Zone: Nov. 1-10, and Nov. 29 to Jan. 31

The daily bag limit this year for Canada geese during the regular season will remain at three, and the daily bag limit for white-fronted geese at two. The daily bag limit for brant is one. The possession limit is three times the daily bag limit. The daily bag limit for light geese (snow and/or Ross' geese in aggregate) is 20, with no possession limit for light geese.

The proposed late season for Canada geese is Feb. 1-15. The counties open during the late season are: Adams, Allen, Boone, Clay, DeKalb, Elkhart, Greene, Hamilton, Hancock, Hendricks, Huntington, Johnson, Kosciusko, LaPorte, LaGrange, Madison, Marion, Marshall, Morgan, Noble, Parke, St. Joseph, Shelby, Steuben, Starke, Sullivan, Vermillion, Vigo, Wells and Whitley.

A permit is no longer required to participate in this late season, and geese harvested during this season no longer need to be taken to a check station.

The daily bag limit during the late Canada goose season has been reduced to three, with a possession limit of nine. This bag limit reduction is due to a decline in Indiana's breeding population of Canada geese, probably due in large part to the success of this late season. We are now at our state goal of 80,000 spring geese.

The proposed light goose conservation order is Feb. 1 to March 31, statewide, except for those counties that have a late season on Canada geese. For those counties with a late season on Canada geese, the proposed light goose conservation order season is Feb. 16 to March 31. The light goose conservation order has no bag or possession limit. A free permit is required. Details will be available later in the winter.

The DNR's recommended dates for youth waterfowl season are:

—North Zone: Oct. 11-12
—Central Zone: Oct. 18-19
—South Zone: Oct. 25-26
Bag and possession limits are the same as the regular seasons. The youth waterfowl season is open to youths age 15 and younger, accompanied by an adult.

DNR's recommended dates for extended falconry season for ducks, coots and mergansers are:

—North Zone: Sept. 27-30, and Feb. 14 to March 10
—Central Zone: Oct. 18-24, and Feb. 17 to March 10
—South Zone: Oct. 25-31, and Feb. 17 to March 10

For more information, contact Adam Phelps, DNR Division of Fish & Wildlife, at (812) 334-1137 or aphelps@dnr.in.gov.

NEW TREATMENT

Among the top ten causes of death for people over the age of sixty, according to Fort Wayne Doctor Richard E. Busch, III, are accidental falls. The same fall that a younger person can just shake off, can lead to complications and death for senior citizens.

The good news, according to Dr. Busch, is that many of these falls can be prevented. The most common reasons for falls among people over 60 is a loss of balance, often caused by numbness brought on by nerve damage from diabetes, chemotherapy, or exposure to chemicals and pesticides years earlier. This nerve damage is called neuropathy.

Neuropathy usually manifests itself in one of two ways. First, is numbness, similar to what happens when you leg or arm goes to "sleep." The second is tingling or burning, similar to what it feels like when you're "sleeping" arm or leg starts to wake up. While the tingling is annoying, even painful, the numbness is more dangerous because it often causes the patient to lose their balance since they can no longer feel their feet on the ground. This leads to falls, and falls lead to serious medical problems, even death.

"Some of the treatments that are being used nationally can actually damage the nerve" states Dr. Busch. "The Neuropathy Treatment Protocol™ we offer at the Busch Chiropractic Pain Center in Fort Wayne, IN uses a combination of light therapy, cold laser, nutrition and physical therapy to stimulate the nerve and offers a better outcome for the patient."

With treatment, the symptoms, including burning pain, numbness & tingling, start to go away, which in turn increases a person's sense of balance, preventing needless falls. "Further," says Dr. Busch, "neuropathy patients need follow up care, because the root of the problem, usually diabetes, can't be cured, and it doesn't go away."

In addition to preventing falls which can lead to broken hips and ultimately complications that can cause death, treating neuropathy can prevent amputations as well. Dr. Busch says he has treated patients with ulcers on their feet who have been told their only option was amputation. Through his treatments, the blood supply to the foot was restored, and the sores healed, allowing the foot to return to a normal state.

The fact is, there is no reason with today's technology for a person over sixty to fall, break a hip, lose a limb, or die from complications due to a fall, not if the reason for all of the above is neuropathy. The Busch Chiropractic Pain Center has had great success in treating who suffer with diabetic neuropathy, chemotherapy induced neuropathy, and mechanical neuropathies with the Neuropathy Treatment Protocol™.

Dr. Busch recommends that people over sixty be screened for neuropathy symptoms. The earlier they are discovered, the easier it is to treat, and the sooner that person can resume a safer lifestyle in their own homes.

About the Busch Chiropractic Pain Center

The Busch Chiropractic Pain Center in Fort Wayne offers safe, effective, and non-surgical treatments for the relief of low back pain, neck pain, and the pain and numbness of neuropathy. Busch Chiropractic is a "Patient Centered Healthcare" clinic focusing the relief from chronic pain conditions and is a member of the Neuropathy Treatment Centers of America (NeuroTCA).

ARCHAEOLOGY MONTH

Indiana Archaeology Month in September will highlight the state's utopian communities.

Archaeology Month is an opportunity to celebrate and learn about Indiana archaeology. A variety of events for all ages are held every September by universities, museums, organizations and individuals throughout the state. The Indiana DNR Division of Historic Preservation & Archaeology coordinates Archaeology Month.

During the early decades of the 19th century, some people attempted to establish utopian communities in Indiana. For example, the Shakers established Busro or West Union in Knox County, and New Harmony in Posey County was the site of two early-American utopian communities—the religious Harmonie Society (the Harmonists) and later the secular Owenites.

Archaeological investigations have taught us much about the way people lived at sites of these communal societies.

"Archaeology provides us with a unique opportunity to look into our past," said Cameron Clark, DNR director and State Historic Preservation Officer. "Archaeology Month helps bring attention to those who open windows to our past and to where some of those windows can be found, such as West Union and New Harmony."

"I encourage everyone to take the time to learn more about where and how Hoosiers lived years ago."

Archaeologists have recorded more than 64,000 sites in Indiana since the early 1800s, helping to shape public understanding of the prehistoric and historic people who also called this land home.

A schedule of events and additional information for this year's Archaeology Month can be found at dnr.in.gov/historic, or by contacting Amy Johnson at ajohnson@dnr.in.gov or (317) 232-6982.

The commemorative poster and shirt designs this year show artifacts and features from New Harmony. Shirts are $6 and can be purchased from the DNR Customer Service Center at (317)

VENISON DONATIONS

A program that allows hunters to give deer meat to the public will continue again this fall.

GiveIN Game, the DNR Division of Fish & Wildlife's venison donation program, will be available for its fourth year. Hunters who are willing to donate venison and people who would like to receive venison can begin registering on Sept. 1 at wildlife.IN.gov/7240.htm.

GiveIN Game makes it easy for people to connect and set up a free exchange on their own schedule. Selling, bartering or trading for venison is illegal.

After several years of watching the program grow, Chad Stewart, DNR's deer management biologist, decided to donate venison himself.

"The system was incredibly easy to use, and I found the interaction with people needing venison highly rewarding," he said. "They were incredibly grateful, and I'm looking forward to participating again next year."

The program had 675 participants last year, with the number of people requesting venison more than five times greater than those offering to donate venison.

Both hunters and recipients have an option of donating or requesting any amount of venison in all conditions, from field-dressed animals to packaged venison.

"GiveIN Game is a unique program that allows hunters to donate wild game in a non-traditional way," said Mark Reiter, DNR Fish & Wildlife director. "While many other programs focus on food banks and charitable organizations distributing venison to needy families, GiveIN Game provides a new avenue for those that enjoy venison but do not have the opportunity to harvest the deer themselves."

Previous participants must re-register every year, if they want to continue participating.

KEEP GROWING WITH

SEASON-EXTENDING

GARDENING TIPS FOR FALL

(BPT) - Warm weather, continued care and robust plants have yielded a bounty of beautiful, fresh vegetables - and personal satisfaction - from your garden this season. As the weather cools and fall approaches, it is not time to hang up your hat, gloves and trowel for the year. Autumn provides optimum weather and ample opportunity to keep growing and harvesting delicious, healthy produce well into the season.

Some gardeners assume that when fall arrives and kids return to school, they'll have less time to garden, and may experience less success from their garden plots. But cooler temperatures and fall conditions can actually make gardening easier and more enjoyable. Many of fall's best-producing vegetables are also colorful, making them great additions to flower beds and containers.

If you loved summer gardening, you can keep your garden growing right through fall. Here's how to make the most of fall season gardening:

Size up the soil

Most vegetable plants require full sun for six or more hours a day, and because fall provides a bit less sunlight than summer, you may need to relocate your plot to make the most of shorter days. If moving your garden isn't an option, you can still take full advantage of sunshine by planting veggies in containers or by creating a raised bed in a sunny spot.

If you'll be reusing your summer garden plot, remove any leftover debris. Don't forget to pull up weeds before they go to seed. Fluff any compacted soil with a garden fork. Next, test the soil to see if any amendments are needed. Even if your soil is in good shape, adding a 2-inch layer of bagged compost or a balanced, natural fertilizer like Bonnie Plant Food can give plants a boost.

Be prepared for frost. Keep materials on hand to protect plants when frost threatens, such as floating row cover, a cold frame or a cloche. On frosty, cold nights, move container plants to a protected spot. Not sure when frost will arrive in your area? Check out the USDA frost map on the Bonnie Plants website.

Pick your plants

While crops like strawberries and tomatoes have faded to sweet summer memories, many plants thrive in fall. To ensure a successful harvest, it's important to pick the right plants and give yourself a jump start by using transplants, rather than starting off with seeds. Planting six-week-old transplants ensures you'll have the best opportunity to take advantage of fall's shorter season, and you'll harvest sooner than if you plant from seed.

Producers like Bonnie Plants provide garden retailers with transplants intended to grow well during the specific growing season and are suited for your geographic region. Seasonally appropriate transplants ensure you'll have greater success in your garden. An added bonus of fall planting is that many cool crops are also packed with nutrition and are among the healthiest vegetables you can eat.

Choose hardy crops that can withstand light frost and temperatures as low as 25 degrees. Hardy Bonnie favorites for fall include:

* Broccoli - This versatile veggie is packed with vitamins K, C and A, and is a good source of folate.

* Cabbage - A staple of Oktoberfest celebrations across the country, cabbage comes in several varieties, all of which are high in beta-carotene, vitamins C and K and fiber.

* Kale - Some varieties of kale, like Winterbor Kale, actually taste better when kissed by frost. A prolific producer, kale thrives in fall gardens and is a good source of vitamins A, C, K and B6, as well as manganese.

* Leeks - Prized by gourmets for their milder flavor, leeks are frost-tolerant in all but the coldest planting zones. The health benefits of all onions are well documented, and leeks also add a pop of bright color to culinary dishes.

* Spinach - This nutrient-rich green does as well in fall's cooler temperatures as it does in summer heat. Spin-ach will continue to produce throughout the season, providing a tasty source of vitamins A, C, K and E, as well as the minerals iron, potassium and magnesium.

The end of summer doesn't have to herald the end of your garden harvest and enjoyment, or a return to the grocery store produce aisle. With the right fall crops, you can achieve a satisfying, healthful harvest throughout the fall. Visit www.bonnieplants.com to learn more about fall gardening and cool-weather crops.

TIPS FOR HOSTING END-OF-SUMMER BARBEQUES

(StatePoint) There's something great about inviting company over, firing up the grill, sitting back and eating a juicy burger. Celebrity chef Michael Symon from the Food Network and ABC's "The Chew," is partnering with Bank of America to share tips for stress-free barbequing.

Nearly six out of 10 Americans plan to grill more than 15 times this summer, according to a survey conducted by Bank of America. A large majority - 90 percent - equate barbequing with entertaining.

"Hosting a barbeque shouldn't be stressful. The more you can prepare before guests arrive, the more you can enjoy your party," says Symon.

For instance, Symon advises pre-mixing a batch of your favorite cocktail so guests can serve themselves and you can focus on grilling. He also encourages hosts to make their budgets go further on groceries.

"You can get rewarded for the purchases you make most by using a credit card like the BankAmericard Cash Rewards Credit Card. Customers earn two percent back on grocery store purchases for barbeques," says Symon.

To show Chef Symon your summer BBQ creations, use the hashtag #123BBQ on social media for a chance to see your photo on www.seriousseats.com/123bbq.

Don't miss the party. Make barbeques more fun with some simple planning.
