DONATE BLOOD

Many will kick-off the first days of summer with a trip to the lake, campground or park. Such travel takes people away from home, where they typically donate blood, resulting in blood shortages which often occur during the summer.

The American Red Cross requests that vacationers not take a break from giving blood because every two seconds someone needs blood, even during the summer months.

You can donate blood and save up to three lives at the Knight Civic Center on Thursday, June 28 from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m.

All presenting donors at this blood drive will receive a t-shirt. If you are at least 17 years of age, weigh a minimum of 110 pounds and are in good general health, you may be eligible to donate blood. All donors need to present positive identification. For more information or to schedule your blood donation appointment, call 1-800-GIVE-LIFE (1-800-448-3543).

THANK YOU

A very special thank you to all the brave, hard-working firefighters, EMS, Sheriff's deputies, friends, family and neighbors who helped with the fire at my family home, yesterday (June 12, 2007).

Thank you to those who helped provide water to put out the fire. To those who stopped by to offer their condolences on the loss. To those who stopped by to donate water and pizza to the firefighters. It was a long, hard, hot day. The fire has tentatively been listed as electrical in nature. It started in the garage around 9:30 in the morning and was finally put out around 4 p.m. The fire departments of Warren, Salamonie Township, Liberty Center, Chester Township, Van Buren, Bluffton, Upland and Nottingham were all on hand to assist.

Thank you to Lake City Bank in Huntington and my co-workers for all your caring and support. Thank you also for setting up a fund for donations.

Volunteer Firemen and women are some of the best people around. They give of their time, sweat and energy, and risk quite a lot, to help those of us in need. Special thanks to those who went above and beyond to take care of my lost animals.

It is so gratifying to know that we live in such a wonderful, caring community.

Editors Note: Special thanks for your patience for all who tried to contact the Warren Weekly yesterday regarding newspaper business. Sharon is my Aunt and I felt that I belonged with her.

BASEBALL THANKS

The Warren Baseball and Softball League would like to take this opportunity to thank all the guys who volunteered lots of time, sweat and equipment working on the Civic Center ball diamond at the start of the season this year.

Scott Canady and Brandon from Bolingers/Warren Service & Supply, Shane Eltzroth, Tim Ford and John Tolen all worked really hard putting in some drainage improvements at the field. We haven't gotten much rain (not that I'm complaining after last year) but I am sure we will really see a defference when we do. All of the kids in T-Ball and Coaches Pitch say a great big THANKS!! To all of these guys and anyone I might have missed. Warren has a very large league with a very small price tag because of people like you guys!!

IN HONOR OF FLAG DAY – JUNE 14, 2007

RAGGED OLD FLAG

I walked through a county courthouse square, On a park bench an old man was sitting there. I said, "The old courthouse is kinda run down," He said, "Nah, it'll do for our little town." I said, "The old flag pole is leanin' a little bit, That's a ragged old flag you got hanging on it." He said, "Have a seat," and I sat down. "Is this the first time you been to our little town?" I said, "I think it is." He said, "I don't like to brag, But we're kinda proud of that little ragged ole flag." You see we got a little hole in that flag there when Washington took it across the Delaware. And it got powder burns the night that Francis Scott Key Sat watching it writing ' Say can you see.' And it got a rip in New Orleans when Packingham and Jackson Was tuggin' at its seams; And it almost feel at the Alamo beside the Texas flag, But she waved on tho! She got cut with a sword at Chacelorville, And she got cut again at Shiloh Hill. There was Robert E Lee, Bouregard, Brag, And a south wind blew hard on that ragged ole flag. On Flanders Field in World War I, She got a big hole from a Bertha Gun. She turned blood red in World War II, She hung limp and low a time or two She was in Korea, Vietnam, She went where she was sent by her Uncle Sam. She waved from our ships upon the briny foam, And now they've about quit waving it back here at home In her own good land here she's been abused; She's been burned, dishonored, denied, refused, And the government for which she stands is scandalized throughout the land, And she's getting thread bare, and she's wearing thin; Cause she's been through the fire before, And I believe she can take a whole lot more. So we raise her up every morning, We take her down every night, We don't let her touch the ground and we fold her up right. On second thought, I do like to brag ... 'Cause I'm might proud of that ragged ole flag.

CHAUTAUQUA

The Chautaugua Club met June 1, 2007, Spring Party, in the Calico Room at Heritage Pointe. A lovely luncheon was served at noon to 28 members.

A short meeting followed: Secretary reports was read, treasurer reported a balance of $128.02 on June 1, 2007.

Betty Yoder gave a very interesting program on the Chautauqua Literacy and Scientific Circle Crescent Club. Chautauqua was organized in 1887, federated in 1917 and is 120 years old.

To discuss the history of Chautauqua one has to look at the beginning of education in the colonies. The first schools were in settlers' kitchens with the Bible as the only textbook. The main objectives were to teach children to read and write. Sunday Schools were formed, not for solely religious instruction as today, but furnished secular education as well.

Then began the Chautauqua movement to improve the Sunday Schools. Later it brought in orators and later theater. Today there are functioning assemblies in every state of the union.

Some shared interesting programs they remembered from previous meetings.

The committee for the Spring Party were Joan Huffman, Harriet Tobias, Alice Whitmore, Lucille Beavans. Others attending were: Janet Beavans, Sue Blair, Ann Brauchla, Elaine Eckman, Sharon Gebhart, Linda Howell, Phyliss Hubartt, Georgina Laymon, Ann Miles, Florence Mott, LuEllyn Pond, Jane Ruble, Peggy Schweikhardt, Lou Ann Shafer, Martha Shafer, Carolyn Sparks, Maro Wall, Betty Yoder, Oma Zent, Karen Hunnicutt, Mary Brown, Ruth Alice Christner, Mary Emma Huffman, Bertha Turner.

Service. Thank you cards were read from Van Buren Library and Tammy and Diana St John.

Linda Long is to look into getting an old recipe book redone.

Meeting turned over to Creta Arlington, installing officer. New officers are: President, Julie Webb; Vice President Carol Ritter; Secretary Jere Edwards; Treasurer Irene Pickard; Chaplain Waneta Linton Bald; Historian Anna Pickard; Sgt At Arms Joyce Loftis.

Those attending: Elisha Butler, Shawna Erb, Julie Webb, Anna Pickard, Rosemary Sutton, Joyce Loftis, Jere Edwards, Creta Arlington, Sally Bancroft, Flo Doyle, Ruth Bole, Waneta Bald, Linda Long, Lequita Taylor, Carol Ritter, Lori Linton, and Irene Pickard.

In 1905 the first car for the Marion-Bluffton Interurban was delivered. It was the express-baggage motor car, which was numbered no. 264. When the section between Warren and Van Buren was completed, the officials of the M & B were eager to began service. Seats were temporarily installed and No. 264 made its first trip between Warren and Van Buren on September 26, 1906. A special two hour service between Warren and Van Buren began on Sunday morning, September 29, 1906.

The passenger cars finally arrived. These cars were numbered 325, 330, 335, 340, and 345. These cars were 45 feet in length and weighed 62,400 pounds. Each was powered by four 60 hp Westinghouse motors and had k14 controls. The Interurban crossed the railroad tracks three times at Marion, Warren and Bluffton. Nine miles of line was so closely parallel that a double track line seemed to be in operation.

The oil boom that replaced the gas boom peaked during the years from 1902 through 1906 and by 1910 the economy of the area leveled off into a long term growth instead of a boom economy. Available records indicate that the number of passengers declined steadily from a peak of 616,096 in 1909 to less than 336,000 in 1917. At a Grant County Superior Court hearing on July 29, 1931 the Indiana Service Corporation claimed losses of $24,000 on the line in 1930. Abandonment was approved. After serving the community as best it could, the Marion-Bluffton was no longer needed and before reaching its 25th birthday the Marion-Bluffton was no longer in service. More on the Interurban next time.

Hours for Museum during festival will be: Friday after parade; Saturday June 30—10:00 A.M. -4:00 P.M.; Sunday July 1—11:00 A.M.—4:00 p.m.

LUGAR IN HUNTINGTON

U.S. Sen. Dick Lugar announced today that Phil Shaull from his Fort Wayne office will be in Huntington County on Friday, June 15, 2007. Phil Shaull will be available to meet individually with area residents who may be experiencing problems with the federal government or have an opinion to express.

"It is important that Hoosiers have an opportunity to meet one-on-one with experts from my staff who can address concerns or help with problems they may be having," said Lugar, who regularly sends his staff to meet with residents across the state.

Phil Shaull will be available on Friday, June 15, 2007, from 12:00pm - 1:00pm at the Huntington City-Township Public Library Meeting Room on 200 West Market, Huntington.

Lugar's Constituent Services Staff assists Hoosiers with a variety of issues including passports, immigration, employment issues, pensions, education matters, military and veteran concerns, Social Security and Medicare problems, IRS and postal issues, consumer complaints, and housing and emergency assistance needs. Lugar's staff has extensive experience in working with federal, state and local agencies to help Hoosiers who have encountered difficulties or seek additional assistance.

For more than a decade, Lugar has stressed the strategic importance of energy security and the economic and security risks of dependence on imported foreign energy sources. His staff is interested in learning about new ideas and innovations Hoosiers have that will help America increase its energy security. Lugar also maintains a Special Projects Staff that can assist local elected officials, citizens groups and notfor-profit organizations in obtaining information on proposed projects related to agriculture, education, housing, roads and highways, small business and environmental concerns.

New Indiana Licenses

Governor Mitch Daniels and the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles recently unveiled a new driver license and identification card that will help battle identify theft, card tampering and detection of underage drinking through use of innovative technology.

The new license features a vertical format for those under 21 years of age, with the dates the recipient turns age 18 and 21 highlighted in color.

It also features a number of embedded digital enhancements to ensure authenticity, some detectable only with a black light, and a 2D barcode on the back with embedded redundant data from the front of the card. The new design will also include the state map in the header and state seal overlapping the state map in the background.

"This innovation brings protection against fraud, identity theft, and underage drinking and smoking, all while saving millions of dollars. It's another step toward the BMV Hoosiers deserve," said Daniels. The first new cards will be issued to customers at the Pine Valley license branch in Fort Wayne as part of a pilot program, followed on June 12 at licenses branches in Greenfield, Anderson, Connersville, and Liberty. By early August, all remaining license branches will be issuing the new licenses and ID cards.

BMV Commissioner Ron Stiver said those who benefit from the new card — in addition to Hoosier drivers and ID cardholders — are the BMV, law enforcement officials and retailers of age-sensitive products like alcohol and tobacco.

The new system will produce licenses in about 45 seconds; current production time is about 3 minutes.

Stiver said the new licenses will result in a total cost savings of $2.5 million during the six-year contract period. Each current license costs about $1.27 to produce. The cost to produce the new license will be 99 cents per card.

The enhanced system provides new equipment and software for all license branch locations more than 200 workstations and camera towers and new, secure, state-of-the-art printers – all included in the per card transaction fee.

Digimarc Corp., which has supplied the equipment the BMV uses to produce Hoosier driver licenses since 1982, will be the primary vendor. The company employs 60 people in its Fort Wayne operations.

Of all the advantages of the new card, Stiver emphasized the security improvements of the new system as paramount, citing the Indiana State Police for its collaboration and input to identify the data features needed on the card that most effectively aid law enforcement efforts.

"We have worked with the BMV on the security features of the new driver license, which will make it easier for all law enforcement officers to detect fraudulent identifications," said Indiana State Police Superintendent Paul Whitesell.

In addition to law enforcement, the BMV is also working with Hoosier businesses which serve or sell alcohol or tobacco, raising awareness about the new license format and how it can help identify minors who may drink and drive. In 2006, of young drivers in Indiana aged 16-19 involved in fatal crashes who were tested for alcohol, more than 28 percent were legally

40th Anniversary

BIRTH

David and Regina (Herring) Coulter of Liberty Center had their 40th wedding anniversary on June 4, 2007. They celebrate on Sunday, June 3 with a family carry-in at noon at the Coulter home. They spent the afternoon swimming, visiting, and remembering good times.

Many nice gifts were received and all enjoyed eating a beautifully decorated cake, along with ice cream.

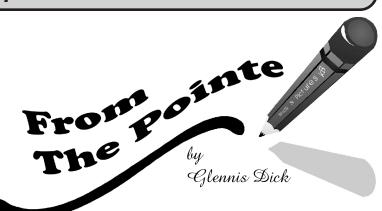

David graduated from Bluffton High School and retired from City of Bluffton Water Department.

Regina graduated from Warren High School and retired from Peytons Northern. She also worked several years at Heyerly's Market in Bluffton.

They are the parents of three daughters, Mrs Mike (Kathy) Randall of Bluffton, Mrs Jon (Laurie) Pace of Wabash and Mrs Jim (Missy) Betz, deceased. They also have five grandchildren.

What are anniversaries without kids and grandkids to enjoy!

THE QUILTER

She is 94 and still going strong. Her name is Delores Endsley. She used to live in Grant County about a mile north of Van Buren. Active in many endeavors including her church, Delores is a person who likes to stay busy. With her move to Warren in October 2006 her goals stayed pretty much the same, which is to keep busy and help others where she can. In fact, she bought a scooter so she could visit people in the Health Care Unit. Her room faces the front of the building where she can see who is coming and going from the facility. It is a long walk over to Health Care and she goes frequently to visit others who are not as fortunate to be so active.

When I caught up with her about 3:00 p.m. she was sitting at the sewing machine sewing quilt blocks. Already that day she had been involved in chair exercises at 8:30 a.m. in the fitness room. Next she went to ceramics to work on Christmas gifts for her family members. Later in the morning she sorted quilt blocks according to pattern and color. After taking a lunch break she played Bingo at 2:00 p.m. Kim Park, Activities Department, says she is impressed with the commitment Delores has to the sewing project called, Project Linus.

As one might expect, Project Linus, was named after the adorable security blanket-toting character from the Peanuts comic strip and is a 100% volunteer non-profit organization with a two-fold mission. First, it is the mission to provide love, a sense of security, warmth and comfort to children who are seriously ill, traumatized, or otherwise in need through the gifts of new, handmade blankets and afghans, lovingly created by volunteer "blanketeers." Second, it is the mission to provide a rewarding and fun service opportunity for interested individuals and groups in local communities, for the benefit of children who need a hug.

At Heritage Pointe the sewing group belongs to the Fort Wayne/ Northeast Indiana Chapter of Project Linus. There are over 350 chapters in the United States with more than 1,000,000 blankets delivered worldwide. The blankets or quilts are made in three sizes and have certain specifications according to the website at www.bestlinus.org. At the time I visited, Delores had personally made 15 quilts in three weeks and says she does it to keep busy and help out. In fact the ladies are doing such a great job of sewing that they are running out of fabric. If anyone has 100% cotton Calico fabric that you're not going to use, the sewing department would be glad for your donation of the material.

Delores feels blessed with her good health. Whether you call her a quilter or a blanketeer she is a little like the Energizer Bunny in the commercials, she just keeps going.

intoxicated at the time of the crash. "This new format will help our associates do a better job of preventing the sale of age-restricted products, particularly tobacco and alcoholic beverages," said Grant Monahan, president of the Indiana Retail Council.

"Grocery and convenience store operators are especially pleased with the special format that allows at-a-glance identification of underage customers," said Joseph A. Lackey, president of the Indiana Grocery and Convenience Store Association.

The enhanced licenses should also help Indiana prepare for anticipated security requirements of the federal Real ID Act, which establishes minimum nationwide security standards for driver licenses and other state-issued identification documents.

There are about 4.2 million licensed drivers in the state of Indiana, according to the BMV. In the past 12 months, about 1.5 million driver licenses were issued or renewed. About 264,000 ID cards were issued during the same time period.

Indiana last updated its driver license format in 1999.

More information about the driver license can be found at www.in.gov/ bmv.

BE PREPARED FOR

by The FlyLady, Marla Cilley Here it is that time of year again when we are faced with the threat of Evacuation from our homes. We never know when we this could happen because of fire, train wreck, floods or hurricanes. It is up to us to be prepared!

1. PEOPLE: Have a plan for getting out of the house and make sure everyone knows it. Have an emergency bag of food and water for your family. Include wholesome snacks and treats for the children: dried fruit, nuts, peanut butter, crackers and granola bars.

2. PETS: Keep pet carriers and leashes readily available to lead pets to safety. Also take pet food with you.

3. PICTURES: Keep negatives or CDs of pictures in a lock box or at a family member's home. Have picture albums in one place ready to grab and go at a moments notice. 4. PAPERS: Have all your important papers in a lock box at a bank and only keep copies at the house. This keeps you from panicking. If you have them at home then put them in a folder that you can easily grab if you have to move fast. Color code it so you can find it!

PRESCRIPTIONS: Take your medications with you. Don't forget the ones that have to be refrigerated like insulin. Have small ice chest and cold packs readily accessible to pack and go. If you have babies; remember their formula or medications.

6. PURSES and PETRO: This is where you keep your identification. credit cards and cash. Keep a stash of cash for emergencies and grab it. You may not be able to use an ATM in the event of a power outage. Make sure your car always has a half a tank of gas.

7. PROPER CLOTHES and COMFORT ITEMS: According to the weather conditions; gather up a change of clothes along with outer clothing: coats, rain gear, boots, gloves and hats. If you have babies remember diapers. Remember to grab your children's favorite blanket, stuffed animal or toy. A game or a deck of cards could keep them occupied and calm too.

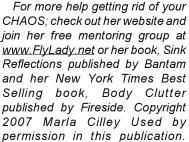

8. PLANNER/CALENDAR/ CONTROL JOURNAL: These documents have all the information you will need from phone numbers, insurance numbers and important dates. They are small and filled with things you don't have to try to remember.

9. PERSONAL PROTECTION: Many of us still have that time of the month. Be sure and grab a box of your preferred protection. It may be hard to find if you have been evacuated. Stress can cause our bodies to do strange things too. So be prepared. Take medication for cramps too.

10. PHONES, RADIOS, FUELFOR THE CAR: Many of us have cell phones now. Always keep them charged up and have a charger in the car or an extra battery. They may not work in the event of power outages, but then they might. Know which local radio station has emergency bulletins. Keep your battery powered radio tuned to that local station and have plenty of batteries for it. Also keep an old type regular phone that does not operate with electricity. GAS PUMPS don't work without power either. You can't leave if your car is on empty. So keep your car fuel tank topped off when it hits a half of tank. This way you will have gas to drive at least a couple of hours. Evacuation routes are usually bumper to bumper traffic. Having a tank filled will keep you less stressed.

11. PATIENCE: This is one of the most important things to pack. Keep it inside of you so that you have a clear calm head. Having your P's to Preparedness list guiding you will keep you patient. In the event of an evacuation there will be lots of displaced people. Being patient will make things less stressful. Your children need to see you calm and collected. This will help keep them calm too.

We can FLY in the face of Danger and Emergency if we are prepared. Don't wait till you are being asked to evacuate. Everyone thinks that it could not happen to them. Well it could and it is up to you to make sure you are prepared. Don't wait! DO IT NOW!!

BROCCOLIBLOCK

by The Dinner Diva, Leanne Ely I have been going through Broccoli Block. You know, when you forget to turn on the veggies and you have your dinner ready to go but the veggies are sitting on the stovetop, cold, raw and just waiting for someone to turn them on and get them cooked?

Why is that?

I think the reason is we are zooming around the kitchen, multitasking as we should be and for me anyway, the stove isn't where my prep area is (it's to my back) and I just simply forget. Not always, but sometimes. It ticks me off! I've been cooking for a LONG time and to forget to turn on the veggies is outside of my realm of thinking, or so I thought. I've thought about the old adage, out of sight, out of mind and thought, that's the ticket! So I've taken to moving my prepped veggies (pot and all) and putting it on the countertop where I am preparing the evening meal. Now it's in my line of vision and I can still stay preoccupied with all the stuff I was so preoccupied with before, but now I won't forget to turn on the vegaies!

If you're having Broccoli Block, maybe you want to fix it too, by putting whatever it is you're forgetting, right in the line of fire, so you see it and remember to do it! Part of getting dinner on the table every night is getting all the components ready at the same time. Doesn't take rocket science, but you do have to think about it!

Here's a recipe to make your next dinner a success, especially if you've got summer heat to deal with-

Pasta Salad with White Beans -Serves 6

1 (16 ounce) package fusilli pasta 1 cup canned white beans, drained and rinsed

5 ounces smoked turkey or regular ham, chopped (or omit)

4 plum tomatoes, chopped 1 small red bell pepper, seeded,

- 2 tablespoons balsamic vinegar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 clove garlic, pressed
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- Salt and pepper to taste

Cook pasta according to package directions.

While pasta is cooking, make dressing (see below) Drain cooked pasta, rinse under cold water and set aside.

In a large bowl, combine remaining salad ingredients, add the pasta, vinaigrette and toss lightly to mix.

Dressing: Mix all ingredients together, whisking the olive oil in gradually at the end, until dressing is slightly thickened. Season with salt and pepper.

Another two weeks have passed by very fast and still no rain for our poor thirsty gardens. I have been carrying water to my garden rather than turning the hose on. I try to get the bulk of the water right to the plants. That is what I did with the strawberries. Just let the hose run on the ground to soak the soil good rather than the spraying effect. It seems to do some good as I had very nice strawberries from my small patch, but they are now gone for the season. But how good they tasted. We enjoy them fresh more than frozen so we indulge in them while in season. The rest of the garden looks rather pitiful and has come up rather sparse. So I probably won't be telling big stories about the "Uptown Garden" this year. I just trust the Good Lord knows what he is doing even though we don't approve.

As I was watching TV a few days ago I saw a dog that was like my faithful friend when growing up. She was a redbone hound that my dad brought home in his coat pocket when she was 6 weeks old and I was 3 years old so we grew up together and I was fortunate to have her for 14 years. She was a great hunting dog and several men would come to our house to get her to take hunting. Some she was glad to see and some she would run upstairs and hide under my bed refusing to go. She would always walk us kids to school as we both got older, but she knew how far to school she was allowed to go or even if we were walking to town. She had her limits. One day I was probably about 10, I decided she was going all the way to town with me. I had to beg and coax her but she finally gave in and followed me. All was well till we got to the local restaurant and she smelled the good food and also seen some hunting buddies in there eating. The door was open and she went right in to the table sat up on her backlegs and was begging for food. The lady at the restaurant was not happy and I was embarrassed trying to get her out. She did not budge until they gave her something to eat. I knew that I was in big trouble not only with Miss Burkhart but also those hunting friends of my dads were bound to tell. Sure enough I got a lecture about taking my dog to town, but my dad had a good sense of humor and he told me he thought it was sort of funny, but also stressed to me don't take your dog to town again. When ever I see that breed of dog my mind goes back to a million memories of me and my best friend, Queenie. Maybe another time I will tell more stories of wonderful and faithful friend we kids had. She had a great dogs life.

Monday I picked what few gooseberries I had, they are new bushes and didn't have too many. Will probably freeze them for later use. One thing I do with them is make Blue goose jam and pies. Here is the recipe for the pie.

Bluegoose Pie

1 1/4 cup sugar 1/3 cup flour 2 cups blueberries, 1 cup gooseberries, 1 tablespoon frozen orange juice undiluted and thawed, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 double crust pie shell. Add orange juice to fruit mix sugar and flour together and mix into the fruit, pour into the pie shell and dot with butter. Add top crust and bake 425 10 minutes and reduce heat to 350 and continue to bake for about 45 minutes.

Have a great summer and lets all do a rain dance!

Love; enjoyed delicious snakes all together, designed to tell the daily story again; watched a continuing movie each day; played wacky games, again tying the story of the day to the game. Each day's closing session told the story over in another exciting and illustrated way. They wore cowboy and cowgirl hats, learned memory verses and received a figurine to take home to remind them of the memory verse for the day.

They also learned about a HOGEN HOUSE of the Navago Indians of AZ and helped contribute toward building one of these homes. $456.22 was collected to help a group of 13 from the Warren Church of Christ who will be going out to Winslow, AZ., August 4-11, to build one of these homes for a needy Indian family. We will take pictures and come back for a big VBS Rally in September to show all the VBS kids and their familes. The kids also made PRAYER BEARS to send with the work team to give to the Navajo Indian children when they go. Watch the Warren Weekly for an invitation to come see this special VBS Program. The directors of the Navajo Trails Indian Mission will be here and we want to have you meet them at this special program in September. We'll have Buc, Shadow, Ranger, Skye and Boss here to show the slides of the kids we took during VBS and to recap the great week we enjoyed together. Have a great summer, kids! SEE YOU IN SEPTEMBER!!!
