Thought for the Week: The dog is a "yes-animal", very popular with people who can't afford to keep a "yes-man." Robertson Davies

WHAT AN ENTRANCE

Have you seen the new sign (pictured above) at the entrance to the Town of Warren out by Blue Flame. It looks really great. This sign was a joint financial effort between Warren Area Development Corp ($1,000), Town of Warren ($800) and a $1100 grant from the Huntington County Visitors and Convention Bureau, for a total cost of $2900. Thanks also go to Benji Dickey for donating the masonry work; the United Methodist Memorial Home for providing the site and donating the brick. Ruth Herring and the Park Board is in charge of landscaping the area.

What a great way to let people know where they are when they arrive in our small burg.

"GRAND NIGHT" OPENS TO FULL HOUSES

Music, music, music!! There's not much more appropriate introduction one can make for the Pulse Opera House production of "Grand Night for Singing" which opened to full houses. Barry Jamison, director, has recruited the finest voices in Northeast Indiana. Beautiful blended harmony and splendid solo performances makes for a delightfully relaxing evening at the Pulse. The singers are accompanied by two accomplished keyboardist whose fine work delicately complement the five person show. This musical review centered around the music of Rogers and Hammerstein, offers the audience a chance to hear some familiar favorites and introduces them to some lesser know works. If you love music, then you'll love the Pulse Opera Houses' current feature, "Grand Night for Singing." Reservations are available at Handcrafters Marketplace or by calling the box office at 375-7017. All show times are 8:00 pm with the house opening at 7:30. For more Pulse Opera House information visit our web site at www.pulseoperahouse.org.

CLOSED LABOR DAY

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles reminds motorists that all license branches and administrative offices will be closed Saturday, September 1 through Monday, September 3 in observance of Labor Day.

The license branches will reopen for normal business hours Tuesday, September 4.

BMW Express automated services are available to Hoosiers needing to renew a standard vehicle registration when walk-in service is unavailable. Motorists who have access to touch-tone telephones can call BMW Express Touch-Tone Renewal (TTR) toll-free. Dial 1-877-4-NEW-BMW to renew standard vehicle registrations 24-hours a day.

Motorists can also use the BMC Express Rapid Renewal System to renew standard vehicle registrations 24-hours a day via the Internet at www.bmvexpress.org/irs.

GOLF OUTING

The First Baptist Church will be hosting a Golf Outing at Arbor Trace Golf Course (Hart's) on Sunday, September 9th at 1:00 p.m. Cost is $40.00 per person. There will be a meal served afterwards and prizes awarded. If interested in participating contact Dave Neuenschwander (375-2097) or Jim Stoffel (694-6942).

STORYTIME TO BEGIN

Story time at the Warren Library will begin again Friday, September 7 at 10:00 a.m. All children of the area are invited to attend.

Don't forget to take pictures of your children reading and submit them for the "I Got Caught Reading" display.

BASKETBALL MINICAMP

This years 2001 Lady Viking Basketball Minicamp will be held September 10th - 13th. Camp is for any girl in 1st thru 4th grade. The camp will be held at Horace Mann Elementary, and Head Basketball Coach Jon Lippe will be providing instruction during camp. Girls should be on the floor and ready to go at 4:30, and camp will end promptly at 6 p.m. each day. The fee for camp is $30 (includes a T-shirt).

Registration is due by Thursday, September 6th to Coach Lippe at Huntington North High School, 450 McGahn St., Huntington 46750. Checks should be made payable to Junior Lady Vikings. A completed/signed registration form must accompany payment. Contact Coach Lippe for more information.

Kid's Klub RETURNS

Hey, Kids, Moms and Dads!! Kid's Klub "All-Stars for Jesus" returns September 5 at 6:30 at Warren United Methodist Church! We will be having a special Kick-off party to start the new season. Kid's four years old through sixth grade are welcome to join us for snacks, Bible lesson, music, games and crafts.

Kid's Klub will meet every Wednesday evening from 6:30-7:30. Warren UMC is located at the corner of Third and Main Streets in downtown Warren.

HARD AT WORK

Members of the Process Committee of the "Warren Downtown" project are continuing to collect data to be used in compiling a five-year plan for continuing development and planning for the Warren area. Local businesses are being canvassed for data information at this time. On Wednesday, August 29th, volunteers will be conducting further data collection by randomly phoning area residents. The phone survey should last approximately five minutes and will not record a name of the person being surveyed. These calls will be made for approximately three to five evenings between the hours of 7 and 9 p.m. The calls will reach into the Van Buren area, the Liberty Center area, and the Reservoir area as well as the Warren area. Your help will be vital in compiling data to be used in the final project plan. Please take time to help the group of local volunteers donating time to this project.

RIDENOUR & PENNING TO PERFORM

Rich Ridenour and Diane Penning will be performing September 6th in the Applegate Chapel of the United Methodist Memorial Home at 2 p.m. Their program is another in the Fine Art Series presented by the United Methodist Memorial Home.

Rich's concerts of great piano classics encompass the masterworks as well as traditional American styles. Soprano Diane Penning has demonstrated her extraordinary versatility through her many appearances in musical theater, film, popular music and operas.

LDL CHOLESTEROL RATING CHANGES WITH RISK FACTORS

Study: Lower cholesterol with medication
 Think there's no need to worry if your LDL cholesterol lingers at the 200 mark? A few years ago, your doctor would have thought that was OK, but today doctors say there's more to it than that.

There are other factors to consider. What is a good rating for one person may not be good for another. Here's the latest word on what the desired rating will be after taking risk factors into consideration:

- No risk factors: 190
- One risk factor: 160
- Two to three risk factors: 130
- Four or more risk factors: 100

Anyone whose score creeps 30 points or more out of that target zone should immediately make diet and lifestyle changes or take a cholesterol-lowering medication. If you are in that group; you have plenty of company. The most recent federal report indicates that some 36 million Americans should be taking drugs to lower their cholesterol. That's nearly three times the number who qualified for treatment under previous guidelines.

- The risk factors are:
- Age: 45+ for men, 55+ for women
  - Smoking
  - High blood pressure
  - High blood sugar
  - Abdominal obesity
  - Low HDL (good) cholesterol
  - Diabetes
  - Family history of heart disease
  - High triglycerides

Add them up, be honest about it, then find your desired HDL cholesterol level. If your present level is more than 30 points higher than that, now is the time to take control of your diet, get some exercise, and see your doctor.

Drugs like Mevacor and Pravachol lower LDL and have few side effects.

Dr. Dean Ornish of the Preventive Medicine Research Institute says medication can be expensive and is not the only way to lower cholesterol. Recently quoted in Newsweek, he says, "When you make big lifestyle changes, you see big effects, and it costs nothing."

THE 'GOOD LIFE' IS HIDDEN IN THE PORTION SIZE

People want the "good life" and often think it's found in nice cars, soft chairs, big TVs, and plenty of food and snacks. But this kind of life doesn't last forever, because it leads to obesity.

Some doctors, including those at Columbia University, think the good life is hidden in the portion size of your dinner dish, lunch plate, or snack bowl. We are loading our dishes with far more food than we need.

What is a correct portion size? Think of your plate. Half the plate should be covered with vegetables. A quarter of the food would be meat, and the last quarter would be starch.

Translated that means 1-1/2 cups steamed vegetables (about the size of 1-1/2 fists), 3 ounces of fish or meat (about the size of a deck of cards), and 1 to 2 servings of pasta (about the size of a small computer mouse). If this doesn't fill your plate, doctors say, get a smaller plate!

Fat has the highest caloric content. Whether it is butter, lard, or olive oil, it has the same number of calories. Olive oil is the less saturated and the healthiest fat, but it still has plenty of calories. Always measure fat before you use it. (A teaspoon of butter is about the size of the tip of your thumb.)

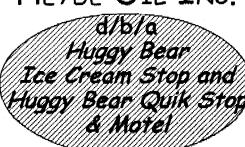

If we follow the advice about healthy eating (more vegetables and whole grains, less fat, and smaller portions) we really will have the good, healthy life.

WHAT'S FOR DINNER

The Huntington County Extension Homemakers are sponsoring an educational program titled "The Fast and Healthy Answer to... What's For Dinner." It is scheduled for Thursday, August 30 at 7:00 p.m. at the Huntington Public Library.

This program will help you make your kitchen work for you. Get organized and join us as we explore quick fixes for a healthy lifestyle and fast meal preparation for on-the-go people.

Delores Hippensteel, Extension Educator in Steuben County will present the program. It is open to the public and free of charge, according to Beverly Morgan, Huntington County Extension Educator.

BUS TRIP HAS OPENINGS

The bus trip to Indianapolis on September 26 still has openings. The Huntington County Extension Homemaker Association is organizing the one day trip.

The group will tour the Ronald McDonald House and learn how this "special" house serves families whose children require special care at an Indianapolis area hospital. Then the group will enjoy lunch at Beef and Boards and the play "The King and I." The group will spend about two and half hours at Circle Centre Mall for some shopping.

The cost for the trip is $43.00 and this includes the bus transportation, buffet, show, tax, tips, and insurance. Send the reservation with money to Sharon McCoart, 2463 W 100 N, Huntington, IN 46750. The reservation deadline has been extended to September 12, or until the bus is full. Those participating will load the bus at 7:30 a.m. and return to Huntington about 8:30 p.m. The trip is open to everyone, male and female.

SHARE GROUP BEGINS

Diabetic patients, family members and friends are cordially invited to attend Bluffton Regional Medical Center's diabetic share group. Diabetes means lifestyle changes for both the diabetic individual and their family. This share group focuses on topics ranging from diabetic foot care to oral medications and finally a grocery store tour.

The first Diabetic Share Group meeting is on Thursday, September 13th, from 6-7:30 p.m. in the education center at Bluffton Regional South, 1100 S. Main Street. Additional meeting dates are October 11th and November 8th.

Dr. Kevin Lind, a specialist in podiatric medicine, will answer questions regarding diabetic foot care at the September meeting. At October's meeting, Kris Hanks, diabetic educator, will focus on oral medications. The final meeting will include visiting a local grocery store for nutritional tips.

For more information, please contact Bluffton Regional's education department at (219) 824-3210, ext. 3806.

SCHOOL IS OPEN

Sheriff Rod Jackson is urging the public to remember that School Is Open so drive carefully.

"Many of our children will be crossing the streets to and from school so drivers need to keep alert," Sheriff Jackson said. "It is also important for parents to teach their children to cross the street only at marked intersections."

Every driver needs to remember that they should not pass a school bus in either direction when that bus is stopped on the road and is loading or unloading students.

"Always stop whenever the red, octagonal stop sign arm extends from the left side of the school bus when approaching in either direction," the Sheriff explained. However, you need not stop if you and the school bus are going in opposite directions on a road that has more than two lanes and is separated by a median strip not made for vehicle travel.

Remember that all school buses are required to stop at railroad crossings to look and listen for an approaching train so it's important to be patient and give them room. Don't tailgate the school bus.

Some of the schools have crossing guards posted at school entrances and intersections. When approaching an area with a crossing guard reduce your speed immediately and be prepared to follow the guard's directions. Drivers must stop when a stop paddle is used by the crossing guard.

Sheriff Jackson also reminds motorists to watch for bicycles. "Two-wheeled vehicles are much smaller and more difficult to spot than most other vehicles on the road. It is extremely important that drivers stay on the look out for bicycles. Our kids are our future and we want them to grow up safely."

NSC FIRST AID CLASS

A child on your t-ball team slides into third base and injures his arm during a game. The child's parents are not present. His arm is swelling and he cannot move his fingers. Are you prepared to handle this situation?

Bluffton Regional Medical Center is offering a first aid class to help prepare you for situations like this. Instructors certified by the National Safety Council will teach first aid skills that are essential when responding to breathing emergencies, injuries, bleeding and sudden illnesses. They will also teach prevention of disease transmission. The class will meet on Thursday, September 13, from 6:00-9:30 p.m., in the education center at Bluffton Regional South, 1100 South Main Street. A participant fee of $35.00 covers a first aid book and a certification card.

"The program is designed to provide participants with the skills and knowledge to care for injuries and illnesses in an emergency," explains Michelle Gentis, community education coordinator for Bluffton Regional. "The National Safety Council provides the most accurate, easy-to-understand and current materials available."

Class size is limited. Contact Michelle Gentis at (219) 824-3210, ext. 3844 for additional information and to register.

ENSURING LAW IS OBEYED

As the summer comes to an end, many families will be spending the last summer holiday traveling. Traditionally, Labor Day weekend is a very dangerous time for travelers on the roads.

Indiana statistics show when parents are not buckled up, only 57.9 percent of children are restrained; and when parents are buckled up, children are buckled 92.8 percent of the time. With that in mind, Huntington County Wide Law Enforcement will be reminding the community to "Click It or Ticket. And for your family's safety it will be enforced."

"Indiana law states that all front seat passengers and children under the age of 12 must be properly restrained," stated Huntington County Sheriff Rod Jackson. "Officers will be out ensuring that all families know and obey the law."

Operation Pull Over (OPO) and blitz 28 focuses on family travel. Increased traffic enforcement will occur August 28 through September 8.

More than 180 Law enforcement agencies from across the state participate in Operation Pull Over. The Governor's Council on Impaired & Dangerous Driving created Operation Pull Over to increase public safety in the state of Indiana. The Council, along with departmental efforts from Huntington County wide Law Enforcement agencies, is committed to increase seat belt usage and decrease impaired driving crashes, fatalities and injuries.

For more information regarding Operation Pull Over, contact the Huntington County Sheriff's Department at 356-2520, the Huntington City Police Department at 356-7110 or the Governor's Council on Impaired & Dangerous Driving at (317)232-1295.

KIDS - HOME ALONE

Indiana Crime Prevention Coalition offers tips on preparing latch-key kids to be safely on their own when school lets out.

Is your child too old for daycare, but far from grown up? Worried about what they're doing after school before you get home from work? You're not alone.

"Working parents - and that's the majority of American and Hoosier families today - share the anxiety, frustration and even fear involved with leaving children on their own after school," says Scott Minier, Executive Director of the Indiana Crime Prevention Coalition. "Sometimes well-laid childcare arrangements break down or there simply aren't alternatives to kids being 'home alone' between school and when parents get home from work.

Minier and the not-for-profit ICPC say the first thing to help reduce this back-to-school stress is to get organized: 1) Make sure your children are ready to care for themselves 2) teach them basic safety rules and 3) Set ground rules requiring you know where your kids are, what they are doing, and whom they are with.

ARE THEY READY? CAN YOUR SON OR DAUGHTER...

- Be trusted to go straight home after school?
- Easily use the telephone, locks and kitchen appliances?
- Follow rules and instructions well?
- Handle unexpected situations without panicking?
- Stay alone without being afraid?
- HAVE YOU PREPARED YOUR 'HOME ALONE' CHILD...
  - How to call 9-1-1 in case of emergency?
  - How to give directions to your home?
  - To check in with you or another trusted adult immediately after arriving home?
  - To never accept gifts or rides from people they don't know well?
  - How to use the door, window locks and the alarm system if you have one?

- To never let anyone in your home without asking permission?
- To never let a caller at the door or one the phone know they're alone?
- To carry a house key with them in a safe place (inside a shirt pocket or sock) - not under a mat or on a ledge?
- How to escape in case of fire?
- To not go into your home if things don't look right (broken window, ripped screen or opened door)?
- To let you know about anything that frightens them or makes them feel uncomfortable?

A WORD ABOUT CURIOSITY...
 "Are there things you don't want your children into?" Minier asks. "Take the time to talk to them about the deadly consequences of guns, medicines, power tools, alcohol and cleaning products. Make sure you keep these items in a secure place out of sight and locked up.

Finally, the best way to know for sure if your child is ready to be "home alone" is to talk it over with them, says Minier. "Listen to their worries and ideas. Work out rules on having friends over, accomplishing household chores, studying homework and watching television. Remember, staying at home alone can be a positive thing for children. It can build a child's self-esteem, sense of responsibility and practical skills."

During the days of manual sorting, the Warren post office had a full-time postmaster, a full-time (40 hours) clerk, and two part-time clerks to sort and box mail. Budgeted hours and the number of employees were reduced through-out the years as mail was first processed to carrier routes and box sections and currently is sorted to the delivery point. Hence, the post office work-force has been cut to a full-time post-

THE BIG DEAL

Over ten years ago the US Postal Service announced its plan to process mail using automated equipment—optical character readers that read addresses and spray barcodes on envelopes, and barcode sorters that read the bar codes and sort mail to the proper address. Prior to this mail was sorted manually or by letter sorting machines on which clerks keyed each mail piece individually.

During the days of manual sorting, the Warren post office had a full-time postmaster, a full-time (40 hours) clerk, and two part-time clerks to sort and box mail. Budgeted hours and the number of employees were reduced through-out the years as mail was first processed to carrier routes and box sections and currently is sorted to the delivery point. Hence, the post office work-force has been cut to a full-time postmaster and two part-time clerks and a budget of fewer than 40 clerk hours per six-day delivery week.

On most days the mail must be sorted and boxed by only two employees (excepting rural carriers). In order to achieve this in a timely manner, mail must be processed by automation so rural mail can go directly to the carriers and box section mail can be boxed directly from incoming trays.

Flats (large envelopes, magazines, newspapers, etc.) and parcels are still sorted manually at the local level. (Flat sorting machines are a reality, but Warren mail is not yet sorted on them.) We also still manually sort approximately 25-30% of the letter mail because they are over-sized for machines or, most commonly, are rejected due to addressing errors.

Manual mail sorting is time-consuming and expensive. Automated equipment can sort 36,000 letters per hour at a cost of approx. $3 per 1000 compared to manual sorting of 800 letters per hour at a cost of approx. $30 per 1000. As with any other business or service, costs are reflected in the price you pay. Remember, the

USPS does NOT receive tax dollars but earns its revenue through postage and services.

The Warren post office, like almost all small post offices, operates at a loss. This means it COSTS the Postal Service to provide delivery service to Warren residents. The more automated mail with correct addresses we receive, the better able we are to hold down costs and the earlier mail can be processed and delivered. Multiply this by the 47,000 post offices nationwide and you can see how saving money through proper addressing can greatly effect postage rates.

If rate increases concern you, look at the way your mail is addressed. YOU have an impact on costs and efficiency. Most businesses, friends and family get your address from YOU. Be sure to provide them with a correct, complete one. When someone asks for your address, think—why do they want it? Will they mail you a bill, check, license, car title, catalog, parcel, Christmas card? Then they need your MAILING address not just your physical address. If you receive your mail through a post office box at the downtown post office this is your P0 Box number. You are always safe if you use a dual address as follows: NAME on the first line, STREET ADDRESS on the second line, P0 BOX ### on the third line, and CITY, STATE, ZIP-CODE on the bottom line. (Attention lines or other info goes above the name.) This works for forms that state "no P0 Boxes" such as rebates as long as you include both your street address and P0 Box address—companies do this to avoid fraudulent claims to P0 Boxes that do not have a related physical address.

Please, do not assume everyone "knows you" and all postal employees "know" your box number. Postal employees frequently get promoted, retire, resign or transfer to other post offices and new employees must start from "scratch." Just as you don't know the box numbers of everyone in town, this knowledge is not "magically" bestowed upon employees when they walk through the post office door. Even "old" employees can't be expected to remember the ever-changing names of each of the 628 P0 Box customers and 1030 rural addresses in Warren. Nor should they. The average 5,500 pieces of mail Warren receives daily is to be delivered "as addressed" and returned to sender when it cannot be delivered as addressed. This is especially true of mail endorsed by mailers requesting the correct mailing address.

And though we realize the occasional card or letter mailed in the local area will have an addresses found in a phone book, etc. any business, magazine, friend or relative you correspond with should be provided with your correct mailing address. This will ensure you get all your mail and help keep YOUR postage costs down.

NOTE: Rural customers with home delivery should use a street address with apt. or lot number if needed and the "-90" for Wells County addresses from Warren. United Methodist Memorial Home residents should use 801 Huntington Ave and NOT P0 Box numbers as this mail is sorted to the boxes in the main post office.

MISSION TRIP

The Jefferson Center United Methodist Women met at 8:30 a.m. on Thursday, August 2, 2001 at the church to proceed to the Lucille Raines Residence in Indianapolis. We were greeted at the Home by Peggy Karnes. She shared a video about the home including the story of some of the residents through the years. She gave us some literature about the Home and its self-help program and shared her own story about being a resident before becoming a paid employee to help others. She gave us a tour through the building to see the chapel, an individual room, shared kitchen, etc. We had lunch in their dining room with the director. On our way home we stopped in Lapel to visit the warehouse where many supplies are packed and sent overseas - Operation Classroom donations, etc. It was a most interesting day and enjoyed by all who attended: Barbara Hart, Mary Emma Holmes, Treva Holt, Marguerite McNany, Myrna Neff, Carmen Wils, and Carolyn Winters.

AFTERSCHOOL STORIES

Nine children attended Afterschool Storytime at the Van Buren Public Library. Since Tuesday was the first day back to school for the children they shared with each other what they enjoyed about the first day of school. Some enjoyed recess, math, being with friends and having homework.
Karen read two books to the children "Arthur's Back to School Day" by Lillian Hoban and "The Librarian From The Black Lagoon" by Mike Thaler with illustrations by our own Jarod Lee. Games of pass the ring on a pencil, ring toss, and book relay was played.
Refreshments of chocolate covered pretzels and koolaid was enjoyed by all. Ashley Kerr was the attendance prize winner.
A challenge was given to the children if they attended today and they bring a friend to storytime next Wednesday, they plus the friend will receive a food coupon. The next Storytime will be Wednesday August 29th 2:35 pm-3:30pm. Labor Day will be celebrated.
Those attending were: Kayleigh Hylton, Kayla Purvis, Ashley Kerr, Amy Kerr, David Irwin, Brittini-lynn Davis, Cassie Davis, Josh Lawson and Loren Blessing.

SEMINAR PLANNED

Are you a small business doing product development?
Get your share of $1.2 billion available for product development through the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) Grant Program. Grants of up to $850,000 are available for each project.
Access federal funds to assist you in research, development, and commercialization of your products.
The Industrial Research Liaison Program (IRLP) has assisted more than 92 Indiana companies in securing $89+ million through the SBIR program. Assistance is provided to small business by:
- selecting appropriate research topics
- helping in proposal preparation
- identifying literature resources
This workshop will explain the SBIR program and help clarify parts that may be appropriate for you. You will also be introduced to various services provided by IRLP and co-hosts at this workshop.

The workshop will be held September 25 from 8a.m. to 1 p.m. at Indiana Institute of Technology in Fort Wayne. Cost is $15.

Send your name, company name, address, phone and email and method of payment (check or money order - no debit or credit cards) to IRLP, 501 N. Morton St, Suite 109, Bloomington, IN 46404, www.irlp.indiana.edu, Phone: 812/855-6294 or 800/624-8315 (Indiana only), Fax: 812/855-8270.

This event is co-sponsored by Dept. of Economic Development - City of Fort Wayne, Indiana Business Modernization and Technology, Indiana Institute of Technology, Indiana Microelectronics Center, Naval Surface Warfare Center - Crane Division, Northeast Indiana Small Business Development Center, Small Business Administration.

PRESCRIPTION MEDICINE ABSOLUTELY FREE

Harsonhill announced today a new and unique information and application service delivering FREE prescription drugs for people who find their medicine hard to afford. An information service providing information/application forms needed to apply.

As Washington politicians argue for expensive government provided insurance programs, there are already private plans in place delivering prescription medicine absolutely free. "Many people qualify. Even those earning up to $50,000 a year", said Steve Reynolds, President of Harsonhill. "We get hundreds of letters weekly saying how grateful people are these private programs exist and thank us for providing the required information and application forms."

Reynolds outlined that his company supplies the information that delivers a free prescription program built upon the patients need and qualifications. People living on fixed incomes, many senior citizens, those with no insurance. Those living close to the federal poverty level qualify. Many earn too much to qualify for government programs but not enough to afford private insurance. If a patient's income doesn't qualify for one drug manufacturers program, in all likelihood they will for another. The information Harsonhill provides will enable a patient and their doctor to quickly identify the correct program. Harsonhill's information also is designed to benefit people in the health care industry, such as doctors, nurses, social workers and plan administrators.

"There are over 80 pharmaceutical manufacturers with formal programs delivering free prescription drugs to people in financial need. These are little publicized programs and unknown to many doctors & social workers. Reynolds noted. "Each manufacturer has a distribution system that eliminates fraudulent applications.

Obtain information, eligibility requirements and application forms; including a list of drug manufacturers cross-referenced with 2000 prescription drugs. Click to: www.prescriptions4free.com or contact Harsonhill, 22425 Ventura Boulevard, #190, Woodland Hills, CA 91364; Fax: 818.716.4110

FRIENDS OF JUNG

John Giannini, visiting lecturer from the C. G. Jung Institute of Chicago, will present a seminar "Jung and Spirit" in Fort Wayne, Sept. 21-22. Giannini is a colleague of Matthew Fox, familiar with Creation Spirituality and the psyche's affinity for imagination and creativity. The presentation will detail the parallel in Meister Eckart's four spiritual paths and Jung's four levels of the psyche. Julia Cameron refers to Giannini in her book The Artist's Way. Sponsoring the event is Friends of Jung in Fort Wayne, a nonprofit group interested in expanding awareness of the late Swiss psychologist's expansive writings and understanding of humanity. Giannini will speak at First Presbyterian Church, 300 W. Wayne, downtown Fort Wayne. Call for fees and details, (219)747-7793 or 749-0989.

WINNER OF BEAR CAT

Laura Stafford, eight-year-old daughter of Terry and Michele Stafford of Warren, is the winner of the Peg-Perego "Bear Cat" battery-operated child's car given away by the Warren McDonald's store, 7112 S. Warren Rd.

The car was presented as part of a promotion from Fort Wayne-area McDonald's restaurants, connected to McDonald's sponsorship of the McDonald's Children's Fest at Fort Wayne's Three Rivers Festival.

In all, 36 cars were given away throughout northeastern Indiana and Van Wert, Ohio, as part of the promotion.

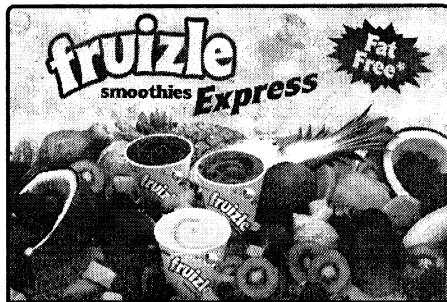

Britt and Denise Sather own the Warren McDonald's store.

McDonald's also boosted its presence in Fort Wayne with the recent opening of the Ronald McDonald Family Room at Parkview Hospital. Pictured above: Laura Stafford and Dee Huntsman, store manager.
