FESTIVAL PLANNING

It may be cold outside right now, but the Salamonie Summer Festival committee is thinking summer. The first organizational meeting of the 2001 Salamonie Summer Festival will be meeting at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, January 30th at the Knight Civic Center.

Last year's festival was a great success and we hope to have an even better festival this year. But, WE NEED YOU!!! We need your ideas and your manpower. Do you have any ideas for events that you would like to see? Come share your ideas. Would you like to volunteer your time but don't have any ideas? It may seem a little early to be thinking about an event in July but, there is a lot of work and planning involved in a production of this size.

KUDOS, KICKS & KARATS

DEAR EDITOR:

I am a seventh grade student at Southern Wells Jr./Sr. High School. I live 5 miles southeast of Warren.

I would like to say you are doing a great job with the paper. I especially like the fact that we are able to place free found ads for abandoned animals. Where I live we get a lot of animals dumped and are able to find homes for many of them through the Warren Weekly. Thank you for your time and generosity.

Samantha Lichtsinn

THANKS

I would like to thank everyone that sponsored the HNHS Bowling teams. It helped in so many ways. Right now the boys and girls are in 1st place in the conference with only a few weeks to go.

Thanks again,

Marie Plasterer

January 24 begins lunar year 4699, Year of the Snake

CHINESE NEW YEAR IS WIDELY CELEBRATED

Of all Chinese festivals, the lunar new year is the most important and the most colorful. Regardless of where they live or what religion they practice, Chinese people around the world celebrate this day. It's a big, big celebration where family and friends come together.

According to legend, a wicked monster used to come out of its den on New Year's Eve to feast on people and animals. But the beast was afraid of the color red, fire, and loud noises. People kept him away by hanging red decorations outside and inside of their homes. And they scared him by lighting firecrackers that made loud noises and gave off sparks.

On New Year's Day people found they were safe. They congratulated each other and wished each other luck and safety in the new year. Red is considered the New Year color and firecrackers are used throughout the festival. Flowers are also important in the celebration.

Married people give "lucky money" in little red envelopes to unmarried relatives. Older family members give it to all those who are younger, even if they are married. It's especially important for children who may have to make their stash last until next New Year's Day.

WHAT'S NEW? THE HR DEPARTMENT WANTS TO KNOW!

The Human Resources Department reminds of where you work must keep records up to date. Sometimes, however, people forget to advise them on important matters.

The beginning of a new year is an excellent time to take stock of what may have happened in your life since last New Year's Day. Some matters to consider:

- Changes in name, address, telephone number, person to be notified in case of emergency.
- Changes in insurance coverage, adding or removing people from insurance coverage. Changes of life insurance beneficiaries.
- Changes of tax information including adding or removing dependents and considering whether you want more tax money, or less, withheld from your check.

LILLY SCHOLARSHIPS

The Heritage Fund of Huntington Co., Inc. is offering free college educations to three Huntington County residents.

The four-year, full-tuition scholarships will be awarded through a program sponsored by Lilly Endowment Inc. The Huntington County recipients will be three of more than 360 Indiana students who will be selected as Lilly Endowment Community Scholars.

Each scholarship will fund tuition and required fees, and will also include a $700-per year allotment for books and equipment.

The program is open to all students who will have graduated from an accredited Indiana high school by the end of June 2001 and who have been accepted to a full-time baccalaureate course of study at any accredited four-year Indiana public university or private college.

The program is also open to non-traditional applicants—those who have graduated from high school prior to June 2001 and have never attended college as full-time students.

Scholarship applications are available at Huntington North High School Guidance office and at surrounding area high schools which may have Huntington County students enrolled.

The application deadline is March 16, 2001. For additional information, write to the Heritage Fund of Huntington Co., Inc., P.O. Box 5037, Huntington, IN 46750, or call executive director Marcia McClelland at (219) 356-8878.

The Heritage Fund accepts contributions on an ongoing basis. Contributions may be made to one of the existing 52 funds, or donors may establish a new fund.

TAX FORMS IN SPANISH

For the first time, a Spanish version of the Indiana Individual Income Tax Form IT-40 is available from the Indiana Department of Revenue for the tax year 2000. The new publication is part of an effort to enable Hoosier taxpayers who can read Spanish, but not English, to complete their state taxes without assistance.

Identical to the English version of the IT-40, the Spanish version is 40 pages, includes forms and instructions, as well as other useful information regarding Indiana State taxes and options.

Copies of the IT-40 form in Spanish are available by contacting the Department's Public Affairs Division by telephone at (317) 232-2348; by e-mail at anorman@dor.state.in.us; via FAX at (317) 233-1844; or, via U.S. Postal Service mail at Public Affairs Division, Indiana Department of Revenue, IGCN Rm. 201, 100 N. Senate Avenue, Indianapolis, IN 46204, Attn. Amanda. The form and the Spanish instructions are also available through any of the 11 district offices around the state and the Internet at <http://www.state.in.us/dor/forms/individual00.html>.

PLANNING STARTS BY TAKING A TRIP ON THE WEB

(NAPS)-While daydreaming about going on vacation can ignite fantasies of an escape from day-to-day life, the thought of planning a vacation is another story. Fortunately, Internet resources are making it possible to effortlessly plan a vacation from start to finish-online.

How do you know which travel Web sites are reliable resources? How can you be confident that your travel arrangements are confirmed when you haven't spoken directly to a live person? Larry De Shon, vice president, Customer Satisfaction of United Airlines says there are several key elements to consider in order to successfully plan a vacation online. He offers these tips:

- ✦ Always purchase from a reputable site. With the wide variety of travel Web sites ranging from auctioneers to aggregators, make sure you purchase airline tickets from a reputable, brand-name site. Sticking with airline sites is often your best bet. For example, United Airlines' united.com enables customers to compare the fares and schedules and purchase travel from more than 500 airlines, make reservations at more than 30,000 hotels and at 45 car rental companies.

- ✦ Utilize online benefits, including electronic timetables and proactive paging. Make sure you register online for the proactive flight paging service that will automatically inform you of delays, cancellations and gate information via e-mail or any text-enabled cell phone, pager or hand held computer.

A REAL PAIN IN THE NECK (NAPS)-Walking in a winter wonderland leaves many Americans worried about slips and falls.

Studies show 57 percent of Americans expect to slip or fall on ice and snow this winter and three out of four have at some time had a snow or ice-related injury.

Tapping into the same technology used by Departments of Transportation (D.O.T.) across the country to combat icy roads, Reilly Freeze Fighter Anti Ice and Snow Agent actually prevents ice and snow from bonding to the pavement and even melts some initial snowfall, making shoveling a much simpler task.

While Freeze Fighter makes driveways, walks and stairs safe, it is also 70 percent less corrosive than salt and won't damage concrete like traditional de-icing products.

Now sold in hardware stores nationwide, it comes in a convenient, premixed formula, available in one-gallon jugs or 32-ounce handheld sprayers.

For more information about fighting the danger of ice, snow and shoveling, see www.freezefighter.com.

A WEB PRESENCE SHOWS THAT YOU MEAN BUSINESS

(NAPS)-More than 200 million people use the Internet, and that number continues to grow. To tap into that pool of potential customers, a growing number of small and medium-sized businesses are working to establish a Web presence.

Software is available that makes it simple to set up a Web site, but there's much more to it, especially since a new site will take its place on the Internet with two million others-making up more than 850 million pages.

So whether you own a business, or have a Web site and want to turn it into a small business opportunity, it's important to get your venture off on the right foot. Fortunately, a comprehensive application called Microsoft® FrontPage® 2000 offers all the features people need to get up-to-speed on the Web. For example, the software:

1. Lets you quickly and easily create exactly the site you want-The software features templates which do all the work, setting up site structure and navigation-all you have to do is add content. Business and personal themes help you get a consistent look and feel across all your Web pages. You can even modify the themes to get them just the way you want.

2. Helps make sure the Web site is functioning correctly-View reports that indicate broken hyperlinks and slow-loading pages. Users can also collaborate with others and set specific authoring rights, security levels and permissions.

3. Works great with Microsoft Office-FrontPage 2000 shares common themes, toolbars, menus and shortcuts with the popular application package.

In addition, the program makes it easy to get started, with all the Web page creation and site management tools in a single application.

With FrontPage 2000, site visitors can do business in any of 15 languages, giving companies an edge in taking their business to the next level: international commerce.

Still, it takes more than just a dazzling Web site to attract customers. Internet experts recommend that businesses also:

✚ Register their site with all the major search engines, and include helpful keywords; and ✚ Put their Web site address

(URL) on business cards, company letterhead and newspaper advertising-anywhere that potential customers might see it.

To learn more about getting started on the Web and FrontPage 2000, visit the Microsoft Web site at www.microsoft.com/frontpage.

STROKE PROGRESS

(NAPSA)-Researchers are developing an entirely new approach to stopping strokes, the nation's number-three killer. By using lasers to attack blood clots deep inside the brain, doctors may soon be able to prevent much of the damage such an event can cause.

Most strokes occur when a blood clot gets stuck in one of the brain's arteries, choking off the blood supply. Unless it can be dislodged within six hours or so, a section of brain dies, causing paralysis and other problems.

The arteries in the brain are very narrow and kinked with hairpin turns, so it is difficult to reach clots. During treatment, a laser-threaded through a liquid-filled catheter one millimeter thick-is tracked by doctors with an X-ray. The laser is brought to within one centimeter of the clot, where a minute or two of blasting destroys it. The laser energy is color-sensitive, so it only destroys the red clot, not the white artery walls around it.

"The idea is, the quicker you get it removed, the better," said Dr. Wayne M. Clark of the Oregon Stroke Center in Portland. Using a laser, "it takes seconds vs. hours."

For more information about laser technology and the science of light, visit the Optical Society of America's Web site at www.osa.org.

HOW TO DRESS FOR COLD-WEATHER WORKOUTS

(NAPSA)-Learning a few facts about dressing for cold-weather workouts should keep winter from putting the freeze on your healthy lifestyle.

According to a recent survey by Russell Athletic, 57 percent of the women surveyed are more physically active in the summer, while 4 percent preferred the winter. Dressing for the season could encourage more winter workouts:

✧ Save body-generated heat by layering clothing. With additional layers, heat gets trapped between your body and each layer. The more layers, the more insulated you are from winter elements.

✧ The outer layer is the first line of defense and the most important layer against the cold. This layer should protect you from wind, rain, sleet or snow and keep cold air from penetrating. Wearing a hooded windbreaker will help control body temperature and protect you from the elements.

✧ Exercise requires movement and movement generates heat. Russell Athletic suggests wearing clothing that is warm, but doesn't restrict movement. Wear different types of fabrics like a wind-resistant Polartec fleece or a lightweight combed jersey (a cotton/ polyester blend).

✧ Wick sweat away. A damp body exposed in the cold is a first-class ticket to get a chill.

The layer closest to the body should be made from a fabric that pulls or wicks away perspiration. Russell Athletic recommends a high-performing fabric like Dri-Release, a lightweight fabric specializing in moisture management. Avoid cotton, which tends to hold moisture.

✧ Middle layers are effective against sudden changes in temperature. Add them up for extra warmth and take one off to cool down.

Middle layers of cotton provide warmth and polyester layers enhance movement. Mock turtlenecks made of lightweight cotton provide extra warmth to the neck.

✧ Layering legs and feet is also important. Spandex tights and fleece pants will keep legs warm. Close-fitting spandex, underneath a warm-up or fleece pant, makes a perfect combination for cold-weather workouts. Layering socks is a good way to keep warm. Wear a thin sock on the inside and a thicker sock on the outside.
