TOWN TREE & BOWS

Once again a Christmas Tree will be placed at Town Hall due to the generosity of local citizens. Mrs. Grace Thompson has donated the tree which will be placed in time for the November 28th lighting ceremony. And, once again, memorial bows at the cost of $2 will be made available for placing on the tree with white ribbons for those loved ones now gone and red bows in honor of those living. Names can be written on the ribbons before being placed on the tree. The bows will be available at PJ's Flowers and Gifts and at Town Hall. Proceeds go to Chamber of Commerce to be used toward downtown Christmas lights. This year will see the lighting of a new decoration over the main intersection in town as well as additional building lighting. Over $2000 of the total cost of this additional Christmas lighting is a direct result from the purchase of memorial bows.

Friday, November 28 will see Santa arrive at Town Hall at 6:00 p.m. With his help, the downtown lights and the Christmas Tree will be lit to begin the holiday season. From that ceremony, Santa and everyone will move down Second Street to the Knight-Bergman Center where singing and refreshments will accompany the opening of the Christmas light display on the KCC grounds. Santa Claus will meet with children of all ages in the auditorium of the Knight-Bergman Center immediately following the KBC lighting and also on Saturday, November 29th from 9:00 - 11:00 a.m. to provide a listening ear to children's Christmas wishes. Cookies and hot chocolate will be served and each child will receive a gift from Santa.

SALVATION ARMY NEEDS VOLUNTEERS

The Salvation Army is looking for more volunteers to help with the kettles, November 21 through December 24, 2003. If you can give 1 hour or a whole day, we need your help. Please call and schedule a time and place to help us help others.

Applications are now being accepted for Christmas Assistance. Appointments are preferred and can be made by calling the office.

Angel tags for children will be placed on the tree at Wal-Mart until December 12.

Looking for a special project this holiday season, then consider Adopt-a-Family. Call and let us help you find a family to adopt with food and/or presents for children. You might just want to have a new toy collection or collect food for our baskets.

Distribution Day will be December 22 and we need volunteers to help us prepare the week before and distribute the Christmas food and gifts for children.

If we all work together we can make a difference in the lives of others. Call 356-3485 for more information concerning any of these areas. Donations can be dropped off at 1424 E Market St or by mail at PO Box 586, Huntington.

SMYTH-WARTZOK HONORED

Warren's Cynthia Smyth-Wartzok was honored Thursday, November 6 at the 21 Alive Women in Leadership Awards Luncheon at the Fort Wayne Country Club. Sponsored by WPTA-TV, 21 Alive, Smyth-Wartzok was selected as the first in a group of 21 community leaders to receive the award.

Chris Fedele, President and General Manager of WPTA-21 states "The first annual 21 Women in Leadership Award is designed to recognize women of all ages, races, and religions who have demonstrated unwavering dedication to the betterment of themselves, their family, their company, or their community at large. Each leader was selected primarily due to the care and passion given to her work and her mission, even under a myriad of demands and commitments. These leaders truly go above and beyond the norm to excel and provide leadership and inspiration for all who know them."

Smyth-Wartzok was selected for her work as Executive Director of Northeast Indiana Radio Reading Service (NEIRRS) and her direction of Warren's Pulse Opera House. NEIRRS is a non-profit organization that broadcasts the reading of newspapers, magazines and other print materials for people who are blind, have limited vision or have other physical ailments that keep them from reading. The broadcasts, made possible by more than 200 volunteers, are available 14 hours a day, seven days a week.

Of the theatre, Smyth-Wartzok and husband Ron formed a non-profit organization that orchestrated a dramatic restoration of the Pulse Opera House. The theatre, which was a social hub of activity in its original heyday more than 100 years ago, remains a place where area residents can enjoy an evening out. Smyth-Wartzok says many dedicated people have made vast contributions to the restoration and revival of the Pulse Opera House. "It's nice to get an honor like this, but it really is so many people that have worked so hard."

Sharing the table with Cynthia Smyth-Wartzok were Ron Wartzok, Robert and Nancy Smyth, Darren and Julie Turney, Steve Rodenberger, Kathy Rader, Kent Halloran, and Jane Hersha. Following the award State Representative Phylis Pond expressed her appreciation as well.

THANKSGIVING DAY 2003:

PRESIDENTS PROCLAIM DAY OF THANKSGIVING

From Valley Forge to the September 11, American presidents have honored the spirit of thankfulness - even in times of adversity.

Some 50 years ago, President Dwight Eisenhower proclaimed Thanksgiving as a time when Americans celebrate the plentiful yield of our soil, the beauty of the land, and the preservation of those ideals of liberty and justice that form the basis of our national life and our hope for peace.

In his 2001 Thanksgiving message, given shortly after September 11, President George W. Bush said that in our War on Terrorism and all that is before, Thanksgiving reminds us that we have hope and trust in God.

History tells us that this is so. In 1621, the Pilgrims gave thanks in spite of having lost many in the previous winter. In 1777, General George Washington and his troops stopped near Valley Forge to give thanks to God. In a time of terrible war, they found hope and persevered to ultimate victory.

In the midst of the Civil War, President Lincoln proclaimed a Thanksgiving Day and asked God to heal the wounds of the nation.

In his 1999 Thanksgiving Day message, President William Jefferson Clinton said, "As we gather around our Thanksgiving tables, it is a fitting time to reflect on how the events of our rich history have affected those we care about and those who came before. As we acknowledge the past, we do so knowing that the individual blessings for which we give thanks may have changed, but our gratitude to God and our commitment to our fellow Americans remain constant."

Today, as we continue the War on Terrorism, we give thanks for those who are protecting us with their service in foreign lands.

YOUR GUILT-FREE THANKSGIVING DINNER

While overeating for one day won't them anyway, and the flavor comes destroy your healthy diet, weight watchers may feel a tinge of guilt as they overindulge while giving thanks.

If you're the cook, these easy ways to reduce fat content will make your dinner healthier while not sacrificing flavor.

* Instead of basting the turkey with fat, rub a little olive oil on it when you place it in the oven. Later, baste with defatted chicken stock combined with apple juice.

* Take most of the fat out of the gravy. Pour the juice and drippings into a large plastic cup. With a gravy ladle, skim most of the fat off. You should be able to skim off 80 or 90 percent of it, and your gravy will still have a rich flavor.

* For recipes that call for cream, substitute nonfat evaporated milk. You won't notice the difference in your pumpkin pie.

* Put skim milk in mashed potatoes instead of whole milk and skip the butter. Your guests will put gravy on them anyway, and the flavor comes from the gravy.

* If your dressing calls for a lot of butter, moisten it with stock and some olive oil. If you add onions and celery, no one will notice the difference.

* Offer more colorful vegetable dishes with the main course and more fresh fruit on the dessert table.

WW-II MOVIES

CRSKRS@pacol.net

Without the availability of 24 hour per day television, multiple AM and FM radio stations, VCR's, and hundreds of available daily newspapers, we were pretty limited as to the sources of information on how the War was going, how the Home Front was doing, and what the latest medical technology was. We had our Weekly Warren Tribune, and daily newspapers from Huntington, Marion, and Fort Wayne. But our primary source of visual War information and entertainment for both young and old was our Warren Theater. We saw movies that are just now making their return through the medium of TV reruns. I think that speaks for the quality of many of the movies we saw then.

COUNCIL NOTES

The Warren Town Council held a short meeting on Monday evening, Nov. 10. The meeting was held in Town Hall Annex and opened with the Pledge to the American Flag. President Harold Jones conducted the meeting.

Minutes of the regular meeting of Nov. 3 were approved as submitted.

Three residents from Langton Estates were in attendance to complain about noise from Heartland Aluminum.

Mike Haggerty, owner of Heartland Aluminum, was in attendance to answer the complaints. He said most noise occurs between 7 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. when trucks unload. He said Purdue University has been contacted for an engineer study and advice concerning the problem.

It was announced Attorney DeLaney will conduct Personnel Policy Training on Monday, Nov. 17 at the office of Attorney Bendall in Huntington.

HOLIDAY MAILING?

Put up your feet and fire up the computer.

After you've shopped 'til you dropped and you're back home, ready to move on to the next step - mailing those presents - go online and visit the Post Office that never closes - www.usps.com.

You can select a mailing service that's right for any mailing need. You can calculate postage, get information and forms, buy stamps, track and confirm mailings, print mailing labels and postage online - and even purchase greeting cards.

Whatever your shipping needs, USPS delivers.

PACKAGING TIPS

Select a box that's strong enough to protect the contents.

Leave space for cushioning inside the carton.

Cushion package contents with shredded or rolled newspaper, bubble wrap or Styrofoam peanuts. Plain air-popped popcorn is also good for cushioning; it's inexpensive and environmentally friendly. Pack tightly to avoid shifting.

Always use tape designed for shipping, such as pressure-sensitive tape, nylon-reinforced craft paper tape or glass-reinforced pressure-sensitive tape.

Do not use wrapping paper, string, masking tape or cellophane tape.

Put the delivery and return addresses on only one side of the package. Place a return address label inside the package.

Stuff glass and fragile hollow items, like vases, with newspaper or packing material to avoid damage. When mailing framed photographs, take the glass out of the frame and wrap it separately.

Remove batteries from toys. Wrap and place them next to the toys in the mailing box.

WHAT SAVES KIDS

Can you guess what the leading cause of death is for children in the United States? It's not illness. It's car crashes. A sixty-pound child in a thirty-mile an hour collision is subjected to more than two tons of force. Two tons. It's devastating, and it's deadly.

Proper child safety seats save children's lives in auto crashes-it's a proven fact. But unfortunately, most parents don't use them correctly. Take the time to learn the proper way to use your Child safety seat. And be sure to use it every time your child rides in the car. When a crash happens, it's the only thing saving them from deadly force.

"No matter where you travel in the state of Indiana, law enforcement will be reminding you to Click It or Ticket and how to properly restrain all children in a vehicle," stated Sgt. John Kreiger.

Law enforcement officers from Huntington, Huntington County, and Markle will continue in their commitment with Click It or Ticket. This Click It or Ticket campaign is in conjunction with Operation ABC (America Buckles Up Children) Mobilization. ABC Mobilization is a nationwide enforcement effort to crack down on those driver's who fail to buckle up themselves and their child passengers. Increased traffic enforcement begins on November 16.

For more information on how to properly use child safety seats in your vehicle, call 1-800-KID-N-CAR. For more information regarding Click It or Ticket, please contact Huntington Police Department at 356-7110 or the Governor's Council at (317) 232-1295 or visit www.in.gov/cji.

EXCHANGING DIVORCED CHILDREN

For separated or divorced families, the holidays bring awkward exchanges of the children, says Webster Watnik, author of Child Custody Made Simple (Single Parent Press, $21.95, © 2003). That's because when divorced parents live in different homes, they cannot have the children at the same time.

Watnik explains that when both parents want the children at the same moment—such as Christmas morning—it creates a problem. "Constant exchanges are difficult," says Watnik, "and, of course, you can't solve the problem by dividing the children in two."

Though visitation problems can occur any time of the year, such as a child's birthday or a family anniversary, they regularly occur during the holidays. And holiday exchanges can be even more difficult when parents do not live close by or when they are unable to communicate.

"The fact is," says Watnik, "someone is not going to see their children wake up on Christmas morning and rush to the tree and open presents. It's unfortunate, but there are things you can do about it."

In Child Custody Made Simple, Watnik offers these suggestions to separated or divorced parents juggling children over the holidays:

Divide the Day

If parents communicate well and live close, the children can wake up in one home and then go to the other home later in the day. A common custody arrangement ordered by family courts requires that the children are exchanged at noon on Christmas day.

Celebrate on a Different Day

If exchanging the children at noon will not work the parent who does not get the children during the "official" holiday can still celebrate on another day. "December 25 is just a date on a calendar. You can celebrate whenever you have the children, and I assure you your children will not object to getting presents on a different day of the year."

Swap Years

In difficult cases, parents can swap years. With that arrangement, one parent has the children for the entire holiday one year, and the other parent gets the next year. This arrangement can be used when the parents live very far apart or when communication has completely broken down.

MORE PAGE 2

Our new theater in Warren was built in 1940 by Clare Stucky. It replaced the old Savoy Theater that was across the street next to Tam's Drug Store. And it was called "The New Warren Theater"—logical. The theater booked four movies each week, so we had real variety in the shows that were available to us.

The weekly shows started with a Saturday movie that was usually a Western, a Comedy, or a Tarzan movie. The films changed for Sunday/Monday, when family-type movies were usually shown. On Tuesday and Wednesday, the movies changed again to what ever was current. And the fourth movie for the week was on Thursday and Friday. During the War, servicemen in uniform were admitted at half price.

I can't list ALL the movies that were shown during the War Years. I'll try here to list the more popular movies that we had a chance to see in the Warren Theater each year. I may list your specific favorite—if not, perhaps you'll remember the one's below.

While the titles don't always reflect the content of the movie, the movies during the War Years went through some changes. Many of the 1942 movies were made in 1941, before Pearl Harbor. By 1943, War Movies were becoming predominant, with Bob Hope and Cowboy movies to cheer us up. By 1944, movies began to reflect not only war action, but also comedies with Red Skelton and the Ritz Brothers, plus religious-based movies starring Bing Crosby. By 1945, movies were more optimistic than before—we could see the end of the War in the near future.

-1942-

- Mrs. Miniver (with Greer Garson) —Academy Award Winner
- Pride of the Yankees (with Gary Cooper)
- Bambi (a Walt Disney Cartoon Show)
- Flying Tigers (with John Wayne)
- Once Upon a Honeymoon (with Carey Grant and Ginger Rogers)
- Yankee Doodle Dandy (with James Cagney)
- Great Guns (with Laurel and Hardy)
- Gone With The Wind (with Clark Gable)

- International Squadron (with Ronald Regan)

-1943-

- My Favorite Blonde (with Bob Hope)
- Frankenstein Meets The Wolf Man
- Road To Morocco (with Bob Hope and Bing Crosby)
- Destination Tokyo (with Cary Grant)
- Guadalcanal Dairy (with Anthony Quinn and Lloyd Nolan)
- Action In The North Atlantic (with Humphrey Bogart)
- The Song of Bernadette (with Jennifer Jones)
- Watch On The Rhine (with Paul Lukas)
- Bells of Capistrano (with Gene Autrey)
- For Whom The Bell Tolls (with Cary Grant and Ingrid Bergman)
- Casablanca (with Humphrey Bogart and Ingrid Bergman) Academy Award Winner

-1944-

- Never a Dull Moment (with The Ritz Brothers)
- Destination Tokyo (with Cary Grant)
- Lost Angel (with Margret O'Brian)
- A Guy Named Joe (with Spencer Tracy)

- See Here Private Hargrove (with Robert Walker)

- Going My Way (with Bing Crosby) Academy Award Winner

- Meet Me In St. Louis (with Judy Garland)
- I Dood It! (with Red Skelton)
- Girl Crazy (with Mickey Rooney)

-1945-

- The Lost Weekend (with Ray Milland) Academy Award Winner
- Spellbound (with Ingrid Bergman and Gregory Peck)
- A Tree Grows In Brooklyn (with Joan Blondell and Dorthy McGuire)
- The Bells of St. Mary's (with Bing Crosby and Ingrid Bergman)
- 30 Seconds Over Tokyo (with Spencer Tracey)
- Back To Bataan (with John Wayne)
- Mildred Pierce (with Joan Crawford)
- And Then There Were None
- Anchors Aweigh (with Gene Kelly)

These movies were the more well-known and popular movies of the War Years. But I'm sure that there are lesser-known movies that we all liked and remember. Scanning through the old Warren Tribune copies looking at the Theater advertisements sure brought back memories of some of those lesser-known favorites of mine! If you have some time in the Library, try reviewing these old movies—it will sure remind you of our culture and times during WW-II.
