WARREN ALUMNI BANQUET

The class of 1960 will be celebrating their 50 year anniversary at the alumni banquet May 8. A member of that class was Siberti Bijlsma (pictured above), an exchange student from Holland. After we graduated and she returned to Holland we lost contact with her until just a few months ago. She has made plans to return to Warren to celebrate our 50 year anniversary. She looks forward to seeing many of her friends at the alumni banquet.

The alumni of Warren High School will hold their annual banquet at the Knight-Bergman Center in Warren on May 8. The social hour begins at 5:30 with dinner and program at 6:30. All former students, teachers, and friends of the Warren School are welcome to attend. The classes of 1950 and 1960 will be recognized as honored classes. All graduates from 1940 and before will also be recognized. Make your reservations now by contacting Jim Howell at 260-375-3048 or email howellj@citznet.com for reservations.

HARVEY

Opens at the Pulse Opera House

"Well, I've wrestled with reality for 35 years, Doctor, and I'm happy to state I finally won out over it." - Elwood P. Dowd Everyone needs a friend they can count on. Someone who always has your back. Elwood P. Dowd has such a friend. The only problem is, he's a 6'3" invisible rabbit named Harvey.

Elwood is a mild-mannered, pleasant man who always has a kind word for everyone. His social-climbing sister and unmarried niece find him an embarrassment as he circulates among their society friends introducing Harvey. When they decide to have Elwood committed to a sanitarium, comic mayhem ensues.

Mary Chase's Pulitzer prize-winning play was the basis for a 1950's movie of the same name which starred Jimmy Stewart as Elwood. There have been many television and movie adaptations over the years, starring actors such as Harry Anderson and Art Carney as Elwood. In 2009 it was announced that Steven Spielberg was considering a remake of this comic masterpiece.

Harvey runs May 7, 8, 13, 14, 15, 20, 21, 22 at 8:00 p.m. Tickets are available at 7:00 p.m. in the lobby. Doors to the theatre open at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are $12 for general admission and $5 for children 12 and under. Those bringing a non-perishable item for the Food Pantry will receive $2 off their ticket. (One item per ticket. Good for adult tickets only. Not good with any other offer.) Online reservations can be made at www.pulseoperahouse.org or phone reservations can be made at (260) 375-7017. Recommended for the entire family.

Harvey is presented by special arrangement with Dramatists Play Service.

THANK YOU!

THE UPTOWN GARDENER
by Ruth Herring

If April showers bring May flowers, we should have plenty of them. Got the garden tilled but didn't get anything in the ground before the rains. I have plants begging to be in the ground even though I will probably have to cover them over at some point in time. I scaled down the garden this year to about half due to the encouragement of the Man of the House. So I will plan for some space saving plants. Actually I look forward to not quite so much of the extra work. The strawberries are blooming nicely and the rains are sure to help them along. Can hardly wait to pick some nice plump and juicy berries. Our peach trees escaped the frost and cold weather so far and they are looking good so I hope to have ample supply of fresh peaches later on.

I have enjoyed the tulips and other spring bulbs blooming and the redbud trees were beautiful in front of the house. Just a shame it always rains on them and shortens the beauty and time they are in bloom. Many of the flowers are budding well ahead of time due to the early warm weather we have had.

Soon the mushrooms will be coming thru the ground and tromping thru the woods is almost forbidden to me for hunting those wonderful morsels. So I will just dream of the days when I could hunt for them. My dad loved to look for mushrooms and had

AREA NEWS

STORYTIME

Pre-school story time will resume on Friday, April 30 at 10:30 at the Warren Public Library. No registration is necessary. All children are welcome.

KBC ANALYZED

The Knight-Bergman Center has just completed a facility analysis through design Collaborative, Inc of Fort Wayne. An electrical engineer, a mechanical engineer and an architect carefully went over the entire building with a fine tooth comb. They gave the committee of the Knight-Bergman Center Board, responsible for this study, a very thorough report on the assets and deficiencies of the center.

Some of the items in their summary include the history of the Center. They mention it being a state-of-the-art building when built in 1925. This building has served this community very well. First, as a K-12 school building for 41 years, and then as an elementary school for the next 16 years.

After 1982 it was converted to what is now the Knight-Bergman Center to be available for use by the community, with thanks to the generosity of Clifford Knight and later George and Garnet Bergman. With the exception of one and one-half years in the early nineties, when it was used by Southern Wells as an elementary school, it has served as a very important facility as a hub of the community.

The Design Collaborators state the building is well-built and structurally sound, but age is creating several issues that need to be addressed. Some of the challenges are with the electrical system. While the present system does not pose a life safety threat, it is badly in need of being updated. They determined that a great amount of the electrical system is probably original with the building.

New restrooms are needed – to save on water usage and to make the facilities handicap accessible. Other issues include roofing upgrades, code upgrades in others areas and much, much more.

Design Collaborative estimated the cost to replace the facility would be in the range of seven to nine million dollars. They estimated the cost of needed updating of the entire scope of their study to be in the 2.5 million range. The comprehensive scope of the recommended improvements will require significant community investment to achieve this goal.

Careful planning and future renovation will stabilize the building for many years. This should make the building suitable for a greater range of uses that support the citizens of Warren and the surrounding areas. The investment is well worth the effort.

There is a very costly price tag on all of this updating. The committee is hoping to be able to receive grants to help get started on these projects. If there is anyone with grant writing skills, or with pockets of money, the committee would greatly appreciate your input and assistance.

The Knight-Bergman Center is a tremendous asset to this area.

The Center Board is attempting to do all it can to update and preserve the facility for use by many generations to come.

BRIDGET'S BRIGADE

The Annual Walk MS is coming May 15th 2010 at Headwaters Park in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Walk MS is an annual event with registration starting at 8am and race commencing at 9am. The participants can walk two or four miles thru Headwaters Park, and the surrounding area, ending at the west pavilion for refreshments. Bridget's Brigade, from the Warren area, is once again participating and is asking for your support, or attendance, to help make this year's Walk MS a success.

The National MS Society's Walk MS events are fundraising activities to raise money and awareness for over 10,000 Hoosiers living with Multiple Sclerosis. MS is a chronic, often disabling, disease of the central nervous system that strikes most people between the ages of 20-50. The National MS Society helps people affected by MS by funding cutting-edge research, driving change through advocacy, facilitating professional education, and providing programs and services designed to help people with MS and their families move forward. Early and continuous treatment with an FDA-approved therapy can make a difference for people with multiple sclerosis. For more information about donating to the event or participating contact Emily Jones 260-403-3010, email ejones14@gmail.com or Bridget Schweikhardt 260-375-3569.

AUDITIONS

Time to warm up your vocal chords. It's almost time for the Pulse Opera House auditions for the summer musical Fiddler on the Roof.

Auditions are at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, May 17 in the theatre. Roles are available for 9 men, 7 women and a chorus of all ages.

Everyone auditioning should bring a prepared song, preferably a show tune. An accompanist will be provided as well as a cd player. Auditions will consist of singing and reading. Those auditioning should be familiar with the show.

Whether you have done a show last month, ten years ago, or never, you are invited to audition at the Pulse. Why not do the show as a family? It's the perfect way to create memories you'll be talking about for years to come!

Back in the late 1800s, people in Warren took politics serious. Democrats used to raise a hickory pole in front of their house to show their party colors on. Republicans used ash poles for the same purpose. Some of the rallies, any time from the civil war down to about 1896, one attraction would be the fighting brigade. A rally without at least a dozen fist fights was not considered much of a success.

In 1888, during a big rally for both parties, a huge sycamore hallow log was stood upright in the center of the street at the Exchange Bank corner. The interior was filled with pine boards and saturated with kerosene. The result was a huge blaze that could be seen for miles around. Another result was a shower of sparks that fell on nearby roofs. The shingles of the building across from the bank was soon ablaze. Fortunately, there were enough sober men to form a bucket brigade to put the fire out. The pine boards, in the log, weren't the only thing saturated that night.

Please get out and vote Tuesday, May 4. The Museum will be open Saturday, May 1 for the Jefferson Alumni and Saturday, May 8 for the Warren Alumni. Anybody can stop in.

CELEBRATE ARBOR DAY

A day for putting down roots approaches. Tree roots, that is. It's Arbor Day, celebrated this year on April 30 in Indiana.

In recognition of Arbor Day, people in all 50 states will plant trees on a specific day for the 139th consecutive year.

Because of climate differences, different states choose different dates.

For details on Indiana State Museum's Arbor Day program in Indianapolis, see <http://indianamuseum.org/educators/festivals/arbo.html>.

Then-president Theodore Roosevelt once said, "A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as hopeless." With the world population's ever-growing demand for wood and fiber, the need for trees nearly 103 years later has only increased.

Originally conceived by J. Sterling Morton in 1872, the Arbor Day concept is intended to make people aware of the many benefits received from trees. Morton eventually served as President Grover Cleveland's secretary of agriculture.

Different places choose to celebrate on different days. This annual event is also observed in many European countries.

Indiana's Arbor Day is now celebrated on the last Friday of April but that was not always so. The first Arbor Day in Indiana was observed on April 11, 1884. The date of Arbor Day changed for several years at the discretion of the governor, until the current system was established in 1991 to correspond with the official date of National Arbor Day.

For more information about Indiana's forests and the importance of trees, see www.IN.gov/dnr/forestry, write the Indiana Department of Natural Resources, Division of Forestry, 402 W. Washington, Rm. W296, Indianapolis, IN 46204; or call (317) 232-4105.

EXPANDED HOURS

Andy Miller, Commissioner of the Indiana Bureau of Motor Vehicles (BMV), announced that BMV license branches will extend hours of operation on Monday, May 3 and on Tuesday, May 4 to issue state ID cards and driver's licenses that may be used for identification at a polling place.

Full service license branches, normally closed on Mondays and Election Days, will be open on Monday, May 3, from 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Branches will be open on Tuesday, May 4, from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

To ensure voters have immediate access to services, license branches will only process ID cards and driver's licenses and will not perform any other BMV services. Written test and driver tests will not be available.

The Indiana BMV provides free, state-issued ID cards for voting purposes to any unlicensed Hoosier, as long as he or she can provide proper documentation and is old enough to vote. The following documents are required to obtain a new state ID card or driver's license (a complete list can be found at www.mybmvin.gov.)

- Proof of Identity document, such as a birth certificate or passport.
- Proof of Social Security document, such as a Social Security card, pay stub or W-2.
- Proof of lawful status, such as a birth certificate or passport.
- Proof of residency, two documents such as a voter registration card, utility bill or bank statement.

Miller added, "The BMV has worked with the state Election Board to provide information to local election officials about the new interim driver's license and ID card documents issued by the BMV. We have also established a special Voter ID phone line on Election Day for election officials needing more information."

All license branches will resume regular business hours on Wednesday, May 5.

FOOD DRIVE

On the second Saturday in May – May 8, 2010 – letter carriers in more than 10,000 cities and towns across America will deliver much more than mail when they walk and drive along their postal routes. They also will collect the goodness and compassion of their postal customers participating in the 18th Annual National Association of Letter Carriers (NALC) National Food Drive – the largest one-day food drive in the world.

The Warren postal employees and other letter carriers all across Indiana will collect non-perishable food donations left by mailboxes and deliver them to local community food banks, pantries and shelters. Nearly 1,500 local NALC branches in all 50 states and the District of Columbia are involved in the drive. Timing of the drive is especially important as food bank donations tend to diminish after the winter holidays.

The success of this food drive is in its simplicity. All citizens need to do is to place a box or can of non-perishable food next to their mailbox before their letter carrier delivers mail on Saturday, May 8. (Please do not include items that have expired or those in glass containers.) The carrier will do the rest. The food is taken back to a postal station, sorted and then delivered to an area food bank or pantry. There, it is made available for needy families.

Donations by postal customers will be delivered to community food banks and pantries that serve the area where the donations are collected.

MORE UPTOWN

his favorite hidden spots and always came back with a bountiful supply. I remember one time as I was going after the cows I came across a patch of mushrooms and lucky I had a dress on to make a pouch in the skirt. I still managed to get the cows and when my mom saw me coming up with them she thought I had found a poor orphaned critter in the woods and was bringing it home and was prepared to send me right back to the woods with it. She was surprised to find I had a nice addition to our evening meal.

It was another time I managed to score "brownie points" with my mom, and dad was sure I had found his favorite hunting spot. After supper he and I went to where I had found them and also found a few more and he was convinced I had not ventured to an area where we kids were not to go across the creek. I think it was just an excuse for us to take a walk in the woods like we often did. Those were some of the happy times when he would seek out the song birds and teaching me what they were and interesting things about them. As you probably have read before my dad was a lover of nature and taught me a lot about it.

The recipe for this week is short and perhaps sweet, but I think it might be one to have handy as the summer approaches.

Summer Fruit Salad Dressing
In a blender mix 1 cup cottage cheese, 2 bananas cut up, 3 tablespoon undiluted frozen orange juice, 2 tablespoon honey, blend well add 1 teaspoon toasted sesame seeds or poppy seed. Keep refrigerated. This is good on any fruit mixture. Would be tasty over a mix of oranges, apple, banana and fresh strawberries. This is a low calorie dressing.

To all Mothers have a great Mothers Day!

Along with repairing parts of the fence, yellow & black field tile were installed on the outfield fence. If you are interested in helping out at the park, please contact any of the board members or watch the Warren Weekly for future work days. Thank you, Warren Tower Park Board
