WINS CUB CADET

Bill Wright from Lafontaine IN won the Thorne Insurance Agency, Inc. 80th anniversary promotional give away. A 2008 Cub Cadet Big Country Recreational vehicle with a retail value of $13,000. Bill has been insured through the Huntington store since 1992 on both his auto and homeowners insurance. People were allowed to sign up at shows this summer where the agency was set up at. It was free to enter at the shows and stores throughout the 2008 year. We then took time to go back through all of our current customers and they received another entry into the box for every year we had them insured. I wanted to give away something nice since it was our 80th year in business. Thorne Insurance is a 4th generation owned Independent Insurance Agency with retail locations in both Huntington and Wabash and a satellite location in Fort Wayne. We represent all lines of insurance, and truly do provide our customers with the coverage they need and the service they deserve at the absolute lowest price. LIFE LINE SCREENING

Residents living in and around the Warren community can be screened to help prevent a stroke. The complete screening package now includes a new Heart Rhythm screening, and checking for irregular heartbeat, which is a major risk factor for stroke.

Life Line Screening, the nation's leading provider of preventive health screenings, will be at the Knight Bergman Center on February 19th. The site is located at 132 Nancy Street in Warren. Appointments will begin at 9:00 a.m.

A stroke, also known as a "brain attack," is ranked as the third leading cause of death in the United States and often occurs without warning. In fact, four out of five people who suffer a stroke have no apparent warning signs prior to the stroke. The good news is that with early detection, 80% of strokes can be prevented.

Screenings are painless, accurate and affordable. They help identify potential health problems such as blocked arteries and irregular heart rhythm, abdominal aortic aneurysms, and hardening of the arteries in the legs, which is a strong predictor of heart disease. A bone density screening to assess osteoporosis risk is also offered and is appropriate for both men and women.

Register for a Wellness Package with Heart Rhythm for $149. All five screenings take 60-90 minutes to complete.

For more information, or to schedule an appointment, please call 1.877.237.1287. Pre-registration is required.

SAFE SLUMBER

A new Parkview Huntington Hospital program, called "Safe Slumber," will promote safe sleep and educate parents about the importance of a safe sleep environment for infants.

Sleep sacks are now used at Parkview Huntington Hospital as well as at all other Parkview Health hospitals. Newborns will no longer be swaddled in blankets. Sleep sacks keep a baby warm and comfortable and eliminate the presence of loose fabric around a child's face. The best way for babies to sleep is on their backs in a crib free of fabrics and objects that can block their mouth and nose.

A sleep sack will be sent home with parents, who will be educated about safe sleep practices while at the respective Family Birthing Centers throughout the Parkview Health system.

"Safe Slumber" is made possible through donor gifts to the Family Birthing Center fund at each Parkview Foundation office throughout the Parkview Health system. For information on becoming a donor to the "Safe Slumber" program, call the Parkview Huntington Hospital Foundation at (260) 355-3316.

HEARTFELT THANKS

On December 23rd, our family suffered a horrific house fire. As the firemen hurried to put out the blaze, we witnessed the most extraordinary acts of kindness as neighbors rushed to our aid. To those who gave us the clothes off their backs, to keep us warm in the below freezing temperatures, thank you. We want to express our gratitude to every person who keeps us in their thoughts and prayers as we endure this tragedy. We also want to send the uttermost appreciation to the community churches and businesses who donated their compassion and support to our family. To the families from Southern Wells Schools, thank you for providing us with a Christmas. You must know that just saying thank you will never justify the gratitude and appreciation we have for everyone. To the community of Warren, you have made us so very proud to belong to the Warren Family. For anyone who gave out a helping hand or asked if we needed anything, thank you. Your love and kindness will always have a special place within us. We are devastated to have lost our belongings and home, but not our family, neighbors and friends, who can never be replaced. God Bless.

Thank you,
 Mark, Annette, Kyle, Hanna,
 Megan, Mike and Nick Thompson

THE UPTOWN GARDENER

by Ruth Herring

The weather we have had is strictly for day dreaming about gardening and staying warm. I feel I have a bad case of cabin fever coming on, the most I have been out is on the front porch to get the paper and Sunday I got out to the deck to fill the bird feeder.

The bitter cold and snow got me to thinking about us kids going to school and wading drifts almost waist high to a 10 year old who would have rather stayed home. Our announcement for school to be canceled was 5 rings on the crank phone party line. It also was used for emergency situations where help was needed. When the phone rang 5 rings you knew it was something very important. Sometimes they told dad at work school was canceled but he usually forgot by the time he got home.

Another time was a very memorable time when WW2 ended. If I remember, it was toward evening when our town got word, I know dad was milking and had to wait on him to get done, then we all hurried to town to join in the celebration. The town even got our dear old fire truck started, which sometimes took some effort. They were driving it up and down the street with siren blowing and people in their old

(The new cookie, a reduced fat cookie bursting with cinnamon and packaged as five handy single-serve snack packs in a box).

Again this year, ALL varieties of Girl Scout cookies are "zero trans fat per serving" (in compliance with FDA regulation).

The Girl Scout Cookie Program helps girls build important leadership skills. Through cookie activities, girls learn how to plan, build teams, speak up, make decisions, solve problems and manage resources. These skills add up, so that ultimately, girls learn to be leaders—in their own lives and in our communities. In fact, many successful business women have credited their business skills to the Girl Scout Cookie Program, making it the premier business and economic literacy program for girls in the United States.

Girls are the ultimate beneficiaries of all Girl Scout cookie activities—either directly or indirectly. Girls benefit directly by learning valuable life skills, earning money for their troop/group treasuries, and planning how to spend that money to achieve their troop/group goals.

"Girls also decide what to do with the money they earned for their troop projects. We don't know of any other youth-oriented activity where the girls themselves decide what to do with the money they earn," says Connie Frederick, Product Manager, Girls Scouts of Northern Indiana-Michiana.

Girls also benefit indirectly by participating in a wide range of Council-wide activities which are made possible in part by the proceeds from the annual Girl Scout Cookie Program. After the commercial baker is paid, every penny remains in Girls Scouts of Northern Indiana-Michiana to benefit the Girls Scouts in the local community, providing essential services to membership, such as financial assistance, program resources, training for adult volunteers, and support for special events.

SILVER ALERT

Recent proposed legislation of a state-wide Silver Alert, in conjunction with the already established MedicAlert® + Alzheimer's Association Safe Return® program, could help save Hoosier lives.

An estimated 110,000 Hoosiers have been diagnosed with the memory-stealing disease and 60 percent of them will have at least one incident of wandering away from home. A Silver Alert could be a life-saver if a public notice to watch for a missing and endangered adult with dementia were broadcast and published through visible media.

It is common for a person with Alzheimer's to wander and become lost; many do repeatedly. Wandering can be dangerous—even life threatening. The stress can weigh heavily on caregivers and family as well; like for Sandra DeCastro whose impaired father wandered in his vehicle throughout a majority of the state.

"The best any law enforcement officials could tell us was that basically he would have to be in an accident or seek help on his own to be found," said DeCastro during her state Senate committee testimony Jan. 13 in support of a bill enacting an Indiana Silver Alert.

Michael Sullivan, Alzheimer's Association Director of Public Policy and Advocacy states, "Much like the existing Amber Alert, the proposed Silver Alert legislation will have specific criteria for putting out a state-wide notice which would limit the number of alerts but ultimately save many lives."

Even though there is no true Silver Alert in place in Indiana yet, there is assistance for not only the elderly with dementia, but those in their 30s, 40s and 50s afflicted with younger-onset Alzheimer's disease. MedicAlert® + Alzheimer's Association Safe Return® is a 24-hour nationwide emergency response service for individuals with Alzheimer's or related dementia who wander or have medical emergency. The program provides 24-hour assistance, no matter when or where the person is reported missing.

If an individual with Alzheimer's or a related dementia wanders and becomes lost, caregivers can call the 24-hour emergency response line (1.800.625.3780) to report it. A community support network will be activated to help reunite the family member or caregiver with the person who wandered. Critical medical information will be provided to emergency responders when needed. Further enrollment information and scholarships available can be found by calling the Alzheimer's Association's Helpline at 1.800.272.3900.

The Alzheimer's Association is the world leader in Alzheimer research and support. Having awarded more than $150 million to nearly 1,300 projects, the Alzheimer's Association is the largest private funder of Alzheimer research. The Association's vision is a world without Alzheimer's disease.

LAND VALUES

Farmland values continue to hover near all-time highs. According to the August Purdue Ag Economics Report, Indiana farmland averages between 3,300 per acre and 5,000 per acre depending upon quality of land and location. In 2008, at an auction conducted by Halderman Real Estate Services, the price of La Porte County farmland reached record highs of $8,375 per acre for 240 acres. That evening, a total of 759 acres sold for an average of $7,140 per acre to five local farmers. Buyers were allowed to bid on individual tracts, then on the whole farm, and then any combination of tracts.

Local area sales results are reflecting these trends. "Despite a tough general economy and lower grain prices, land values remain very strong in Wells County," stated Rick Johnloz, Halderman Area Representative. "We had strong demand and active bidding for our Wells and Huntington County auctions this fall." Auctions conducted by Halderman Real Estate Services in November and December have produced the following results:

84 acres/Wells County/
Farmland / $5,718 per acre

57 acres/Wells County/
Farmland / $4,912 per acre

110 acres / Huntington County
/ Farmland / $5,182 per acre

"These sales are representative of many we've conducted throughout the state." Stated Howard Halderman, President of Halderman Farm Management and Real Estate Services, Inc. "Increases in land values from 2006 levels average 25-35% as a result of the dramatic changes in commodity prices experienced during the past two years."

The Halderman Companies have provided over 79 years of service to landowners throughout Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Illinois and eleven other states. In addition to the main office staff in Wabash, 23 area representatives and 15 real estate associates provide services throughout the 17 state service area. Halderman Farm Management Service currently manages 250,000 acres on 650 farms in the United States for their clients. These are absentee landowners ranging from individual farm owners to large corporate institutions. Dealing almost exclusively in rural, farm and transitional land, Halderman Real Estate Services, Inc. sells over 175 tracts of land for nearly $45 million and appraises 450 rural properties annually.

If you have a farm real estate need or question, Halderman Farm Management and Real Estate can provide comprehensive proposals at no charge. Contact the Main Office toll free at 800-424-2324 or Rick Johnloz at 260-824-3130 or via the internet at www.halderman.com

SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED

The National Kidney Foundation of Indiana, Inc. announces the availability of applications for the Larry Smock Scholarship. Scholarship funds are available to Indiana residents who have chronic kidney disease, are on dialysis or have received a kidney transplant and wish to pursue higher education in an academic or monitored occupational setting. All applicants must have a high school diploma or its equivalent.

The Fund was established in 1992 with monies donated by the Smock family and the Martinsville community in memory of kidney patient Larry Smock. The application deadline is February 28, 2009. Applications for the Larry Smock Scholarship Program are available by contacting the National Kidney Foundation of Indiana at (800) 382-9971.

cars and trucks were throwing toilet paper out the windows. I think this was the original beginning of TPing.

The last time I was out shopping I met Carlene Jackson and she suggested I put a recipe in for something exciting such as Snowball Soup. So here is my rendition.

Freeze ahead a few small snowballs (about the size of golf balls). In a sauce pan put 2 cups half and half cream 1/2 cup sugar 1 teaspoon vanilla, heat to near the boiling point but do not let boil. Pour into bowls or mugs and add one snowball to each serving. Try it Carlene you might like it.

To go with it you might like trying the cookies I made using up rice chex cereal left over from the holiday goodies.

Cream 1 1/4 cup shortening (I used half shortening and half butter) add 1 cup each of granulated and brown sugar 1 teaspoon vanilla 1 egg. Sift together 2 cups flour 1 teaspoon soda and 1/2 teaspoon baking powder 1/2 teaspoon salt, add to the creamed mixture. Add 2 cups crushed rice chex 1 cup coconut and 1/2 cup nuts. On lightly greased bake sheet take about 1 teaspoon dough and form a ball and flatten lightly, bake 8-9 minutes. Makes about 4 dozen cookies.

Have fun and stay warm.
