Warren Discount Inc. has a wide variety of bulk, close out, and overstock/overrun items for sale. Other items include gift items and bags, candy, snacks, baking items, holiday decorations, books, camping firewood, bird seed, plants and CD's. The store also carries animal feed for goats, cows, chickens and horses and also straw and hay.

The owner states that there will be more items to come in the very near future, it's not all here yet. So check back often to see what's new.

The discount groceries carried are name brand items at really low prices. They are close-outs and overruns from places like Wal-Mart and Meijer. These items are not outdated.

Delivery to the United Methodist Memorial Home and to shut-ins will also be a part of the services offered in the near future.

Eventually the store will also be a consignment shop for an Ebay store.

Milk and dairy products will also be carried as soon as the new refrigeration units are in.

Rod is willing to deal on everything and if you have a need for something special, let him know and he'll see if he can find it for you. He will also wholesale to the public.

So stop in and see what he's got, you'll be surprised.

THE WEEKLY SPECIAL

Strawberry pie recipes can vary quite a bit. Some recipes call for cooked berries. Others use raw ones. Mine uses both and here it is:

Wash and hull 4 cups of fresh strawberries. In a 9 inch pie shell, place 2 cups of the strawberries and add a mixture of ½ cup sugar and ¼ cup flour.

Take the other 2 cups of berries and put in a pot. Add the following:

¾ cup sugar, 3 TBS. cornstarch, ¼ cup water, 1 tsp. orange zest. Cook this mixture down until it is very thick. Pour the mixture in the pie shell on top of the raw strawberries. Put a cover on the pie shell and poke holes in it. Sprinkle sugar on top and cook for 40 minutes at 400 degrees. I put foil around the edges of the pie shell for half of the time so it doesn't burn. Enjoy!

Next week's recipe will feature gooseberries, which Kim and Joan Prible are selling at the farmer's market on Saturdays. I made my first gooseberry pie this week and I can now say that I feel like a true Hoosier!

Thanks to all who attended the farmer's market last week. And many, many thanks to the Eckman's who are kind enough to allow us to use their parking lot for it.

Until next week, Bon Appetit! From Helen@ Natalie Jeanne's Restaurant

LEMONADE STAND

Alex's Lemonade Stand will be represented at the Salamonie Summer Festival on Friday evening July 1, (4-10) and Saturday morning, July 2 (9-12). Local sponsors are Warren Weekly, DeWeese SoftWater and Hayes Lemmerz, with help from the MarkleBank Jr Girls Softball and DeWeese Softwater Little League teams.

Stop by and have a delicious glass of lemonade and a few cookies for a donation to help fight children's cancer "one cup at a time."

Alexandra "Alex" Scott was a spunky eight-year-old little girl with a mission—to raise money to help fight childhood cancer, one cup at a time by selling lemonade. Alex was diagnosed with neuroblastoma, a childhood cancer, in January of 1997. She bravely fought her cancer for over 7 years and started a successful nationwide fundraising campaign for childhood cancer. She passed away on August 1st, 2004 but her legacy continues.

Alex had set an ambitious goal for 2004—she would raise $1 million dollars for pediatric cancer research. On June 12th, 2004, Alex inspired hundreds of volunteers across the country to participate in the first national Alex's Lemonade Stand fundraiser. This event gave Alex national attention, bringing awareness to her cause and encouraging more people to host lemonade stands throughout the rest of the year. By the end of 2004, Alex and countless of volunteers raised $1.5 million, surpassing her goal.

Before Alex passed away, she had already set a goal for her second national fundraiser. Alex decided she wanted to raise $5 million dollars. "Alex knew she would reach her $1 million goal before she passed away. In true Alex style she immediately set another ambitious fundraising goal for 2005 – a gazillion dollars! When we pressed her about setting a real goal, she said 'Okay, $5 million,' said Liz Scott, Alex's mother. "I think the new goal is very appropriate—$5 million in 2005, which is the fifth year of her stand. It is ambitious, but with the help of volunteers across the country holding stands in their communities I think we can do it."

SUMMER'S A GREAT TIME TO DO IT

TO BURN MORE FAT, BUILD MORE MUSCLE

Forget fad diets, weight-loss pills, and supplements that are supposed to create muscle growth. The path to better health and a leaner body lies in eating a proper diet and exercising to build muscle.

The more muscle you build, the more you perk up your metabolism to burn more calories. For each pound of muscle, you burn an extra 12,000 calories a year. Nutritionist and author Miriam Nelson says muscle burns more calories when you walk, when you exercise, and even when you sleep.

Building muscle becomes even more important when you realize that people lose about a fourth of a pound of muscle per year and replace it with fat. That means that during a 12-year period of middle life, the average person will lose three pounds of good, solid muscle. How can they get it back?

Researchers at the University of Arizona at Tucson say strength training is one of the best ways to build muscle, but it also builds strong bones. Their studies back up findings from the Nurse's Health Study which shows that women who walked at least four hours per week lowered their risk of hip fracture by about 40 percent.

Strength training doesn't have to include huge dumbbells and weight machines at the gym. It can be done with hand weights, exercise bands, and even your own body weight when you do pushups or squats.

When you eat right and do regular strength training, you'll find you will soon have a stronger, leaner, and more attractive body.

GET SOME SUN BUT NOT VERY MUCH

A few minutes of direct sunlight each day can bring big benefits.

Sunlight prompts the body to produce vitamin D. Studies show that people who get the least exposure to the sun have a greater risk of prostate cancer, multiple sclerosis, depression, and high blood pressure according to a University of Alabama study.

Twenty minutes in the sun also helps the body produce folate. Folic acid may help to prevent buildup of fat in the arteries. It is an essential nutrient for women in child bearing years because it helps prevent birth defects.

Sun protection

People often think that a tan will protect them from the sun's UVA and UVB rays. Not true. A tan is the body's desperate attempt to protect itself from sun damage. Rather than being helpful, sun tanning can lead to wrinkles, skin cancer, and other skin problems.

When you will be outdoors for more than 20 minutes, use a sunscreen that protects against both UVA and UVB rays. At the beach, use on with a sun protection factor (SPF) of 30.

If you will be involved in sports or working out, use an oil-free spray-on sunscreen like Coppertone Sport Lotion sunblock. It keeps protecting you even when you sweat.

Alex's simple idea of a lemonade stand as a venue for raising funds for a cause—the simple concept of “fighting childhood cancer, one cup at a time” has allowed people who would not usually participate in fundraising, especially children, to organize and raise money for childhood cancer.

After enduring seven years of ongoing cancer treatments, Alex remained hopeful that a cure for all childhood cancers was just around the corner. “Although many believe that Alex lost her battle against cancer, she actually won her battle in many ways...by facing her cancer every day but still managing to smile; by making the most of every moment; by never giving up hope; by living life to the fullest; and by leaving an incredible legacy of hope and inspiration for all of us,” said Jay Scott.

STILL TIME

The Warren Library sends a special Thanks to Jane Trickle, Marie DeWeese, Jenny Miller, Joan Boyer and Emma Sabinske for being readers and game organizers for Mysterious Mondays and Play-It Wednesdays.

Story readers are available from 1:00-2:00 and 6:00-7:00 for children ages 3-13 (divided into two groups) on Monday at the Library. These books and pages can be counted toward the summer reading.

See you Monday.

HNHS DEKA

Thanks to Joan Huffman (and her children) the Warren Library now has a complete set of Huntington North High School yearbooks. Thanks for your generous donation.

Dr James Mott contributed a history of the dentists in Warren for the Library's vertical history file. Thank you for all the effort you gave in putting this history together and making it available to the people using the Library.

AFTER SCHOOL STORY

Children and one Mother celebrated Father's Day at the Van Buren Public Library on Friday June 17, 2005. The children could bring a father or a special guest to celebrate.

We made Father's day cards shaped like a dogs face with wiggle eyes. The children could put a message to their father inside the face. They colored pictures and took home a search-a-word for their dads to help them with. I am sure their fathers will be smiling from ear to ear when he receives his gifts.

We played games and had homemade cupcakes to decorate. Those attending were Karlee Laypoole, Emily Bryant, Olivia Bryant, Elizabeth Bryant and their mother Patsy Bryant. We want to thank this mother for taking the time to come and be with her daughters.

This Friday from 10:30am to Noon we will celebrate Summer in The Sun. Hope to see you.

RED HATTERS

Chose a nice day for a special trip. Stopped for lunch at our own Natalie Jeanne's (always enjoyable) then headed out to Elwood & the famed House of Glass. The tour and presentation by Joe Rice (the owner and artist himself) was appreciated by all. Noticed some couldn't resist the beautiful glass creations in the shop. Recently attended a Red Hatter lunch at the Hostess House in Marion. Enjoyed an excellent unusual program by Ruthanne and her collection of 43 kaleidoscopes.

We're busy searching through our purple wardrobes, deciding what to take to the highly advertised "Swap-soiree" this weekend. So 'til then...

TURTLE-CLEANING

Hoosiers interested in turtle trapping, preparation of turtle meat, and turtle-cooking tips are invited to a demonstration June 25 at 8 p.m. at Ouabache State Park's campground shelter.

Ken Groves, Indiana hunter education instructor, will demonstrate the proper way to clean a turtle, and also will cover turtle-trapping techniques and regulations. Hunter education instructor Robyn Groves will share turtle-cooking tips and her favorite turtle recipes.

The park naturalist urges participants to bring a lawn chair to the program, and emphasized that children are not encouraged to come, since a live turtle is used in the demonstration.

The program is offered free of charge, except for the regular gate fee of $4 per vehicle ($5 per out-of-state vehicle).

For more information about interpretive services at Ouabache State Park, call the interpretive naturalist at 260-824-0926.

FOOD SAFETY TIPS

During the summer months, many Hoosiers will be celebrating with family and friends by sharing meals. As a result, state health officials are offering some timely food safety tips.

"The single best way to prepare and consume food safely is to wash your hands before cooking, serving, or eating," said Scott Gilliam, of the Indiana State Department of Health's Food Protection Program. "Make sure to wash your hands thoroughly after touching raw meat, like ground beef or poultry."

"Food temperature is also important," Gilliam said. "If a food is intended to be served hot, make sure to cook it fully before serving it. On the other hand, if a food is intended to be served cold, keep it cold."

"Never let cold food sit out for an extended period of time. If you're serving cold pasta salad, store it in a refrigerator or a cooler and put it out on the picnic table right before the food is served," he said.

According to Gilliam, another effective technique to avoid food-borne illness is to buy a good meat thermometer and use it to make sure that meat is cooked to its appropriate temperature.

"Ground beef should be cooked to an internal temperature of 155 degrees for at least 15 seconds, pork should be cooked to an internal temperature of 145 degrees for at least 3 minutes, and poultry should be cooked to an internal temperature of 165 degrees for at least 15 seconds," Gilliam said.

If you don't have a meat thermometer, cook meats until the juices run clear. Ground beef should be brown or at least brownish pink in the center before it is served.

Health officials also recommend the following food safety tips:

- Food safety begins with hand-washing even in outdoor settings. And it can be as simple as using a water jug, some soap, and paper towels.

- Keep all utensils and platters clean when preparing food.

- When grocery shopping during hot weather, make perishables your last pick-up in the store. Never leave them in the car while you run other errands-it doesn't take long for bacteria to grow. Get perishables home and into the refrigerator immediately.

- Thaw meat or poultry safely by leaving it overnight in the refrigerator. Don't leave meat or poultry out on the counter for an extended period of time before you prepare it.

- Don't use the same platter and utensils that previously held raw meat or seafood to serve cooked meats and seafood.

- Marinate foods in the refrigerator, not on the counter or outdoors. If some of the marinade is to be used as a sauce on the cooked food, reserve a portion separately before adding the raw meat, poultry, or seafood. Don't reuse marinade.

- When it's time to cook the food, cook it thoroughly. Use a food thermometer to be sure. For additional information on proper food temperatures, visit the Indiana State Department of Health Web site at: www.in.gov/isdh/pdfs/fda_tips.pdf.

- Cook chicken and seafood until the flesh is solid.

- Don't leave leftovers on the picnic table or allow foods to cool on the kitchen counter. Put foods directly into the refrigerator within two hours of serving. If you divide large quantities of leftovers into smaller portions, they will chill more

The next course, "Calcium, More than Just Milk," will take place from 6 to 7 p.m. on Tuesday, June 28 at Bluffton Regional's Downtown Campus 4th floor conference rooms. Discussion during this time will center on calcium supplementation and factors that affect calcium absorption.

The course will be preceded by a free dexta-heel scan from 5 to 6 p.m.

You do not have to attend the screening to attend the class, and attendance at the class is not required for the screening. Refreshments will be served.

Registration for the class is required. For more information or to register call Lisa Geiger at (260) 919-3859.

TALENT SHOW

Entry forms are available for the annual 4-H Talent Show which will be held Sunday, July 17th, 5 PM at the annual Wells County 4-H Fair in Bluffton.

The contestants will be divided into three grade classifications: Class A, Grades 1 and 2; Class B, Grades 3 through 6; and Class C, Grades 7 through 12. Grade in school is based on January 1, year of the Fair. Within each class, participants may enter in Vocal, Instrumental, or other. All contestants must be present 4-H members.

Awards will be presented to winners in each category and the Mack Shultz Award will be presented to the top talent winner. The award is presented in memory of Mack Shultz who was a ten year 4-H member who loved music. His Air Force jet disappeared off the coast of Florida in the Bermuda Triangle. Mack was the son of Wells

County residents Galen and Shirley Shultz of Jackson Township.

Applications are available from 4-H leaders or the Wells County Office of the Purdue Cooperative Extension Service, 1240 S. 4-H Road, Bluffton, IN 46714, 824-6412. Forms are due July 6th.

CALEY AWARD

Two Wells County 4-H members will be selected for this year's Caley Memorial Award at the annual 4-H Fair, July 16 - 21.

4-H members 14 years of age or older can be considered for the award from applications submitted by adults and youth.

Judging is based on the following: 4-H, 45%; School, 20%; Community Service, 20%; Church or Youth Group, 15%.

The award will consist of a $300 savings bond to two 4-H members. Selection will be announced on Saturday, July 16th, 7:30 PM on the opening day of the 4-H Fair.

The Caley Memorial Award is presented in honor of the Caley family who were tragically killed in an automobile accident in 1965 on their way to the 4-H Fair. Bill, the father, and four children, Kirby, Kent, Kris, and Kevin were all killed. Their mother, Marge, survived.

Applications for the award are available at the Wells County Office of the Purdue Cooperative Extension Service, 1240 S. 4-H Road, Bluffton, IN 46714. Applications and recommendations are due June 30th.

4-H AMBASSADOR APPLICATIONS

Applications are now available for the 4-H Ambassador Contest. The contest has two age categories for 4-H members.

Junior Ambassador, grades 7 - 9 and Ambassador, grades 10 - 12 as of January 1, of the current year.

Selection is based on personal interview and overall 4-H record as submitted on the application. Interviews for the event will be held Wednesday, June 6th, 6:30 PM at the Wells County Community Center at the 4-H Park.

The 4-H Ambassador Contest results will be announced at the opening evening events, Saturday, July 16th, 7:30 PM.

Applications are due June 30th at the Wells County Office of the Purdue Cooperative Extension Service.

HEALTH PAPERS

4-H members are reminded that they need to have the appropriate health papers in order to show their 4-H animal at 4-H and Open Livestock Shows this summer.

Most animals exhibited at livestock shows are required by law to have a health certificate completed by a veterinarian. Most certificates are good for 90 days.

It is suggested that a parent's name also be on the certificate of inspection so that it can be linked with the young person on the form.

A change in the State Health requirement for Swine this year is that animals from Indiana do NOT need a pseudorabies test. (A blood test is not needed.) A certificate of veterinary inspection is still required however.

Members are encouraged to take care of the health requirements early since many of the veterinarians are busy during the summer months.

This year's Wells County 4-H Fair will be held July 16 - 21. The Indiana State Fair will be held August 10 - 21. For more information about animal health requirements, refer to page 27 of the Wells County 4-H Rule Book.

If you have additional questions about the health requirements, contact the Indiana Board of Animal Health, 877-747-3038 or your local veterinarian.

BABYSITTER TRAINING

To help improve the safety of young children left in the care of adolescents, the Huntington County Chapter of the American Red Cross is offering Babysitters Training on Saturday, July 9, 2005 from 9am to 3pm at the Courthouse Annex 354 N Jefferson St Room 204. The cost of the class is $30.00. This course instructs youth on how to care for infant through school age children by teaching them how to prevent injuries and what to do if an emergency arises.

The American Red Cross

Babysitters Training is designed for youth age 11-15. It provides adolescents with a range of injury prevention, first aid, and basic childcare skills. Participants work on projects such as identifying safety problems around the house and yard, and selecting appropriate toys and games for children of various ages. Babysitters Training also builds decision-making and leadership skills and addresses the business of babysitting and how to seek babysitting jobs in a professional manner.

The Red Cross is offering Babysitters Training not only to equip youth with the knowledge of how to keep children and themselves safe but also to give parents the peace of mind they need when leaving their children at home with a sitter.

NIGERIAN SCAM

Several businesses and consumers have received faxes and e-mails from "Engr. Tony Mbankolo," a "native of Cape Town and Director of Project Implementation in South Africa."

The scheme is always the same. They want to transfer their monies into your U.S. account because their country does not allow them to operate offshore accounts. Then they tell you they will share a percentage of those monies to you. You can contact them through their direct tel/fax numbers and, of course, these transactions would be "strictly confidential".

Mr. Mbankolo is on a roll. "He" must have spent several days sending out faxes and e-mail to prospective takers. Just a reminder that these Nigerian Scams are popping up all over northeastern Indiana again.

FESTIVAL REVUE

SSF COMING NEXT WEEK

The Salamonie Summer Festival is gearing up for its 38th annual weekend of fun! Here are just a few highlights from last year's festival, and from the looks of things people were having a lot of fun! Plans have been going on all year long to bring that fun back to Warren for it's Fourth of July celebration. The Chamber of Commerce's annual Rodeo will once again be a great hit along with a Demolition

Derby, an entire block of kids activities, the crowd pleasing parade and one of Huntington County's best fireworks displays. On stage this year will be Eclipse, Cold Fire & Loose Gravel along with the Variety Show. Be sure to sign up for the 5-K River Run or sit back, relax and be a part of the Fishing

Derby! New this year will be the Indiana Garden Tractor Pull; the Price is Right game show and Comedian Lance Weirick. That, believe it or not, is just a portion of events planned, so check out the flier and don't miss being a part of this great small town celebration. Hat's Off to Warren.
