THE SPECIAL CONSENSUS

This group will be playing August 14th at 2 pm in the Applegate Chapel of the United Methodist Memorial Home as another program in the Fine Art Series. "A bluegrass band hip enough to play to the snottiest audiences, loaded with high octane, punch and vigor and fueled with emotion and passion. " - - -Midwest Record Recap

The Special Consensus is a four member acoustic bluegrass band that began performing together in 1975. The first band album was released in 1979 when the band began touring on a national basis, and the second was released in 1983. In 1984, The Special Consensus initiated the Traditional American Music (TAM) Program in schools across the country and began appearing on cable television and National Public Radio shows. The band has since appeared on The Nashville Network's Fire on the Mountain show, toured for three seasons as 4/5 of the cast in the musical Cotton Patch Gospel (music and lyrics by Harry Chapin), and released nine additional recordings. Songs from the 1998 "Our Little Town" release appeared on the National Bluegrass Survey chart in Bluegrass Unlimited and on the Gospel Truths chart in Bluegrass Now. A video production of the TAM Program, sponsored by the Northern Indiana Bluegrass Association, was honored by being archived at the International Bluegrass Music Museum in Owensboro, Kentucky. In 2000, Pinecastle Records released the first band performance video, filmed for Iowa Public Television's "Old Time Country Music" show, and The Special Consensus "25th Anniversary" recording to mark this milestone year for the band. This twenty song recording, which includes eight selections from previous now out of print band recordings, received a Highlight Review in Bluegrass Unlimited. International tours have brought The Special Consensus to the British Isles, Canada, Europe, Ireland and South America. In 1993, the band performed the first of many concerts with symphony orchestra, complete with orchestral arrangements of songs from the band repertoire. The Special Consensus is included on the touring rosters of the Illinois Arts Council (Artstour program), the North Dakota Council on the Arts, and the Heartland Arts Fund and continues to participate in the Arts Midwest Performing Arts Touring Program.

The Special Consensus repertoire features original compositions by band members and professional songwriters (such as "Our Little Town", "Green Rolling Hills" and "Margarita Breakdown"). The repertoire also includes traditional bluegrass standards (songs by Bill Monroe, Flatt and Scruggs, Jim and Jesse McReynolds, etc.) and songs by artists from other musical genres (such as "I'm No Stranger To The Rain" as recorded by Keith Whitley and "Blue Skies" by Irving Berlin). As a result of this musical diversity, The Special Consensus has performed at the most traditional bluegrass festivals and has also been the band to bridge the gap between traditional and progressive bands at more diverse festivals and fairs.

My FAVORITE YEAR

What a magnificent performance. I hate to admit it, but I had a tear in my eye at the end. I won't give away the show but suffice it to say that the Pulse Opera House cast has done it again. Everyone on the stage, and those behind the scenes, did a wonderful job pulling this production together.

At the beginning of the show, Cynthia Smyth-Wartzok, the director, asked who had ever seen the show before. As no one had, she informed us that we were in for a real treat. She was right.

Ten or 15 years ago this production was made into a movie with one of the lead characters played by Peter O'Toole. It was reported that August 2 was Mr. O'Toole's birthday and the show that evening was for Peter. (He would have been proud of the way the actors and actresses performed.)

The show has several scenes and one intermission, and keeps you entertained throughout. The music is wonderful and the acting superb. The scenes with everyone on stage were wonderfully choreographed. (How do they get that many people on that small of a stage and not make it look crowded?)

The seven year old sitting next to me told me her favorite scene was when "that lady tied that guy to the pole. It was funny." (You'll have to go see it, to see what she was talking about.) The nine-year old on the other side liked "Rookie - he

There is a little bit of everything in this show, swashbuckler's, slow dancing, comedy, drama, lots of singing and more. It's a definite "Must See."

Congratulations to the cast and crew for another "Well Done" per-

This production can be seen for the next two weekends (August 7, 8, 9, 14, 15 & 16). Call 375-7017 for reservations Tuesday thru Saturday, 10 to 4. Tickets are also available at the door. The curtain rises at 8 p.m. each evening.

BACK TO SCHOOL BLOW- CRIMESTOPPERS

Did you miss the water ball fight, the kid's carnival and other such types of events due to the inclement weather over July 4th? National City Bank is sponsoring a Back to School Blow-Out for kids ages 2 to 102 to be held on Saturday, August 16th from 11:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m. (and maybe beyond) at the Knight-Bergman Center and on Nancy Street in front of the Center. Get your team ready, don your gear, and join in the fun. The fire department will also be hosting a dunk tank. In addition, the Warren Police Department and the Parkview-Huntington Hospital Paramedic unit will be sponsoring a Bicycle Rodeo complete with a training and testing course. On top of all of that, there will be a money machine. For the adults, step in the wind machine and grab some quick cash. To keep things moving, there's also going to be games from the kid's carnival. Planning isn't complete but mark the date on your calendar as more details will be on flyers and in the next issue of the Warren Weekly. One more important detail - free food. Hot dogs with a variety of supporting food will be found on the list of activities. Whether to join in the activities or to be a spectator, come on down for the fun. For parents and students and friends and family, let's celebrate the final week-end before school starts. And as always. during the first week of school, drive safely.

ATKINS HAS A POINT ON DIET, WEIGHT LOSS

According to the Journal of the American Medical Association, there is really nothing special about the high-protein, low-carbohydrate diet promoted by Dr. Robert Atkins. It works, they say, because people eat less in general and eat fewer snacks.

The Atkins people say that severely limiting carbohydrates results in metabolic changes. With the higher metabolic rate, dieters lose weight faster than they would on a traditional diet. Further, they say carbohydrates cause increases in insulin levels that lead to hunger and weight

Their program encourages dieters to eat all the meat, bacon, cheese, butter, and other high-fat foods that they want. Particularly in the early stages of the program, participants are advised not to eat fruits, vegetables, and breads including whole grain varieties.

The surprising news is that after following the diet for more than six months, Atkins dieters not only lose more weight than people on other diets, but they appear to be healthier as well. They have better blood pressure and cholesterol readings than those on a conventional diet.

All diets are about finding the most reliable way to restrict calories, say doctors at Harvard Medical School. The Atkins diet does this by reducing carbohydrate consumption. It's effective because so many nutritionally poor carbs are marketed today.

The doctors say a moderate amount of fat in the diet may aid weight loss because it makes food more satisfying and filling. People eat less at meals and eat fewer snacks.

The Harvard doctors say their version of the Atkins diet would exchange steak and bacon for fish and fresh vegetables sauteed in olive oil and whole-grain bread on the side.

Whichever plan dieters decide to follow, one thing is now clear. Protein is OK for dieters, and some fat probably is too.

WALK FOR CHILDREN

Ambassadors for Children volunteer and Ambassadair Travel Director Adam Corya will make a journey from Washington DC to Monument Circle in Indianapolis - but not in the air ... ON FOOT! Sleeping in a tent and the occasional budget hotel, Corya will take US Highway 50 across Virginia, the edge of Maryland, bear-infested West Virginia and Ohio. He will then walk on Highway 52 into downtown Indianapolis to arrive on September 19th.

Walk to Benefit Indianapolis Child and Children Around the World.

The AFC Walk for Children will raise funds for Ambassadors for Children, a non-profit charitable organization that offers global volunteerism opportunities to individuals and families through the Ambassadair Travel Club. Half of the funds raised will be used locally to help Kyra, a five-year-old Indianapolis girl who was severely injured in a car accident in January of this year and whose family faces mounting medical expenses. The remaining proceeds will go to fund upcoming AFC missions.

Inspired when stuck in Chicago on a rainy Sunday night with no flights to Indy available, Corya rented a car to drive home. A short time later, in the warm, dry, rental car, Corya pondered, "What if I had no shelter from the elements. It was then I decided to walk for the children.'

Kyra's Story.

Kyra was involved in a motor vehicle accident sustaining injuries to her spinal cord and head, as well as her abdomen, and was hospitalized locally before being transferred to St. Vincent's Pediatric Rehab Center for several months of intensive rehabilitation. Kyra's cognitive skills have significantly improved and she is able to take all of her meals orally, although the spinal cord injuries have left her a paraplegic. With the strength of her family and her own courage, Kyra continues to improve.

"I commend Adam Corya and Ambassadors for Children for their compassionate, servant-hearted approach to helping children around the world," said U.S. Congressman Mike Pence. "Adam's walk from Washington, DC to Indianapolis is an example to us all of how we need to continuously put the interests of others before our own."

Pictures and updates of the AFC Walk for Children will be posted on the Ambassadors for Children website at www.walkforchildren. org so those interested can check out the latest trials, tribulations and good news as Corya treks cross-country to raise money for children around the world.

Ambassadors for Children is a not-for-profit charitable organization that offers individuals and families global volunteerism opportunities. Since 1998, AFC has facilitated volunteer missions to aid children in Mexico City, Cuba, the Dominican Republic, Kenya, Haiti, Ecuador, Peru, Alaska, Brazil, Vietnam, Puerto Vallarta, Belize, Ixtapa, Montana, New Mexico and other areas in need. In addition to bringing donations of medicines, medical equipment, food, clothing, hygiene items, school supplies and toys, AFC volunteers have provided children with medical care, eye exams and glasses and dental care. AFC has also directly funded orphanage, youth center and home building projects as well as school expenses for children who would not otherwise receive an educa-Visit us www.ambassadorsforchildren.org.

OOPS! I MISSED MY APPOINTMENT

Will I have to pay for a missed dental appointment? It depends. Dental office policies vary. Most dentists ask that you give at least 24 hours notice when canceling an appointment. This gives the office more time to find a patient to possibly fill the time slot and also allows the staff time to prepare for proper procedures. Patients who don't give proper notice on a cancelled appointment may be charged all or part of the cost of an office visit. Or they may receive a phone call or be sent a letter. In extreme circumstances habitual failures may result in the patient being asked to seek dental treatment elsewhere. Also, delaying dental treatment of an already compromised tooth may cause further trauma resulting in discomfort or the need for root canal and or crowns or even tooth loss. Your dental health is very important to your overall well being so therefore it is important that you keep the appointments that are specifically made for you.

Work, illness, and other personal related emergencies do arise, but good planning will resolve many conflicts. When in doubt, ask your dentist. Also, remember to give your dentist the courtesy of a call at least 24 hours in advance if you can't make your appointment.

"Everything was great!", Ashley Reiff said enthusiastically about the birth of her second son, Alec. From her obstetrician to pre-registration to after-birth care, Ashley felt confident that everyone knew what she and her baby wanted and needed.

"The doctor and nurses answered all of my questions thoroughly and explained everything as it happened. In the delivery room, I could feel that everyone knew what they were doing. I had no fears. It was great!"

> "Lynne Apple helped with breastfeeding. She is invaluable. I wouldn't be nursing Alec now if not for Lynne."

"Bluffton Regional is more like home than a larger hospital. The atmosphere was cozier, I got to know the staff and I felt much more comfortable. Plus, I was closer to family. It made my delivery a lot easier, because I wasn't just another patient."

'This was a great experience. I can't say enough about Dr. Wanner, the nurses and Lynne. Even the housekeeping staff was courteous and friendly."

"I would definitely come back -- I wouldn't go anywhere else."
